'WE GIVE THEE THANKS, O GOD'

Gathering of 5,200 at Memorial Arena Sunday night gave thanks to God on Centennial Day of Prayer for the riches and beauty bestowed on this province.

'DID OURSELVES PROUD'

Mayor Praises Turnout

Mayor Percy Scourrah said today he was proud of the city's massive turnout to the weekend centennial events.

"I think we did ourselves proud. The organizers of the Saturday and Sunday programs are to be congratulated because everything went according to schedule," he said. Commenting on the crowds of spectators who flocked to the series of events, he said he "got to the beacon fire ceremony on Clover Point Sunday only because I had a police escort."

Satellite Launching

LEONARD WINS $20,000 IN LAS VEGAS TOURNEY

British Columbia's Stan Leonard, who gambled a steady professional's job for a whirl along the risky tournament trail, cashed in for his richest golf victory Sunday when he won the Tournament of Champions and the $10,000 first prize at Las Vegas, and a further $10,000 from the Calcutta sweepstake on the game. ## Beacon of Hope Fire Climaxes Centennial Fete

By DINAH KERR

A centennial bonfire flared against the night sky in Victoria Sunday, a beacon of bright hope for B.C.'s future that one minute later was echoed in 300 communities across the province.

Thousands of Victorians crowded the waterfront at Clover Point for the ceremony. It was a flourishing climax to the opening weekend of B.C.'s $3,000,000 100th birthday party that began with the boisterous arrival of Ss. Commodore Saturday (see Page 19) and continued with services of thanksgiving at city churches Sunday.

A navy Avenger circling offshore dropped a 1,000,000-candlepower flare that signalled the moment for lighting the fire.

The crowd pushed forward and filled the air with cheers as Attorney-General Robert Bonner set a torch to the huge pyramid.

The bonfire had been built by Fairfield Rover Scouts on Saturday. Four Scouts stood watch through the night to guard their handiwork against match-bearing practical jokers.

As the bonfire hurled flames 30 feet into the night, an answering flare was seen from Port Angeles, Uncle Sam's salute to B.C. on her 100th birthday.

At the same moment a smaller bonfire was lit atop Mill Mountain, Langford, by Langford volunteer firemen and the B.C. Forest Service.

The Clover Point ceremony closed to the slow beat of the centennial anthem played by the 5th Independent Medium Battery Army Band.

2,500 at Flag-Raising Ceremony

Sunday afternoon some 2,500 persons attended a proud, moving ceremony at the Legislative Buildings where five centennial flags were raised to represent Greater Victoria's four municipalities and the province.

A tow-headed boy had the best view of the solemn proceedings. He lay stomach-down on the legislative steps and peered with great interest at the imposing array of church and civic dignitaries until hustled away by a commissioner.

Spectators shrugged off their coats and stood or sprawled in the hot sun while HMCS Naden band wafted light classics through the still air.

But the band was no competition for four Sabre jets that streaked, shrieking, in close formation overhead twice to start the program.

Acting Premier Eric Martin read the proclamation of the Centennial Day of Prayer.

Thanks to "God for His goodness" was expressed by Dr. F. E. H. James, chairman of the B.C. Centennial religious subcommittee.

He urged the "people of many races and many lands" now living in B.C. to "husband" the riches of forests, lakes, sea and mountains for those who come after them.

"We must guard against the ravages of greed or neglect," he said.

Very Rev. J. L. W. McLean, MA, DD, senior chaplain of the 25 Militia group, read a stirring litany giving thanks for "the men and women who pioneered in this land, for their courage in leaving home and kindred, to make a new beginning with hand and heart . . . for valiant men at arms, who journeyed here by sea and

U.S. Subsidy For Metals Aids Canada

WASHINGTON (CP)—The Eisenhower administration today announced a five-year program of subsidies for domestic copper, lead and zinc mines in a move apparently designed to aid the industry without higher tariffs on imports.

Tungsten and acid-grade fluorospar also are included in the multi-million-dollar program, which must be approved by Congress.

The step is of prime importance to Canadian producers of lead and zinc who have faced the prospects of higher tariffs on their exports to the United States as a result of a tariff commission recommendation to President Eisenhower last week.

Interior Secretary Fred Seaton, announcing the subsidy program before a Senate subcommittee, said it would stabilize domestic mining industries "with a minimum of interference, with them or to our friends and neighbors in other nations."

Stop All Tests, Renounce Use Urges Humanist

OSLO, Norway (UP)—Dr. Albert Schweitzer, in a series of three lectures made public today, appealed for an immediate, unconditional suspension of nuclear test explosions before the world's atmosphere is poisoned fatally by radioactive pollution.

The Nobel Peace Prize-winner, humanist and philosopher, also urged the United States "in this hour of fate," to abandon atomic and hydrogen weapons as the only way to prevent a nuclear war.

In a third lecture, written at his jungle hospital at Lambaréne in French Equatorial Africa and broadcast over the Norwegian state radio, Schweitzer called for a top-level conference of the world's three atomic powers—the U.S., Britain and Russia—to agree on abandonment of nuclear tests and weapons.

Schweitzer said it is the "particular duty" of women, as mothers, to demand a final halt to tests.

"Mankind is imperilled by the tests," he warned. "Mankind insists that they stop, and has every right to do so."

The 83-year-old philosopher warned that radiation from test explosions is a menace to the future of the human race.

"Generation after generation, for centuries to come," he said, "will witness the birth of an ever-increasing number of children with mental and physical defects."

World May Be Destroyed

Abandonment of atomic and hydrogen weapons is the only way to prevent a nuclear war, Schweitzer said.

"The theory that world peace can be maintained through nuclear deterrents can no longer be accepted at a time when the risk of war is so great," he said. "It would be of great importance if the United States . . . would think of the necessity of giving up nuclear weapons—the only way to prevent a nuclear war."

The second lecture was an impassioned warning of the danger of the world being destroyed in a nuclear conflict. "In every respect the risk of a future nuclear war is so

U.K. EXPLODES NUCLEAR BOMB

LONDON (Reuters)—Britain today exploded a nuclear device at a high altitude over the central Pacific, the ministry of supply announced here.

"We must not assume the responsibility for the future birth of thousands of children with the most serious mental and physical defects, simply because we did not pay enough attention to that danger."

Schweitzer made this plea: "There is no time to lose. New tests increasing the danger must not be allowed to take place. It is important to realize that even without new tests the dangers will increase during the coming years. A large part of the radioactive elements flung up in the atmosphere and stratosphere in the nuclear experiments is still there. It will have come down only after several years—probably about 15."

great," he warned, "that the renunciation of nuclear arms is an urgent necessity."

"The American attitude to the question of banning nuclear weapons is strange. From conviction the Americans cannot but go in for abandoning them, but at the same time they want the military position of the NATO countries to be as strong as possible, in case the greatest powers do not reach an agreement on control of nuclear weapons."

"That is why America tries to make her allies accept nuclear weapons as soon as possible. She also wants to be able to maintain peace by deterring

Ike Offers Soviet Arctic Open Skies

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower called on Soviet Premier Khrushchev today to join the Western allies in an Arctic region aerial inspection program against massive surprise attack.

In a brief new note to the Russian leader, he also appealed for Soviet reconsideration of the Eisenhower April 8 proposal for study of nuclear test ban controls by technical experts. Russia last week rejected that proposal.

In calling on the Soviet Union to join the Western allies in an Arctic area aerial inspection program, Eisenhower said that the U.S. already has announced its intention of presenting a resolution on the matter in the United Nations Security Council Tuesday.

"I am sure," Eisenhower wrote Khrushchev, "that with the growing capabilities in the Soviet Union and the United States of massive surprise attack, it is necessary to establish measures to allay fears."

The note added up to still another U.S. move to smash recent Soviet charges that the U.S. is endangering peace by sending nuclear-armed bomber planes across the Arctic area toward Russia's frontier.

In urging Russia to join in support of the American resolution in the U.N., Eisenhower said in his message to Khrushchev:

"It would help reduce tensions, it would contribute to an increase of confidence among states, and help reduce the mutual fears of surprise attack."

Meanwhile, Western allies were pondering weekend developments in negotiations for a summit conference.

SUMMIT MANOEUVRES

Andrei Gromyko, Russian foreign minister, proposed Saturday that Poland and Czechoslovakia be included in talks on summit preparations, and Moscow radio reported Sunday night that Khrushchev backed up Gromyko's demands.

Roaming Youth Gangs Stage Malta Riots

VALLETTA, Malta (Reuters)—A British military vehicle was set on fire and buses were stoned today as an island-wide strike against Britain's policy toward the colony erupted into violence.

Groups of youths roamed the island, stoning buses and spreading oil patches on the road. Overhead lines carrying radio broadcasts to homes throughout Malta were cut.

The strike brought the island to a virtual standstill. A few buses ran early in the day but were pulled out of service after being stoned by strikers.

A complex system of pickets moved into position this morning as steel-helmeted troops patrolled the city streets and a riot squad guarded the palace of Governor Sir Robert Laycock.

Strikers were attempting to block traffic by throwing barricades of paving stones and rocks across the main road from Hamrun to Valletta. Improvised barriers were built on other roads.

Freedomites Deny Reversal Of Plans to Leave Canada

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—Leaders of the Sons of Freedom Doukhobors asserted Sunday there is no reversal in plans for the dissident sect to migrate to Russia.

A statement from the 52-member fraternal council of the "Reformed" Doukhobors, known as Sons of Freedom, claimed quite the opposite, and termed contrary reports which have been published and circulated recently as "Brazen propaganda released by British Columbia government sources."

A four-man group from the Sons of Freedom recently visited Siberia to look for a site where the 2,500 members of the sect could set up a settlement. Since their return, reports have indicated that only a few of the Freedomites actually favor the move.

Sunday's statement said the reports prompted the fraternal council and members of the delegation to Russia to hold a special meeting. It resulted in this statement:

"No change in the plans of our members to leave Canada has taken place. All press and radio reports to the contrary we brand as brazen propaganda released by B.C. government sources, designed to forestall the possibilities of a mass Doukhobor exodus which in truth is rapidly taking shape."

The statement was released here by W. M. Moojelsky and J. E. Podovnikov, Freedomite leaders who took part in the inspection tour to Siberia and who have just returned from a tour of Doukhobor settlements in Saskatchewan.

They said Saskatchewan Doukhobors will present a brief on the proposed migration and a list of those desiring to join it. Mr. Moojelsky said some Doukhobors in the Prairie province "have already decided they wish to go."

THIS WORLD OF OURS

People and Things

LONDON—Thirteen lovelorn girl bagpipers just back from a three-week United States tour played a lament today because their contracts wouldn't let them marry Americans.

Joyce Nichols, 19-year-old spokesman for the girls who toured the U.S. as the Dagenham Girl Pipers Band, angrily told director David Land he can look for new pipers for future tours "unless you take the no-marriage clause out of our contracts."

Sponsors of the all-girl pipe band insisted that the girls sign up for temporary spinsterhood before setting out for the United States. They explained that on a previous occasion, so many of the kilted performers accepted proposals it wrecked the band.

"I had several proposals on the trip, and most of the other girls had at least three each," Miss Nichols told reporters. "They were such nice boys, too."

PARIS — Pedestrians jumped into parked cars or ran to safety down side-lines as Gladys, a young circus lioness, walked down a main street Sunday night.

Gladys had been performing in a circus. As she made a jump the tub on which she landed tipped over.

She jumped from the tub to the shoulders of her trainer and with one bound cleared the 11-foot railing of the cage and landed in the crowd.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—Startled police halted a stray locomotive towing a small string of miniature railroad cars along a downtown street early Sunday.

They identified the tuxedo-clad engineer as John O. Spice, 27, a Midland, Tex., geologist. Spice told officers he and a female companion, in evening dress, spotted the rolling stock on a parking lot after leaving a party.

Britain Dangles Free Trade Bait

MONTREAL (CP)—Sir David Eccles said today Britain is "still interested" in a free trade pact between Canada and the United Kingdom.

Sir David, president of the British board of trade, a government department, told a press conference here that such a bilateral trade agreement "might" be discussed at the full Commonwealth economic conference next September in Montreal.

The cabinet minister, in Canada to see the touring British trade mission "off to a good start," also announced that he is to meet Trade Minister Gordon Churchill and Finance Minister Donald Fleming later today.

On the free trade plan, first proposed by Britain at last year's Mont Tremblant economic conference of Commonwealth finance ministers, Sir David said:

"There are some attractions for Canada which may not have been apparent when the proposal was first put forward." Canada more or less dis-

RUSH TROOPS TO FORT BESIEGED BY ADEN REBELS

ADEN (Reuters)—British troops today sped to relieve an Aden fort, where rebel tribesmen besieged a platoon of government guards and a British official.

The rescue column was expected to reach Assarir Fort later today. Officials of Britain's Red Sea protectorate said the Briton, Robert Somerset, reported himself well and unhurt in a message Monday night.

Somerset and the guards, trapped inside the fort when the tribesmen attacked with rifles and a Bren-type machine-gun supplied by Yemen, have been dropped fresh supplies by air.

PM Expected at Tory Convention

(See also page 7)

Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and members of his cabinet are expected to attend the B.C. Progressive Conservative leadership and policy convention in late September.

Provincial president of the party in B.C., Gowan T. Guest, said Saturday arrangements for the co-operation and presence of the federal party leaders was one reason for delaying the convention until the fall.

Four present Conservative MPs and two former cabinet ministers attended the meeting of provincial district executive members Saturday at the Empress Hotel Saturday.

They included Harold Hicks, MP, Fraser Valley; William Paine, MP, Coast Capilano; John Drysdale, MP, Burnaby-

Richmond, and Ernest Broome, MP, Vancouver South.

Announcing New York Life's new Assured Accumulator...

NEW PLAN COMBINES THE SECURITY OF LIFE INSURANCE WITH THE ADVANTAGES OF A SUCCESSFUL INVESTMENT

This new life insurance policy lets you start a cash-accumulating plan for your future. The Assured Accumulator builds a continuously growing fund for your retirement, for educational needs or for a backlog in an emergency. Equally important, from the day you take it out, your policy covers you with at least $10,000 of life insurance for your family's protection in case you should die.

Four new options give you flexibility to broaden your program to fit in with changes in your needs.

Premium rates are favorably low. The Assured Accumulator's minimum face amount of $10,000 permits administrative economies that are passed on to you.

The Assured Accumulator can be used as a Registered Retirement Savings Plan, to gain the tax relief provided by Sec. 79B of the Income Tax Act.

Part of the Larger Problem

THE CANADIAN LABOR CONGRESS, meeting in Winnipeg a few days ago, pledged its support to the railway firemen's union but seemed to show little enthusiasm for a strike on the diesel issue. The firemen must decide that matter for themselves since any strike is properly the business of an individual union.

A strike against the Canadian Pacific Railway solely because it is attempting to economize in its operations, and hence in the cost of public transportation, would meet with little support among the public and probably not much more among the labor unions as a whole. For in this case we do not have to trust the views of the employer. We have the report of a Royal Commission, composed of three eminent and disinterested judges.

These investigators, studying the use of diesel engines in America and Europe, concluded unanimously that the C.P.R. was well justified in removing firemen from the cabs of certain freight and yard engines. Substantial economies would result and safety, says the commission, would not be in the least endangered.

Actually all but about a 100 firemen will be employed in other capacities. In short, the railway is trying to take advantage of modern machinery to hold down its costs at a time when they are otherwise rising rapidly and resulting in freight rate increases.

The need for economy—provided it does not affect safety—is so obvious that the public at large will support it, since the public pays all the railway's bills. And without a large measure of public support no great strike has ever succeeded.

In this case the pressure for a strike comes mainly from the American officers of the firemen's international union who fear that the precedent started by the C.P.R. will spread to the United States.

These officers have every right to say what they please about the C.P.R. and about the Kellogg Royal Commission and they have been saying it. Mr. Gilbert, the American president of the firemen's union, brushes off the report of the three Canadian judges as worthless. He accuses them of "glaring ineptitude."

But this statement does not meet the facts gathered by the commission and such an intemperate comment from a foreigner upon three of our most respected judges is not likely to appeal to the Canadian people or encourage public support for the firemen.

That, however, is the union's affair. The public will hope that the union uses good judgment on the strike question and realizes that no economy can hope to grow richer if it refuses to take advantage of modern machinery.

The firemen's dispute with the C.P.R. is only one small phase of a much larger dispute. The other unions, comprising most of the railway workers, are demanding a general wage increase, now under negotiation.

Some of the railway workers, though by no means all, are receiving wages lower than those of various other comparable industries but the railway unions insist on increases across the board. It was the refusal of a conciliation board to accept this principle (though it was willing to raise the lower wages) that produced the railway strike of 1950. If there is to be another across-the-board increase now, or a strike, the railways' customers must pay the bill. The customers, of course, are the Canadian people all of whom use the railways, directly or indirectly.

Probably no single factor could exert as great an upward pressure on prices as a further increase in railway costs and rates. Thus the whole inflationary process now gripping the nation in the midst of a business recession comes to focus in the two railway disputes.

The Federal Government is directly involved, willy-nilly, because already it is considering an appeal against recent railway rate increases. More increases will surely follow if the cost of railway operation continues to rise.

Feeling the Pinch

PROVINCIAL LABOR MINISTER Lyle Wicks was merely stating the obvious to the Haney council when he explained the position of the Provincial Government's purse in relation to the economic conditions of the times.

"We in B.C. are at an uncertain period," the minister said. "If our economy does not continue in a buoyant position, the revenue in the province will fall, regardless of the revenue accrued from the federal government."

The Provincial Government has been given ample warning on that point—and advice to study very carefully the soundness of a financial structure it has been pyramiding on sales taxes.

An illuminating table printed in the 1956 Sloan report tells the story. It shows that in the year 1939-40, British Columbia depended on sales taxes (gasoline, amusement, liquor and social service taxes) for 25.27 per cent of its revenue.

While that dependence had increased to 35.50 per cent in 1945-46, it was only with the advent of Social Credit, when the sales tax was raised from 3 to 5 per cent, that British Columbia relied on this source for most of its revenue. By 1955-56 collections of these taxes amounted to 50.17 per cent of the total.

A little more than half of all provincial sales taxes were paid by individual consumers in 1955, a little less than half by industry expanding at an unprecedented rate.

In hard times, consumers spend less, industry curtails development work. The volume of sales drops—and it can drop quickly—with the result that the vital, and highly vulnerable, source of provincial revenue shrinks painfully.

This was the argument presented to the Social Credit Government when, gaily surf-riding the crest of prosperity's wave, it won the reputation of being Canada's spendthrift province and counted so heavily on income from a source subject to quick and wide fluctuations.

Mr. Wicks appears to have reached a realization of the argument's merit a little late. He speaks somewhat out of character for his Government when he also advises the municipalities to ask themselves constantly "Can we afford this?" as they contemplate various projects.

It is good advice, excellent advice. It was just as good when Mr. Wicks' senior, Mr. Bennett, embarked on his huge scale of spending.

A Valuable Servant Leaving

DR. ARTHUR M. GEE HAS ANNOUNCED his decision to retire as director of provincial mental health services at the end of August.

The announcement forecasts a serious loss to British Columbia. The work of Dr. Gee, a teammate of and successor to Dr. A. L. Crease, stands as a monument of achievement in this province.

The two men had established methods of screening patients suffering from mental disorders, of rehabilitating a large proportion of them and of assisting them back to life in the community after their discharge. This has been a positive gain for British Columbia and a fine expression of humanity.

Dr. Gee says he plans to leave the service with no feeling of animosity arising from controversy over Government handling of staff at mental hospitals. This is gratifying news.

At the same time the public of British Columbia will be far from satisfied until it has more assurance than it has at present that the excellent institutions and treatment programs built up by Dr. Gee and his predecessor will be protected from the results of false Government economy.

Principle of Give and Take

THE BRITISH COUNTERPART of the Canadian trade mission which toured the United Kingdom a few months ago has now arrived in Canada. The variety of goods for which customers will be sought illustrates the breadth of the trade mission's interests.

It includes, says Sir William Rootes, chairman of the Dollar Exports Council, everything from nuclear power and automobiles to sack dresses and Irish whisky.

With such a field to choose from it should be possible for Canadian importers to find a few more items which they would like to buy. But neither the visitors nor their hosts will meet with much success if British promotions in any given lines are met by the early application of protective tariffs to keep the products out. Each purchase of an import in reality helps to sell a Canadian product abroad.

O Time in Thy Flight

THE world these days seems to be worrying more about time. I don't know whether individuals in previous eras paid as much attention to the passage of the minutes, days and years as we do, but it seems certain that society as a whole was much less concerned about it.

Tobin

For one thing, they seemed to have more of it in those days. Nowadays, time is one of our most urgent commodity scarcities. Everybody could do with a little more time, every city could, every nation could. "It's later than you think" has passed from being a dire warning into the phase of being a sort of wise-crack, and from that to become a built-in part of our daily lives. It's later than you think, even if you don't think.

Time seems to run faster the older a person grows, and perhaps that is true also of countries, or of the whole world. A forty-eight-hour day, and a fourteen-day week would hardly be adequate for all I want to do at present, allowing for all the time I want to spend doing absolutely nothing.

To a child, the school term or the summer holidays seem to last forever. Along in the middle of the holidays he can hardly remember when he wasn't on holiday. Even a sunny afternoon appears to last almost indefinitely. There's a lifetime between lunch and supper. Only the period between supper and bed has any sense of early curtailment.

In a Whirl

By middle age the whole tempo has changed. The weeks are just a rapid blur between weekends; the seasons skip by before you've really recognized their arrival. And the years—it becomes increasingly difficult to remember whether you took that trip two years ago or five, whether you moved house five years ago or ten.

Oddly enough, no matter how rushed for time you get, you find yourself believing that soon, just a little later, things will slow down and you'll have more time.

It always seems that if you can just get over the current little period of rush, there'll be a let-down, a backwater in the flow of the hours and days, which will enable you to catch your breath, do all the little jobs you have stored up, and get away to a fresh start.

No such time ever arrives. Indeed, things seem to get even more rushed than before. The only relief you can get from the mental burden of things-I-have-to-do-but-haven't-had-time-to-yet is to forget 'em all and start over again.

On this basis, I suspect that the years ahead are going to seem even shorter than they are now. The interval between Christmases, or from one summer vacation to another, will seem like weeks instead of months; the years will roll more quickly, until they'll cease to have very much meaning as milestones in life.

Into Nothing

According to Einstein's theories, I gather that the same concept applies to space. Space is not something into which matter is introduced, a void which material things help to fill by taking up a little room.

Space, it seems, is something that doesn't exist without the presence of matter. It's just a definition of what surrounds matter or separates two pieces of matter. No matter—no space.

I suppose some day we'll be proving no time, no space, or vice versa. Or even that neither exists.

That brings me back to my personal problem. For a columnist there is always too much space when he begins to write, and too little towards the end. And time seems to peter out in the same way.

Man makes a few attempts to switch time around for his own purposes. He divides it up into bits so he can measure it. He marks his world off into sections, each with a different hour of the day. And now and then he alters his clocks to pretend that it's earlier or later than it ought to be.

But he isn't really fooling anybody. I guess it's easier to have time on your hands, than to get your hands on time.

April 28, 1898 — Agents in the city report a large and increasing demand for houses. The number of people arriving here is causing an upward tendency in rentals.

April 28, 1918 — London: Germans began today what seems to be a general assault on the British southwest of Ypres, which could well be a test of Allied holding power in that area.

April 28, 1938 — San Francisco: A worldwide drive against narcotics has resulted in the seizure of contraband valued up to $1,000,000 on the Pacific slope alone.

As Our Readers See It

Where Was the Flag?

Victoria, (mistakenly perhaps) has the reputation of being the "most English city" on the North American continent.

April 23 was St. George's Day, I, for one, never forget it, because of a certain St. George's Day, at a place called St. Julien in 1915. But did anyone see a St. George's flag being flown anywhere in Victoria? I didn't.

P. M. CHISWELL.
2311 Shakespeare Street.

Clean Streets

Your editorial on the subject—"Let's Clean Up the Streets" is timely and to the point, plus the active interests of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and their campaign motto, "Keep Victoria Clean."

The main streets downtown certainly look like the morning after the night before, especially Sunday mornings. But, even after the city sweeper has been around all through the night and in all weathers, between the hours of 8 a.m. and 9.30, one sees the store keepers and businessmen, sweeping out their shop and store entrances, and sidewalks all into the street gutter.

There is a "City Bylaw" covering this subject and a penalty which apparently is not enforced.

I well recall a certain storekeeper on Douglas Street telling me to go to the hot place and mind my own business when I mentioned the bylaw. Said he: "Let the city clean it up."

There is only one solution to this problem in order to have clean city streets. That is for the city to insist on a street flusher and wash the streets and sidewalks down, just as they do in Vancouver and other places.

EDWARD TOWNSEND.

Priced Out of Jobs

When Mr. Jodoin, the president of the Canadian Labor Congress says a general wage increase will cure the recession, he is advocating the same nonsense as when the shipbuilders demanded higher and higher wages until now the owners can not obtain orders—and no ships are built here.

Then the men who man the ships, by their persistent demands for more and more money, have done away with their jobs.

Apart from a few coastal vessels Canada has lost her mercantile fleets—priced out of business by demands for ever higher wages.

How many more of our industries will have to shut down because of the demands of Mr. Jodoin and friends?

Whence the 'Screwball'?

With reference to a letter of mine recently printed in your "As Our Readers See It" section commenting on a local radio newscast on which one had heard that an opprobrious term had been used in connection with two of our provincial political parties by the new York Times, I now feel bound to say that on checking with that paper I received a most courteous reply, part of which runs as follows:

"We would consider it incredible indeed if any correspondent of The Times or anyone in our radio department referred to any political party anywhere in the world as 'screwball'. Nonetheless, after receiving your letter we checked our files and contacted our radio department."

FROM WASHINGTON

By JOSEPH ALSOP

New Doghouse for Tito

WITH extraordinary abruptness and considerable brutality, the Kremlin has now reversed the policy of friendship toward Yugoslavia which was the first fruit of Nikita Khrushchev's rise to power. The most curious aspect of this important event is the timing. The pretext for the new Soviet excommunication of the Yugoslavs was the "draft program" of the Yugoslav Communist Party. This document, which was published at the beginning of March, has just now been discovered to be crammed with intolerable heresies. The question at once arises, why these intolerable heresies were not spotted much earlier.

Alsop

All of March and early April passed by in peace and amity, with the heretical program already staring the Kremlin in the face. In this period, Nikita Khrushchev even requested Marshal Tito to accept a visit from his Hungarian stooge, János Kádár and Kádár was duly invited for a jolly weekend in Yugoslavia.

Then something happened in the Kremlin, presumably about mid-April, for a denunciation of the Yugoslav program was passed for publication in the Soviet paper, "Kommunist," on April 15.

Stinging Attack

Thereafter the Soviet Party theorist, Pospelov, delivered a stinging attack on the Yugoslavs as his contribution to the celebration of Lenin's 88th birthday. Finally the Soviets organized a general boycott of the Yugoslav Party Congress at Ljubljana by all the states of the "Socialist camp."

The Yugoslavs were frankly taken by surprise by the boycott, which again underlines the last-minute, wholly unexpected character of the squabble.

And just to round out the mystery, Pravda published a renewed and very venomous attack on old Motolov and his allies, who had opposed Khrushchev's pro-Yugoslav policy, at almost the same time when Pospelov was attacking the Yugoslavs.

Concerning this intensely significant and intensely bewildering sequence of events, there is only one point of general agreement among the experts. All agree that the sudden Soviet-Yugoslav break is a by-product of another inner struggle in the Kremlin. But as usual in these cases, no one can tell who is kicking whom.

One thesis is that the neo-Stalinists, Pospelov and the high and dry doctrinment. There was no reference to the term in any of Mr. Raymond Daniell's dispatches from Canada, and our radio people assure us that no one had used the term in any broadcast on the Canadian campaign.

One can only conclude, therefore, that the term was gratuitously used by the individual announcer on that particular broadcast.

Aren't We Grown Up?

Don't you think the workers here have grown up enough to run their own unions without the help of Detroit or Pittsburgh?

Don't you think the worker should be loyal to his own country first and to his family?

Is it right that thousands are deprived of maintaining their families because of a few who refuse to cross a picket line that does not affect their trade?

It's time to call a halt to strikes. Would the U.S.A. allow the unions in Canada to call a strike in their country? I don't think so! Think it over. Think of your families and others suffering through strikes.

LUCY NEWBIGIN.

Nothing Like a Good Hanging

Headline in a recent paper: "Gunplay, Mock Hanging for Chamber Cariboo Tour."

Well, I always say there's nothing like a nice hanging to make the day, and I see that they are giving the kiddies a school half holiday to make sure they see it too. So perhaps it does frighten a few of them, that's life after all, and what if it does turn a few adult stomachs too, I people are that squeamish they shouldn't be there at all.

I think everyone should have a jolly, rousing good time, and the organizers who thought up the idea of the hanging sure have got up an original idea to celebrate the B.C. Centennial, haven't they?

"SQUEAMISH."

Grateful

In time of bereavement mere words of gratitude seem very inadequate.

The family of the late Mr. N. D. Booth wish to extend heartfelt thanks to the city police for their wonderful co-operation and especially the two constables who answered the call to the Royal Athletic Park; to the people in the grandstand for their consideration; to the interns and nurses of the Royal Jubilee Hospital; to the boys of the Juvenile Football League, and to all who in any way have tried to comfort us in our loss.

A Very Personal Loss

A short time ago we appealed to whoever had removed a child's lawn chair from 2904 Shakespeare Street to return it to us. The chair was specially made for our little girl when she was a victim of leukemia and while she was still with us.

It is highly prized for its association with the little one whom we have lost.

So far the chair has not been returned. May we renew our appeal in the hope that whoever has the chair may see it and give back to us something we cherish.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. WILLIAMS.
2904 Shakespeare Street.

Devious Rise

In the present instance, Khrushchev again has to deal with one of the forces that sustained him in his long and devious rise to the supreme position.

Zhukov and the Communist Party apparatus were his twin supports throughout the whole elimination contest in the Kremlin. Zhukov asked too much reward, as saviors will, and Zhukov was taken care of—with the help of the party apparatus.

More recently, the party apparatus has shown signs of getting above itself, particularly by obstructing Khrushchev's immensely radical agricultural reforms. So may not Khrushchev be preparing to teach their proper place to the party bureaucrats, as he taught his place to Zhukov?

The trouble with this thesis is obvious enough. The condemnation of the Yugoslavs must surely be pleasing to the party extremists like Suslov and Pospelov, as Pospelov's role indicates. At best, therefore, it would be an astonishingly devious maneuver in a Khrushchev game to defeat the party bureaucrats.

Tricky Wrestler
But Khrushchev is just the kind of wrestler who gets his stranglehold by seeming to give way. Furthermore, the Yugoslavs themselves plainly blame Khrushchev personally for their condemnation. At Ljubljana, they have attacked Khrushchev personally instead of denouncing "Stalinist survivors" who still cause tragic distortions, as they would otherwise have done.

In fact the Yugoslavs see what has happened as another stage in the transformation of Khrushchev into a somewhat jollier image of Josef Stalin.

As between the two theses, you can pay your money and take your choice. (Copyright 1957 N.Y. Herald Tribune Inc.)

A Quiet Book

VE just been reading Dorothy Thompson's 'The Courage To Be Happy'. It's a collection of essays taken from those which, over 20 years, she wrote each month for The Ladies' Home Journal.

Until now, I had only known her as a journalist: writing of politics and public affairs. This book is more personal. It reveals a Dorothy Thompson who is quiet, mellow, maternal, deeply rooted in her untroubled, grateful for her childhood, quite content that life is not only good but wondrously magical. "There is a natural law and a natural rhythm that if we seek to discern, we shall to some degree find."

It's not an outstanding work. But it pleased me to be able to explore the mind of a mature, intelligent woman who looks at the world and wonders out it, as we all do in our private, personal moments.

Ruth

The book is divided into five sections: Art and Artists, On Children, Elderly Reflections, On Public Affairs, Observations Everyday Life.

I much preferred the first three sections, and I especially liked an essay, 'The Moments That Educate'.

It's a description of how little Dorothy, the daughter of the Methodist minister in a small town, went to lunch with a rich girl who lived in a lovely house on the hill. Dorothy had never seen anything like it, and when she went home the parsonage seemed so shabby and ugly. It was the ugliness that shattered her. From there to this day, the essay simply tells how her father

Theme of the exhibition is "Man—his aspirations and techniques in the service of mankind," so the British are making the focal point of their section a display of more than 100 items that proclaim the British did it first.

Among "firsts" that range from Watt's steam engine to the first atomic power station at Calder Hall are the electric clock, macadam road, railways, motorboats, submarine cable, penicillin, photo negatives, gas lighting, television and bottled beer!

To make sure overseas tourists co-operate, the council says that the word "litter" will appear in five languages on the street signs. It is translated into "trash" for the sake of U.S. citizens.

Parents Identify Body of Girl, 7,
Missing 3 Months

GALENA, Ill. (AP)—Authorities early Sunday positively identified the decomposed body of a girl as seven-year-old Maria Ridulph.

She was found Saturday night in a lonely woods area near this northwestern Illinois community about 75 miles from her home in DeKalb County. The little girl vanished December 3 with a stranger.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Ridulph, strained and haggard, identified as their daughter's a strand of hair and T-shirt taken from the body. Neither of the parents viewed the body.

HOME GARDEN

By HILDA BEASTALL

DST Originator Was No Gardener

Husbands beware! Your evenings of leisurely reading, pipe smoking, or television watching, are over. Even weekend fishing may be curtailed.

All this because of daylight "saving".

I am pretty sure that the originator of the idea, Sir William Willett, was no gardener or he would have realized that it is impossible to get to work in the garden at early dawn while the dew is still wet on grass and plants.

Hilda

He would also have known that since the average citizen is forced to get up an hour earlier he will become tired an hour earlier at night—yet, there is that extra hour of daylight blinking into his tired eyes.

In this area, most of our spring gardening is done during the month of May, no matter how precocious the season appears. Beginning today, husbands will find that each evening has been scheduled for them to do the maximum amount of digging, moving, planting and general maintenance before dark.

FOOD VALUE

Vegetable gardens are becoming increasingly popular and necessary for the housewife who thinks of food values for her family. Most of the salad and root crops will be sown from now on.

Tomato, cucumber, squash and pepper plants can be put out from about the middle of May. Until you have tasted ripe tomatoes from your own garden while they are still warm with sun, you just have not known them.

Here may be a useful hint for the husbands, the old joke among back fence gardeners: "Never plant more in the spring than your wife can care for all summer!"

4,000-Mile Radar Developed by U.K.

LONDON (CP)—The Sunday Graphic says British scientists have developed radar with a range of 4,000 miles or more, with a field-of-vision reaching into Russia.

The radar could detect a Russian rocket within seconds of its launching, the newspaper says, adding that the new device was achieved by means of a "crystal ball."

Scout 'Hams' Plan Radio 'Jamboree'

OTTAWA (CP)—Boy Scouts around the world will get together the weekend of May 10, not in the customary jamboree but in a new "jamboree-on-the-air."

The idea was hatched at last year's world Scout jamboree at Sutton, Coldfield, England, when a wide interest in radio was discovered among Boy Scouts.

The committee which was then appointed now has announced from Scout headquarters here that arrangements are complete. All persons currently or formerly connected with the Scouting movement are invited to participate.

Many Scout groups are arranging to join in through facilities loaned by radio clubs in their districts. A station will operate from Gilwell Park, international Scout training centre near London, with a call sign in the GB series. Call letters for the international bureau at Ottawa will be VE3RT.

RAF's Role Challenged In Battle of Britain

LONDON (AP)—This is the memory: In the tense hot summer of 1940 a handful of RAF fighter pilots threw themselves at the mighty German air force and against all odds turned the Nazis back in the skies over southern England. Now the question: Is the memory historically accurate?

From the memory, people around the world—including historians—have concluded that the Battle of Britain was a sort of aerial Trafalgar—one of the decisive battles of history.

According to this view—reinforced by Sir Winston Churchill's reference to so many owing so much to so few—the struggle in the skies saved Britain and ultimately gave Hitler's enemies the chance to win.

Now Duncan Grinnell-Milne, a former Royal Air Force officer, has challenged this conception of history.

In a new book, 'The Silent Victory', Grinnell-Milne says the Royal Navy—in wide-ranging operations, nightly destroyer patrols close to Nazi harbors and in deployments—was the decisive factor in preventing an invasion of the British Isles.

He says the Germans actually were close to air superiority, and that Britain's naval superiority really blocked the invasion.

Grinnell-Milne concedes the RAF contribution two important results, however. Germany for the first time in the war lost the prestige of invincibility in the air because British planes were able to stay in the sky with the Nazis. And British people, seeing the air battle, were heartened for the long struggle ahead.

Grinnell-Milne says there was no question of Hitler's determination to invade Britain. For three months the Germans gathered steamers, tugs and barges in channel ports for Operation Sealion. They intended to strike England's south coast from a point west of Dover to positions east of the Isle of Wight.

While world attentions

focused on the battle in the sky the issue actually was being decided at sea, Grinnell-Milne maintains. British destroyers steamed along the Nazi-held French and Belgian coast. Other British squadrons took up positions from which they could smash a German invasion while the barges were at sea.

Finally even Hitler realized the game was up when the battleship Revenge, seven destroyers and six motor torpedo boats sailed from Plymouth on the night of Oct. 11 and bombarded Cherbourg. He called off the invasion plan the next day.

Auto Union Proposes Price Cuts In Trade for Contract Extension

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union was expected to offer the auto industry a three-month contract extension today in return for a cut in car prices and a boost in unemployment benefits.

The reported plan, to be served on General Motors Corporation, Ford Motor Company, and Chrysler Corporation, would extend present contracts with the big three from the end of next month until Sept. 8.

In return, the auto builders would be asked to cut car prices by an unspecified amount and increase supplemental unemployment benefits from the present 60 to 65 per cent of worker's take-home pay to 80 per cent.

EXECUTIVES TAKE CUT

Some 450,000 of the UAW's 1,350,000 members now are laid off. The union itself is laying off 100 of its executives while cutting its executives' salaries by 10 per cent.

If the industry accepts the contract extension the current pact would run out just as it was ready to introduce its 1959 models. Observers said this would give the UAW a bargaining advantage because a strike now to back up contract demands would do little more than help the industry cut production of an already overstocked market.

Ford, Chrysler and General Motors declined comment.

The UAW is seeking a profit-sharing plan, a wage increase and other benefits in negotiations on present contracts.

Another facet of the proposal would have the union joining with the big three in urging the federal government to do away with the 10 per cent auto excise tax as a means of increasing auto sales.

STUDEBAKER SPEEDS UP 50 PER CENT

HAMILTON, Ont. (BUP)—Studebaker-Packard of Canada began a 50 per cent increase in production today to catch up on a backlog of orders.

President Gordon E. Grundy announced the firm's car sales rose 24 per cent in the first three months of this year, compared with a similar period last year.

He said recall notices have been sent out to employees laid off several months ago to bring the work force to 526 and that steady employment is on prospect "from here until the 1958 model run is completed."

C of C Boss Urges Closer Business Ties

WASHINGTON (CP)—Canadian and American businessmen have a responsibility in broadening understanding between the two countries, the president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce said today.

"I am convinced that a lot of difficulties and irritations which arise between us can be ironed out or minimized by a frank interchange of views between businessmen on both sides of the border," said Ralph C. Pybus.

"We businessmen should face up to these challenges and work out possible solutions rather than wait or invite the intervention of government on either side of the border," he told an international luncheon meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

U.K. Studies International Bank Plan

LONDON (UP)—The idea of a Commonwealth bank to coordinate members' development and investment policies is being studied by officials preparing for the Commonwealth trade and economic conference to be held in Canada next September, authoritative sources said today.

Commonwealth economic affairs will be debated in Parliament Monday and, the sources said, it could be expected that one of the subjects raised would be the possibility of a Commonwealth financial organization.

Whether or not a Commonwealth bank as such would be feasible, they said, was a "very debatable point, although there was a 'very strong feeling in the government' that more formal relations between the central banks of the sterling area were essential for its smooth functioning."

Authoritative sources said the establishment of "some form of co-ordinating institution" had long been in the British government's mind and it was true that Premier Harold Macmillan had told a Canadian trade delegate in London that it would be a subject for discussion in September's conference.

Hudson's Bay Mining Income Shows Decline

TORONTO (CP)—Net income of $1,364,314 for the first quarter of 1958, compared with $3,396,609 for the same three months in 1957, was announced Friday at the annual meeting of Hudson's Bay Mining and Smelting Co. Ltd.

Share earnings were 49 cents, compared with $1.23 and revenue $9,434,141, compared with $12,348,615.

Tons mined increased to 417,136 from 407,722.

Trans Mountain To Renew Bid For Share Split

OTTAWA (CP)—Trans Mountain Oil Pipe Line Company plans to renew its request for parliamentary approval for a five-for-one share split.

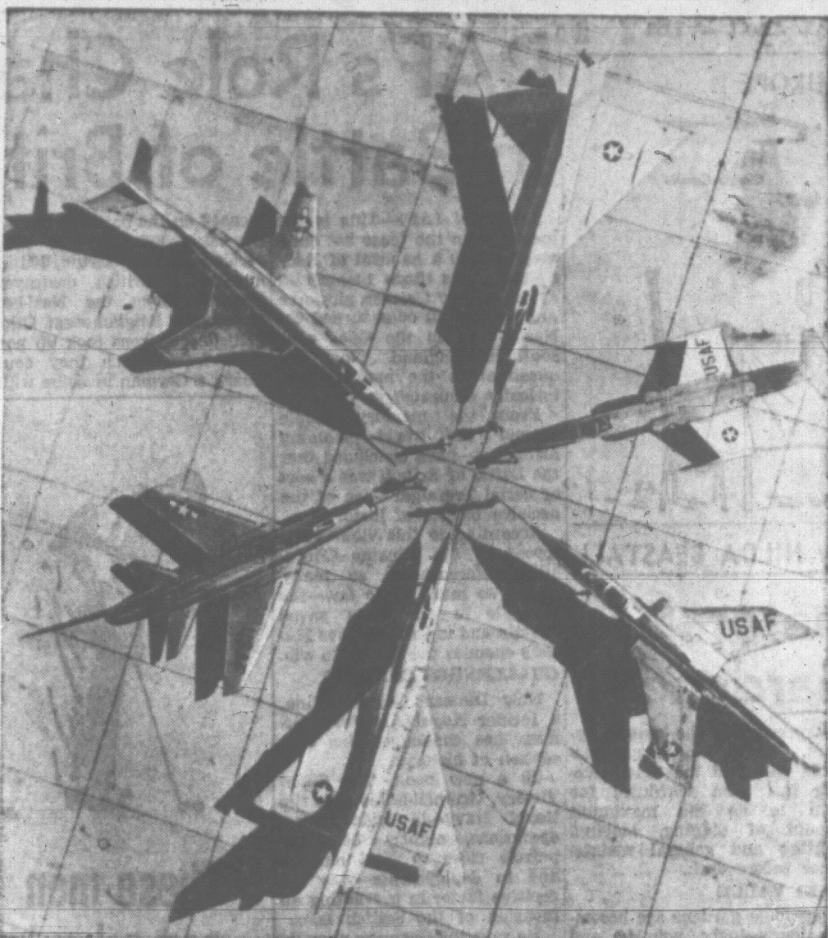

The company Friday gave notice in the Canada Gazette of its intention to boost its shares from 5,000,000 to 25,000,000.

It made a similar request more than a year ago but stiff opposition by the CCF party prevented passage of the private bill before the former Liberal government dissolved Parliament and called an election last June 10.

Canadian Industries Income Takes Drop

MONTREAL (CP)—Operating income of Canadian Industries Ltd., and subsidiaries in the first quarter of this year was "appreciably lower" than operating income in a similar period last year, H. Grenville Smith, president, told the annual meeting Friday.

He said the trend of decreased demand for chemicals and allied products continued into the current year, but business resulting from new plants coming into operation served to offset declines in sales.

SUPERSONIC DEFENDERS—Six of the United States Air Force's newest and fastest defenders are pictured on the runway at Palmdale, Calif., with their pilots standing in the centre of the group of planes. Reading from the top, counter-clockwise, are: the Convair F-102 Delta Dagger; McDonnell F-101 Voodoo; North American F-100 Supersabre; Convair F-106 Delta Dart; Republic F-105 Thunderchief, and the Lockheed F-104 Starfighter. All the aircraft are supersonic in level flight. The F-101 Voodoo currently holds the world's speed record of 1,207.6 m.p.h.

Oil Companies Invade North In Search for New Fields

OTTAWA (CP)—New regulations covering petroleum exploration in the north are being worked out in an attempt to establish royalty rates fair to the landowners, Resources Minister Alvin Hamilton said Thursday.

The action is being taken as oil companies show increasing interest in the exploitation possibilities of the Yukon and the northwestern section of the Northwest Territories.

Mr. Hamilton told a press conference 600 permits have been issued to more than 30 companies in recent months for exploration including some of the Arctic islands. A total of 60,000,000 acres was covered by the permits that called for between $25,000,000 and $50,000,000 worth of exploration work.

He said permits for 27,000,000 acres of land involved have been issued since last fall. They require that exploration work be started at once and be carried out at minimum annual rates for six years.

The minister later told a reporter the government is working

He said further consideration now is being given to the whole matter with a view to giving the smaller companies an even break on northern leases.

Originally the government had felt that the great cost of northern exploration would prohibit all but the large companies from exploring the north for petroleum.

But some had since informed him that because of the high cost of available land left in Alberta, they found it cheaper to explore in the north.

Mr. Hamilton also referred to government plans to build a road into the area under exploration.

He said the final survey will be made this summer over a 200-mile section of the road proposed between Flat Creek, near Dawson City in the Yukon, and Fort McPherson, in the Northwest Territories near the mouth of the Mackenzie River.

MAY START IN 1960
A preliminary survey of an additional 200 miles of the 450-mile road also would be completed. About $600,000 had been provided for this year's work. Construction on the road was expected to begin in 1960.

He said the companies planning petroleum exploration in the area have put up $1,400,000 in deposits with the government. If they fall short of the required amount of development work each year, they forfeit a proportion of their deposits.

Recession Moderating Oil President Claims

TORONTO (CP)—There is evidence that the recession is moderating and perhaps coming to an end, J. R. White, president of Imperial Oil Ltd., said at the company's annual meeting.

In any event, the sales picture for petroleum products is sure to improve, Mr. White stated.

Heating-oil demand would increase because of more customers, and if the weather in the next heating season is normal, it will increase markedly. Continued, though somewhat smaller, increases in motor-vehicle registrations, will improve gasoline demand.

Imperial's net earnings in the first quarter of this year were $15,022,000 or 48 cents a share, compared with $21,581,000 or 63 cents in the first quarter of 1957, which was the highest in any quarter in the company's history.

Expressing opposition to extension of western supply lines to Montreal, Mr. White said the most attractive markets for Canadian crude lie in the North American interior and the nearer seaboard areas of the western United States, rather than in eastern seaboard area where there is competition from Venezuelan and Middle East crudes.

ONTARIO OPPORTUNITY

There are, he continued, important opportunities for expanding use of Canadian crude in existing markets. The first of these, he said, is Ontario, where voluntary action on the part of individual refineries and marketers could provide a sizable volume of additional outlet.

A second market, where a higher degree of saturation should soon be possible, even under United States import quotas, is the Puget Sound area. "We are very much concerned," said Mr. White of the Montreal market, "that any possible—though by no means assured—short-term benefits could be greatly and perhaps disastrously outweighed by the long-term penalties that appear inevitable."

"Also, in net terms the Montreal market is a good deal smaller than in gross terms,

Canadians in Debt More Than $1 Billion

OTTAWA (BUP)—For the first time in history, Canadians entered a new year with unpaid retail bills of more than $1,000,000,000.

The Bureau of Statistics said today that outstanding retail credit at December 31, 1957, totalled a record $1,023,800,000. It compared with $981,500,000 a year earlier.

The bureau survey also revealed that retail sales, both cash and credit, were up in 1957 from the previous year. Cash sales increased 3.2 per cent to $9,435,700,000 (B), while credit

MARKET SUMMARIES

Few Gains in Quiet Trading at Toronto

The market was mixed today in both Toronto and New York, with quiet afternoon trading in Toronto and moderately active dealing in New York.

In Toronto industrials and golds and coppers were narrowly higher—not more than a point.—and few gains went more in New York.

AT TORONTO only refining oils showed clean cut gain. Among other industrial groupings most changes were fractional but there were a few expectations among the lightly traded issues most of which moved in a one-point range.

Senior base metals were narrowly lower despite an index gain. Losses outnumbered advances by slim margin. Uranium, junior base metals and other low priced mines had a few more moves than gains. Western oils declined in narrow range with losses outnumbering gains by a small majority.

AT NEW YORK gains in key issues ran from fractions to around a point and a few specialties went beyond. International Paper rose around two points.

At noon the Associated Press 60 stock average was off 10 cents at $167.

McIntyre Porcupine gained a point, among the Canadian issues. Fractional improvement was shown by Distillers-Seagrams, Walker-Gooderham and International Nickel. Granby Mining and Aluminum Ltd. were slightly lower. Among Canadian issues on the American stock exchange Eureka and Preston East Dome lost 1/16 and 1/8 respectively.

AT LONDON—Quiet and uncertain conditions prevailed on the stock market today, most sections showing small losses with interest selective.

Apart from firmness in short-dated stocks, gilt-edged securities were dull. In a quiet foreign bond market, German issues were in demand. Dollar stocks were marked higher. Losses were fairly widespread among industrials.

AT MONTREAL industrial trading volume was off considerably from Friday's high as prices remained scrambled to day.

Steels, constructions and newsprint were higher. Steel of Canada improved 1/2 to 53, Gypsum jumped 1/2 to 35 and Consolidated Paper strengthened 1/2 to 32.

Banks, pipelines and refining oils were lower. Bank of Montreal dipped 1/4 to 42 1/2, Interprovincial Pipeline also lost 1/4 to 41 1/2 and McCall Frontenac declined 1/2 to 50 1/2.

In the mixed region were the base metals and utilities. Hudson Bay was off 1/4 to 41 1/2 and Calgary Power fell 1 to 69, while Consolidated Mining and Smelting at 17 was up 1/2 and Shawinigan advanced 1/2 to 25 1/2.

Trade was moderate among mines and oils and gains outnumbered losses in both producers and speculators.

Pioneer sold 3,500 at $1.65. Mid-West Copper traded 2,000 at 14. Royal Canadian Ventures moved 21,400 at 49. Canam Copper sold 7,500 at 18.

U.S. Ore Curb Could Shut Down Plants

NEW YORK (BUP)—Proposals to slap import quotas on lead and zinc today ran into stiff opposition from an important part of the domestic industry.

President J. D. McKenzie of American Smelter & Refining Co. said import quotas might force his company and other smelters to close a number of plants and throw hundreds of Americans out of work. He said his company almost certainly would have to shut down two lead smelters and one lead refinery.

McKenzie said quotas also would cause his company to cut its zinc smelting operations sharply. He said the domestic producers who have been seeking import quotas to keep foreign lead and zinc out might be hard hit themselves because smelters would shut down, depriving them of their best market.

Banks, pipelines and refining oils were lower. Bank of Montreal dipped 1/4 to 42 1/2, Interprovincial Pipeline also lost 1/4 to 41 1/2 and McCall Frontenac declined 1/2 to 50 1/2.

TODAY'S GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP)—Export interest in Canadian barley featured trade today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. Trade reports indicated there was also some interest in flax.

East Germany was reported to have taken two cargoes, representing about 700,000 bushels of barley late Friday. Trade reports said further purchases by East Germany were made today. The United Kingdom was reported to have taken parcel lot orders of flax and small quantities of flax.

Lakehead prices for class two, IWA and domestic wheat were all unchanged from Friday.

Grass Root Policies Sought by Tories

By PETE LOUDON
District associations of the Progressive Conservative party in B.C. have been asked to art tailoring policies to fit sters' wishes in the next provincial election.

OR LEADERSHIP CONVENTION

Tory Party Heads Pick September Instead of June

A spring leadership convention called for Saturday morning by executive members of the B.C. Progressive Conservative party was later delayed by decision of top provincial officers.

They announced Saturday afternoon the convention instead would be held in "late September."

Provincial leader Deane Finlayson, who originally had called for an early convention, later agreed to the September date.

He said this would allow more time for organization and study of policy proposals by district organizations.

EXT WEEK
An announcement of the exact date and place of the convention was promised by party officials next week.

There were indications the convention will be held in Vancouver.

Saturday's meeting at the Empress Hotel appeared united behind the present leader.

No one spoke publicly in favor of any other leadership candidate, although the vote for convention was unanimous. But speaking privately, some members speculated on possible candidates.

These included former B.C. leader Herbert Anscomb, Justice Minister Davie Fulton and Vancouver alderman, Halford E. Wilson.

N. A. Alexander of the Delta Constituency Association which first asked for the leadership convention, defended his area against implications the request was based on non-confidence in the present leader.

Executive members from ridings throughout the province who met here Saturday asked that form letters calling for policy resolutions be sent to all units.

Final selection, cutting and trimming of the political cloth is slated for a September convention.

There was indication some of the material would be borrowed from other parties despite an appeal by provincial leader Deane Finlayson to "stick to the principles of Conservatism."

FRIVOLOUS

The one-day meeting tabled five resolutions, despite objection by some delegates. They said they had come a long way, and time had been wasted on more "frivolous" matters.

A policy committee, headed by Galt Wilson of White Rock, and including Miss Mary Southin, Vancouver, and provincial president Gowan T. Guest, of Vancouver, will present recommendations to a July executive meeting in Kamloops prior to a fall convention.

Expansion of public power development in B.C.—a proposal hitherto voiced loudest by the CCF—will be one contentious proposal.

B.C.E. COMPLAINT

Rate increases by the B.C. Electric were opposed during the meeting by R. C. MacDonald, former minister of mines and municipal affairs in the Coalition government.

He called for immediate discussion of the matter, but it was delayed with the other resolutions.

"That is one matter we should seriously oppose. We should take a stand in that regard," he said.

Dewdney provincial riding delegate John Green, son of federal Works Minister Howard Green, filed a resolution calling for re-examination of the provincial party stand on the question of fish and power on the Fraser "... to see whether the public interest would not best be served by proceeding immediately to develop the river for the greatest possible benefit from a combination of fish, power and agriculture."

ALL OUT

The resolution pointed out it has been stated the Fraser will never be dammed while there is danger of interfering with salmon runs, hence little research on the power potential is being done. The Dewdney group also stated:

"An all-out program could solve the problem of taking salmon around dams. High power costs are slowing B.C. industrial development, costing the people of B.C. millions of dollars and are a serious bar to rural electrification."

The resolution also said B.C. has a priceless asset in its hydro potential—but it may become worthless if it is not developed in advance of competitive atomic power. A Fraser dam would end threats of flooding, halt expenditures for dyking, increase food production through irrigation and improve salmon spawning conditions by assisting the fish to go further upstream.

NEW LABOR LAWS

Mr. Finlayson, speaking on policy, hinted new labor laws are required in B.C. While listing a large number of political fields of action, he singled out the field of labor-management regulation for comment.

"One of the serious problems is the dislocations caused by a seemingly endless series of strikes and the hardships imposed on people of every walk of life."

"Co-operation is needed in finding ways and means of resolving these difficulties without putting the public to hardship and inconvenience."

He said the party must keep in mind "... there is a great support for the Conservative way of doing things. The mass of the people are Conservative-thinking people ..."

DON'T DILUTE

He did not believe it was necessary to dilute Conservative principles to appeal to followers of opposition parties.

"We needn't try to include in our program things not definitely in our platform because they are attractive to a small segment of the population. Let us stick to the principles of Conservatism ... people are not going to turn to militant socialism—they are going to turn to us."

A number of delegates opposed the decision to table all resolutions for study and recommendation by the resolutions and policy committee. They wanted to discuss them on the floor of the meeting.

WHAT GOES ON?

Mr. Green told the chairman: "You have come and begged local organizations to get busy and submit resolutions ... but in the last four meetings there has been only one occasion to discuss them."

"Just what kind of a game are we playing? Do we want to set policy or don't we?" A North Vancouver delegate said the meeting should go immediately into committee on policy.

A Lillooet delegate said: "Mr. Finlayson invited me down here. I thought, to give the benefit of my farming experience, to assist in evolving policy."

It was a long way to come if he was not going to be able to discuss it, he added.

A standing vote, 43 to 22, referred the resolutions to the resolutions and policy committee.

CEREMONIAL

ARCHBISHOP COINS MOTTO FOR CENTENARY

Archbishop Harold E. Sexton reported today he has coined a centennial motto. And it was "very well received" at the morning service of thanksgiving at Christ Church Cathedral, he said. The motto—"Hats off to the past, coats off to the future." "Everyone thought it was rather unique," His Grace said.

"for this steadfastness of purpose... their kindness and neighborliness... the traditions of old lands... the pioneer love of justice and equity... thrift and industry... the example of honesty and humility..."

"EXHAUSTION"

The response to all was a murmured "We give Thee thanks, O God."

Rev. A. I. Higgins, president of Victoria Ministerial Association, told the gathering that "looking to the past shows spiritual exhaustion."

"We must vow to keep foresight and courage in the coming days," he said, "so our pioneers might be proud of us." Furling centennial flags were presented to Provincial Secretary Wesley Black, Mayor Percy Scurrell, Reeve A. C. Wurtelle of Esquimalt, Coun. Patrick Birley of Oak Bay, and Reeve Arthur Ash of Saanich. They were raised by RCMP and RCN representatives.

TRAVEL IN B.C.

Keynote address was given by Minister of Lands and Forests Ray Williston, who urged Victorians to travel in B.C. during the centennial year.

"We are entering a new day which demands pioneering just as adventurous and dangerous as any in the province's past. We must meet it with the fortitude that our fathers showed before us."

The provincial centenary "means something to all in Canada," he said. "It is part of a greater story still—a chapter in our great history as a nation."

"During this year there will be considerable indulgence in historical significance," the moderator said, "but it should be something more than sentimental exercises."

Cyprus Terrorists Threaten U.K. Troops

NICOSIA, Cyprus (Reuters)—Two of Cyprus' main towns were placed out of bounds to British troops today as a terrorist "we will kill Britons" ultimatum expired.

Paphos and Famagusta were placed out of bounds indefinitely and an official spokesman said a similar order for Nicosia would depend on "how things go."

The Greek-Cypriot underground organization EOKA warned Saturday that its members would resume attacks on Britons unless the "ill-treatment" of political detainees was stopped in 48 hours.

A British soldier was stabbed in Nicosia Sunday night.

Oakes was a director of the Kamative Tin Mines Ltd. in Rhodesia and had interests in several oil drilling companies.

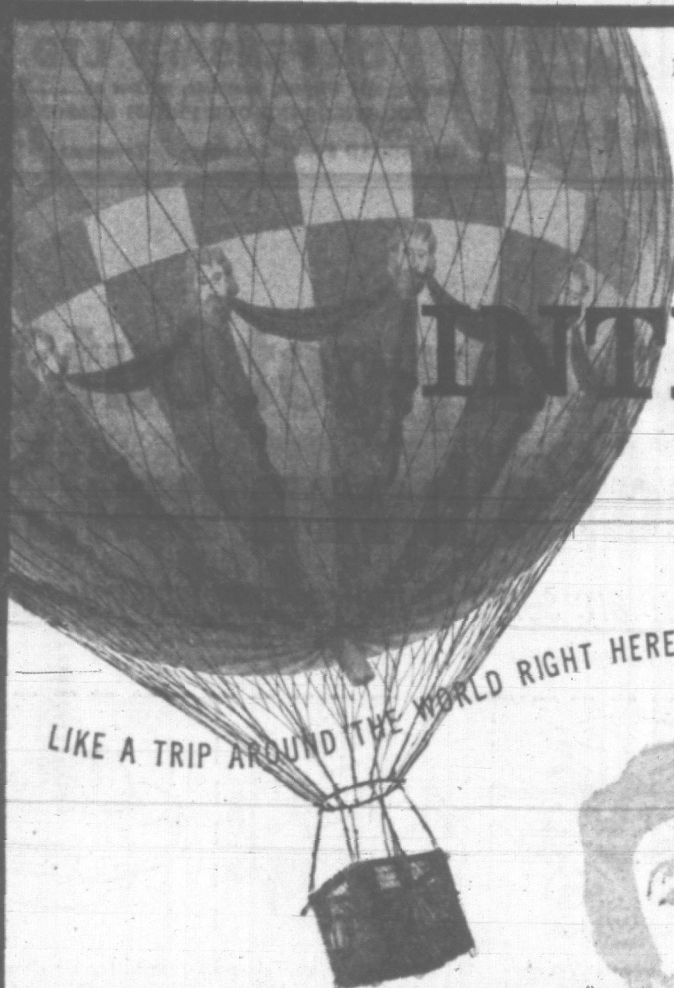

His father, Sir Harry, former miner who struck it rich in Northern Ontario, was bludgeoned to death in Nassau in 1943. The murder, never solved, attracted world-wide publicity at the time.

Russ Plan More Laikas

her opponents. The United States has learned, however, that most of the NATO countries are not particularly eager to accept the offer because their governments have to consider public opinion which is against it.

Schweitzer added this appeal to the United States: "It would be of great importance if the United States in this hour of fate would, above all, think of the necessity of giving up nuclear weapons, the only way to prevent a nuclear war. The theory that world peace can be maintained through nuclear deterrents can no longer be accepted at a time when the risk of war is so great."

He called today for a "top-level" conference of the world's atomic powers to agree on abandonment of nuclear tests and weapons.

Any subsequent disarmament conference should come only after "immediate and unconditional" agreement to scrap nuclear tests and arms, he said.

"If our generation bans nuclear arms it will be taking the first great step towards the distant aim of ending all wars," he urged. "If that step is not taken, we must continue on the road leading to nuclear war and to misery."

The second lecture was an impassioned warning that the world could be destroyed in a nuclear holocaust.

"The nuclear powers," he said, "owe it to themselves and to mankind to abandon nuclear arms—without insisting on any conditions."

Schweitzer said it would be "realistic" if the nuclear summit conference met in neutral Geneva, was limited to the three nuclear powers and discussed only issues directly connected with nuclear disarmament.

"The three nuclear powers, and they alone," he insisted, "must decide if they want to stop nuclear tests and abandon the use of nuclear weapons."

A general disarmament conference before an agreement to ban atomic weapons and tests would be "unrealistic and illogical."

Court Martial Orders Sailor Out of Service

A navy court martial today sentenced to dismissal Able Seaman Donald George Smith, HMCS Cayuga, as a result of conviction on four of seven charges brought against him.

The sailor broke ship, took a jeep, headed for Victoria and crashed on Esquimalt Road, inflicting heavy damage on the jeep and a new parked car, property of Brian E. Carter, 3312 Doncaster.

A passenger in the jeep, Arnold John Tallis, also of the Cayuga, was treated for head, face and hand cuts.

The incident occurred at 1:30 a.m. April.

Smith still faces charges of careless driving and driving without a licence, brought in city police court. He was given a remand without plea until the court martial was finished.

The 21-year-old seaman was found guilty of breaking ship, using a vehicle without authority, dangerous driving and being of conduct to the prejudice of good order and discipline.

RAMON SERRA

Youth Gang Leader Fights Police When Arrested in Shotgun Slaying

NEW YORK (AP)—The leader of a Bronx youth gang, screaming and kicking at detectives who arrested him, was charged Sunday night with the shotgun slaying of a rival youthful mobster.

Ramon Serra, 20, president of the Egyptian Crowns, was cornered as he tried to keep a sidewalk rendezvous with his 14-year-old girl friend.

The girl, Alice Bayron, had led police to him. District Attorney Daniel V. Sullivan said he will ask a grand jury Tuesday to return a first-degree murder indictment.

Serra gave police this account of how he slew Michael Ramos, 17, in a Bronx candy store Saturday night.

"I asked him if he was looking for me and he gave me a bad look. He looked at me from my head to my toes and I shot him."

Detectives said the slaying stemmed from the shotgun wounding two weeks ago of Carlos Candelario, 17, of the Bronx.

Candelario, a member of Serra's gang, was gravely wounded in a gang dispute. Henry Retorico, 15-year-old member of the Sinner's gang, has been accused of the shooting.

Pace of Young Rivals Too Fast For Island Golf's 'Old Guard'

Merriman to Meet Carroll In Open Final Next Sunday

By ERNIE FEDORUK

The old guard faded and young men with missions to accomplish marched into the finals of the Times Vancouver Island Open golf championship Sunday.

And thus Laurie Carroll, 28-year-old assistant professional at Victoria Golf Club, will face 25-year-old John Merriman of Gorge Vale in next Sunday's 36-hole showdown battle for The Daily Times Trophy.

Their final will be played at the always-tricky Oak Bay course.

Merriman and Carroll, each seeking his first major golf title, advanced Sunday by disposing of a pair of veteran shotsmiths with victories that were mild surprises.

Merriman, beating the jinx that has long plagued him at Uplands, defeated former Open champion Ted Colgate of Colwood, 2 and 1.

Carroll, never extended against a clubmate whose short-iron game completely collapsed, defeated Dr. George Bigelow, 9 and 8.

Youth continued to be served on a day blessed with ideal weather conditions when 15-year-old Dickie Munn, the "pride of Cedar Hill," moved into the final of the handicap championship against 43-year-old Norm Beattie of Oak Bay.

Munn, a likeable youngster with an almost-perfect swing, defeated Uplands' Owen Jull, 4 and 3, while Beattie, a former Reginald, beat Bud French of Colwood, 2 and 1.

Weather, of Course, Wonderful!

If anything disappointed the large gallery on the balmy and beautiful day, it was the fact that the expected nip-and-tuck battle between Carroll and Dr. Bigelow failed to materialize.

Even after the first nine holes, Carroll went one down when he took a bogey on the 10th. He then won the next four holes and never looked back. Laurie was four up after 18 and then the match ended on the 28th.

It was the short-iron game, which helped Merriman to victory, that beat Bigelow. The young medical man, who Saturday turned in a one-over-par 70 at Oak Bay to qualify for the Victoria Club championship, could do very little that turned out right Sunday.

Sinking Chip on Fifth Started It

"I don't think I ever played a better short game," he said. "I put the ball in easy to the pin almost every time."

It was a chip shot on the fifth hole that gave John his first win after halving the first four holes. Merriman was never down after that. His second shot on the par-four hole went over the back, but he chipped in for a birdie.

Merriman, who fired a three-over 73 compared to Colgate's 74 in the morning round, was two up after 18 and was four up after the 22nd hole. But Colgate rallied brilliantly, winning the next three holes and then squaring the match on the 36th when Merriman settled for a bogey.

But Colgate was no match for Merriman on the last nine. Merriman admitted Colgate's rally threw a scare into him, but his finish was brilliant. Merriman came up with seven fours and a par-matching three on the last eight holes. There was no need to play the 18th. It marked the first time that Merriman was able to win a match in the Open at Uplands.

STAN'S HAPPY DAY

It was happy day for Vancouver's Stan Leonard, who grabs handful of silver dollars from his $10,000 prize money and receives victory kiss from wife, Christine, at Las Vegas, Nev., Sunday. ## STAMPS EAGER

Hometown Air Gives Gus Life

CALGARY (CP) — Calgary Stampede returned home Sunday with coach Gus Kyle confident they can overcome the 2-0 lead held by Vancouver Canucks in their best-of-seven Western Hockey League final series resuming tonight.

"We can still beat them," said Kyle, who watched his charges drop two games in Vancouver last week—the first 4-2, the second 4-3 in overtime.

"The club was tired when we arrived at Vancouver but we still should have won one game," Kyle lamented.

"It was tough to lose them both by such close scores, but the boys figure we can get even by working just a little harder. And we're ready to do that."

Close to 8,000 fans were expected in the Stampede Corral tonight.

Canucks worked out for an hour after their arrival here Sunday, while Stampede scheduled a light drill early today.

Both clubs emerged from the first two games without injuries, and the Stampede reported improvements among some players shaken up in the earlier series with Edmonton Flyers.

"We have had to get along without Sid Finney being in top shape," Kyle said Sunday night, "but it looks as though he will be 100 per cent for Monday's game. That will make a big difference to us."

New Champion Looks Around For Contenders

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Will Greaves made a one-mile trip to Windsor Saturday night and a short time later took the Canadian middleweight boxing championship back with him to Detroit.

Today his manager, Tony Ross Jr., is already busy lining up his first title defence, and it's understood it will be against Toronto-born L/R Arthur King.

Greaves, 22, who has been fighting out of Detroit for six months, had little trouble pounding his way to a fourth-round technical knockout over Cobey McCluskey, 26, of Charlottetown and Dartmouth, N.S.

The fight left McCluskey with two cracked or broken ribs and some doubt about his future.

Ross was already rhyming off the names of fighters he'd like Greaves to meet. Included were Gene Fullmer, who defeated the Edmontonian on a split decision while Fullmer was world champion, Cico Velazquez, Ralph (Tiger) Jones and Lou Lawrence of Vancouver, who held the title until the Canadian Boxing Federation took it away from him for not defending it.

Ross said he'd like to stage the bout in Edmonton.

PROS TO FIGHT IT OUT FOR VANCOUVER TITLE

VANCOUVER (CP)—Al Nelson, professional at Vancouver Golf Club, and Langara's assistant pro, Lyle Crawford, meet in the final for the city match open championship next Sunday.

Both won their semifinal matches Sunday. Nelson eliminated Harold Rice, assistant at Marine Drive, 3 and 2 on the latter's home course. Crawford defeated John Russell, Point Grey amateur, one up.

Of the semifinalists, Nelson played the best golf. He was three over par on the 16th when he finished out his game with Rice. Rice was six over. Crawford had an approximate 76 and Russell a 77. Russell lost his match when a putt rimmed the cup on the 18th hole while Crawford's second putt dropped.

Fighter Off Danger List

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Lightweight Julian Velasquez, who went into a coma following a 10th-round knockdown Saturday night, was pronounced out of danger Sunday by doctors at Parkview Hospital.

The 21-year-old boxer, floored for an eight-count by Eddie Gaspara, collapsed when he moved forward to resume fighting. He was unable to get up and was taken from the ring on a stretcher. Velasquez remained in a coma until 6 a.m. Sunday. They said there are indications he suffered a brain concussion from a jolting left hook-right uppercut combination.

Irish-Bred Ace Sets Track Mark

ALBANY, Calif. (AP)—Irish-bred Seaneen, a four-year-old colt, set a track record of 1:40.45 for the 1-16 miles at Golden Gate Fields Saturday in winning the $25,000 Sacramento Handicap.

Liangollen Farm's Social Climber finished second in the field of nine, 2 1/2 lengths back and 1 1/2 lengths in front of Eddie Schmidt.

Seaneen's time was one-fifth of a second off the mark set by Count Speed Oct. 4, 1947, which was a world mark at that time. The current world record of 1:39 was set in 1956 by Swaps at Hollywood Park.

RIDER OPTIMISTIC ... DESPITE BROKEN LEG

Hartack Still Hoping

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UP)—Everybody in Derbytown knew Bill Hartack was out of Saturday's Kentucky Derby today—except Bill Hartack.

The three-time national key champion just refused to believe that a broken leg suffered in a fall at Churchill Downs Saturday would keep him off the Derry co-favorite, Calumet Farm's Tim Tam, next Saturday.

"It may be a 100 to 1 chance, but I've won on long shots before," Hartack insisted as he lay in a hospital bed and gazed ruefully at a plas-

Hartack suffered the fracture when a two-year-old filly reared in the starting gate and crushed the leg against the gate.

The little jockey's chances of becoming the first to win two derbies in a row since Isaac Murphy and Jimmy Winkfield did it before the turn of the century now appear slim. But Hartack pinned his hopes on Dr. Alexander Kaye of New York.

"He's the jockeys' doctor," Hartack explained. "He will have X-ray films of the fracture today, and he's going to call me. If they look all right, I'll either fly to New York or he'll come out here."

Hartack was hoping Dwyer would abide by Kaye's decision, should it be favorable. He also hoped Calumet trainer Jimmy Jones would consider letting him ride Tim Tam with his leg in a cast, Gorge Hotel and Victoria and District Football League officials probably can't wait for another season to roll around.

Gorge wound up one of the most successful local campaigns in recent years as they coasted to a 6-1 triumph over Heaneys in the McGavin Cup final at Royal Athletic Park Saturday and league officials a healthy reported attendance boost during the 1957-58 season.

The Hotelmen also won the Jackson Cup event for the Lower Island title and advanced to the quarterfinals of Province Cup play before being ousted by the Alpen Club of Vancouver.

thanks to a sizzling first-round 65. Tommy Bolt, the temperamental pro from Chattanooga, was equal with Leonard but his game faltered after an eagle and a birdie on the first two holes.

This set the stage for a pressure-packed duel between Leonard and Casper. Both birdied the first hole but when Leonard had another birdie at the second, their total-strokes scored were even.

It was Casper's turn for a birdie at the fifth. Then Leonard got one, a three, at the ninth. Both dropped birdie putts on the 10th. Casper went ahead on the 12th but lost the advantage to Leonard's birdie three at the 13th.

Leonard Had Scare on Final Hole

The Canadian led at the 15th but at the next—slipped to a one-over-par four and again the scores were equal. Casper lost the tournament at the 17th. A water hazard trapped his ball on the 406-yard hole and he took a six. Leonard had a par four.

Leonard had a last-minute fright on the 18th when his ball hit a spectator in the back. He took a five, one over par, but Casper couldn't do better than a par four.

This gave Leonard his 68 and a 72-hole total of 275, 13 strokes better than par and a record for the course. Casper's 70 for 275 and $5,000 second prize was also under the previous tournament record of 278 set by Art Wall Jr. in 1954.

Leonard's purse winnings of $14,693 so far this year ranks after Arnold Palmer's $21,143. Leonard waited till he had built up a financial reserve before tackling the risky tournament business.

"If I don't have the ability, then I won't have any worries," he said two years ago when he accepted an assignment with the Lachute Golf Club near Montreal which permitted him to enter many U.S. tournaments. His principal U.S. success until Sunday was the 1957 Greater Greensboro, N.C. Open when he won first money of $2,000.

In Canada, he set a record for winning the PGA championship six times in 1940, '41, '50, '51, '54 and '57. In the International Canada Cup matches, he has represented his country all five times and won the individual trophy in 1954.

Gorge Finishes Season With Second Cup Win

Gorge Hotel and Victoria and District Football League officials probably can't wait for another season to roll around.

Gorge wound up one of the most successful local campaigns in recent years as they coasted to a 6-1 triumph over Casper's $18,861. Jay Hebert's $15,427 and Ken Venturi's $14,991.

Leonard waited till he had built up a financial reserve before tackling the risky tournament business.

Ottawa Anxious To Settle Score

HULL, Que. (CP)—Ottawa-Hull Canadiens are throwing everything but the kitchen sink at Regina Pats in the Memorial Cup hockey final, deadlocked at one game each.

The Junior-Habs, trying to avenge last year's loss to Flin Flon Bombers, held a 35-16 shooting advantage Sunday as they downed the Pats 4-2 after losing the opener 4-3 despite a 31-19 edge in the shots.

Netminder Ken Walters has been outstanding for the western champions and had little or no chance on the seven shots that got past him.

Third game of the best-of-seven series will be played Tuesday with the fourth Friday, both in Ottawa.

BREAKS ARM

Pats suffered a bad blow in Sunday's game when defenseman Jerry Serviss, picked up from Estevan Bruins for the playoffs, broke his right arm in a second-period collision.

Canadiens scored all their goals in the first 12 minutes of Sunday's game while the Pats counted once in each of the first two periods. Penalties played a big part in the game as three of the goals were scored with players off. Canadiens scored once while two of their players and a Regina player were off. Pats scored one while short-handed themselves and the second with Canadiens short-handed.

The line of Bill Carter, Gilles Tremblay and Bob Boucher accounted for three of the winners' goals. Carter tallying twice and Tremblay once. Captain Ralph Backstrom got the other.

FIRST PERIOD SUMMARY

1. Ottawa, Carter (Longbrant) 1-0.
2. Ottawa, G. Tremblay (Carter, Boucher) 2-0.
3. Ottawa, Backstrom (Rousseau, Longbrant) 3-0.

Hard to Keep Those Fivepin Champs Down

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver's Canadian championship bowling team has taken the lead in the open team competition after two days of play at the British Columbia Centennial $20,000 five-pin bowling championships.

Hank Seablom, Gordon McQueen, George Newton, Hugh Edwards, Frank Scarfe and Dave Bissett, who won the Canadian title in Toronto last month, ran up a score of 3,913 in three games.

The Idle Hour team from White Rock lead the Class "A" teams with 3,917, while New Westminster's Royal City team had 3,721.

Other leaders after two days are:

Former Cougar Named As Shrine Recognized

TORONTO (CP)—Hockey's Hall of Fame, brain-child of a man who died in obscurity three years ago, today is a reality.

The Hall, housed in a up-to-date building at the Canadian National Exhibition here, was formally recognized Sunday by a group of men, some of whom played a part in building the sport from the rugged seven-men-a-side, leaky-roof circuit days into a multi-million-dollar business.

"I am very pleased that this has been set up," beamed President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League after a nine-man selection committee had chosen 21 men for the game's shrine. This brought to 63 the number who have been honored since 1943 when the late Capt. Jim Sutherland of Kingston, Ont., first thought of the idea.

DIDN'T EXIST BEFORE

In reality, the Hall never existed until Sunday. It had been a shrine in name only since Capt. Sutherland founded it to immortalize those who helped make hockey Canada's national winter sport.

Sunday, seven men listed as "builders" of the game and 14 players were named to the honor roll. Their hockey history covered every era, from the open-air rinks and devil-may-care players of the 1890's to the highly organized present-day game.

West Can Pack Up Allan Cup Tonight

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—Young Davy Jones, Belleville, will be in hospital tonight as his teammates meet Kelowna Packers in what may be the last game of the Allan Cup final.

The game will be played in Kamloops.

The Packers rallied in the third period Saturday to snatch a 4-3 win from Belleville McFarlands and moved ahead 2-1 in the best-of-seven final for the Canadian senior hockey championship.

NECK FRACTURED

Jones suffered a hair-line fracture of the neck when he tripped over Packer goalie Dave Gatherum in a pell-mell flight across the goal mouth. He struck his head on a stick as players garaged in front of the net. The little forward was taken to hospital where he will remain for at least a week. Jones' injury is the most serious in the series to date.

Saturday it was another Jones that sunk the Macs. Red-haired Bugs Jones of the Packers scored two goals—the tying and winning—in the third period as the Packers came back from a 3-2 deficit for the win. The winner came with only 17 seconds left in regulation time.

Playing coach Ike Hildebrand, Ed Marineau and Jones counted for the McFarlands, while Bobby Dawes and Brian Roche tallied for the Packers before Bugs Jones counted his big ones.

Referee Charlie Delziel of Montreal held the rough game in check. Eight minor penalties were called to the Packers and seven against Belleville.

Both Gatherum and Belleville netminder Gordie Bell played standout games before the crowd of 3,400. Gatherum blocked 29 shots and Bell 26, many of them from point-blank range.

FIRST PERIOD

1. Belleville Marineau (Brown) 2:38.
2. Belleville B. Jones 15:45.
Penalties: McCallum 5:1, Middleton 7:49. D. Jones served by Montgomery 8:36. Levine 14:36. Agar 14:38.

SECOND PERIOD

4. Belleville Hildebrand (Kowalschuk) 3:17.
5. Kelowna Dawes (Swarbrick, Co-burn) 14:12.
Penalties: Lavell 1:56, Crawford 5:37, Lavell 6:33, Montgomery 7:19, Levine 15:52, Agar 15:23, Lavell 17:44, Levine 18:00.

THIRD PERIOD

6. Kelowna Jones 6:42.
7. Kelowna B. Jones (Durban, Young) 19:43.
Penalties: Jablonski 4:12, Kowalschuk 12:17.

JBAA Seconds Beaten In Island Rugby Final

Victoria Rugby Union action ground to a close at Macdonald Park Saturday when JBAA, first-division club grabbed an firsts hammered out a 19-6 win over JBAA seconds to take the Vancouver Island championship and the Cowichan Cup.

The second-division squad opened fast and romped ahead on tries by Tom Ballard and Charlie Bishop before the short-handed senior team made its move.

On tries by Bob Abbott and Dave Cook and a convert by Gordon Hemingway, the 13-man first-division club grabbed an 8-6 half-time lead and took complete command after the breather.

Cook opened the half with his second try and from then on it was all up to the toe of Hemingway.

He booted a conversion and two penalty kicks, all from difficult angles, to bring his game total to 11 points.

The newly-elected members: Builders—Senator Donat Raymond, Montreal; the late George McNamara, Toronto; George Dudley, Midland, Ont., long-time secretary-manager of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association; the late Jim Norris Sr., Detroit; president Conn Smythe of Toronto Maple Leaf Gardens; Al Pickard, Regina, past president of the CAHA, and Lloyd Turner, Calgary, backer-coach-manager of Western Canada teams.

Players—Centre Frank Boucher, centre-ice smoothie with Ottawa Senators and New York Rangers from 1922 to 1944; defencemen King Clancy, Ottawa and Toronto; the late Sprague Cleghorn of the old Ottawa Senators; Alex Connell, the one-eyed Ottawa fireman and goalkeeper of the old Senators; rambunctious Mervyn (Red) Dutton, Calgary, of Montreal Maroons and New York Americans fame; high-scoring Frank Foyston of Toronto, Victoria and Detroit fame in the 1920; Herb Gardiner, Montreal; the late Dick Irvin, who played for Chicago and coached Toronto and Montreal Canadian teams to Stanley Cups; thumping Ching Johnson of New York Rangers and Americans in the 1920s and 1930s.

FRANK NAMED

Others were Frank Frederickson of Victoria Cougars, Boston and Detroit; George Hay, who had spells with Regina, Detroit, Chicago and Portland; Duke Keats, who returned from the First World War to star with Chicago and other NHL teams; goal-keeper Hugh Lehman, who went to Vancouver from Kitchener to play in eight Stanley Cup finals over an 18-year period after the turn of the century, and Paddy Moran, a great with the old Quebec Bulldogs in the pre-First World War era.

Chairman of the selection committee was an old smoothie, on and off the ice, Lester Patrick of Victoria. The Silver Fox of hockey retired as a player in the mid-20s at 42 years of age and as a player and manager won the Stanley Cup seven times.

Home Runs Feature Babe Ruth League

Victoria's two Babe Ruth Leagues got their 1958 seasons away to rousing starts Sunday with opening-day double-headers at Beacon Hill and Reynolds Road Parks.

Fine weather and opening ceremonies helped attract large crowds and the fans saw some excellent baseball and flashes of home-run power.

Jim Cathro smashed the first home run, polling a two-run blow in the second inning as he paced Optimists to a 9-8 win over Evening Optimists in the first Victoria Babe Ruth League tussle.

In the second game at Beacon Hill, Menzies scored a 5-3 victory over Eagles.

In the Evening Optimists Babe Ruth League at Reynolds Road, IGA hammered out a 9-1 triumph over Patterson Construction in the first game and Bapco followed with an 8-7 win over BOP.

Third-baseman Ray Williams set the hitting pace for Bapco, rapping three hits, including a

Stan Bell Keeps Fivepin Crown

Before taking off for Vancouver and the $23,000 Centennial Fivepin Tournament, Stan Bell took time out Saturday to make sure his Capital City Marathon crown was still firmly set on his brow.

Taking on Harry Smith, Cee McRae and Dave Allen, Bell ripped out an 867 (342) series for his second title in a row and his seventh in eight weeks.

Smith tallied in with a 760 total, McRae had 757 and Allen 569 out of a field of 22.

B.C. Air Crash Still Mystery

OTTAWA (CP)—A board of inquiry has been unable to determine why a Trans-Canada Al. Lines plane was flying low enough to crash into Mount Slesse, B.C., Dec. 9, 1956. All 63 persons aboard were killed.

The transport department today made public the report of the board of inquiry. This report said at one point:

"It was not possible to determine why the aircraft was at an altitude low enough for it to strike Mount Slesse but there is a high degree of probability that the aircraft, while flying on three engines, encountered either severe icing, turbulence, subsidence or a combination of all three, or suffered some other difficulty of such a sudden or dire nature that the crew were unable to communicate with any agency or to control the aircraft."

The report said the two pilots were experienced and the plane was safely loaded and fuelled.

The crew had been given a weather briefing before the flight and weather encountered was as forecast, a fact borne out by crews of other planes.

The TCA North Star, bound for Calgary from Vancouver, developed fire in one engine at 7 p.m., about an hour after takeoff.

The crew shut down the engine and reported they were turning around and descending toward Abbotsford, east of Vancouver. They were in contact with air traffic control concerning the course they would follow just before the crash occurred.

The wreckage was not found until May 12 last year.

SYNAGOGUE AND SCHOOL DYNAMITED BY RACISTS

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—A Jewish synagogue and a Negro school were dynamited early today in this city's first outbreak of racial disorder.

A cache of dynamite placed at the rear of the Jewish Centre blew in windows and doors of the building and shattered windows in homes in the area.

Convention 'Soon' Say B.C. Liberals

VANCOUVER (CP)—A province-wide survey is to be undertaken among Liberal party members and party organizations to determine the "problems and matters affected by government in local areas".

A meeting here of the association's committee of officers ended with release of a statement announcing an "early provincial convention to formulate a new program for the party".

The program, the statement said, "will be based upon a searching examination of British Columbia's problems—economic, financial, industrial and social—at a local level."

"A province-wide survey is to be undertaken among Liberal party members and party organizations to determine the "problems and matters affected by government in local areas".

There was no mention that party leadership would be discussed at the convention. However, the statement quoted provincial leader Arthur Laing as saying:

"It is my opinion that the question of Liberal party leadership in British Columbia should be determined at this early convention."

The meeting also resulted in the appointment of Ray Perreault as party organizer in British Columbia. He takes over from Alistair Fraser and Jock Ross, who were organizers under a temporary arrangement during the last federal election campaign.

William Booth, Salvation Army founder who died in 1912, was an evangelical worker among the poor in Nottingham, England.

Colorful Caravan Gets Big Send-Off

Two-dozen business leaders and private citizens set out from Victoria Sunday in a special historical caravan which is taking them through nine interior communities and up to Prince George.

They left from in front of City Hall at 10 a.m. Among those aboard the special bus is Victoria Chamber of Commerce president Hugh Stephen. Public Works Minister W. N. Chant boarded the bus Sunday afternoon in Vancouver.

"The trip is a re-enactment of the first project of the chamber of commerce here 95 years ago which formed an escort to bring gold down from the Cariboo.

Photostatic copies of the chamber's original minutes, by which the gold escort was formed, are being carried by the touring Victorians. They will be presented to civic dignitaries at centres touched en route.

A 300-year-old "treasure chest" is being carried also. Into it at Barkerville will go a big piece of gold-bearing quartz which will be brought back to Victoria as the keystone in the den fireplace of Lieutenant Governor Frank Ross.

Eight of the travellers are wearing costumes of the past era.

They are scheduled to be back in Victoria May 3-5.

TIRED OF BALL POINTS THAT SKIP?

New Parker t-Ball Jotter Pen is the Answer!

PARKER'S new POROUS t-Ball with TEXTURED surface eliminates practically all skipping! Gives constant traction for fast starting, darker writing, a smooth, controlled touch no slick, slippery solid ball can give.

OUTSIDE—new ball is textured—gives smooth, non-skid writing!

50,000 tiny cups hold ink on ball... exclusive pitted surface gives traction for denser, printed-in writing on practically anything. Even feels different—so smooth—when you write.

INSIDE—new ball is porous—yet harder than solid steel!

Ink flows both around and through new t-Ball... makes more ink available for writing at all times. Holds 166 times as much ink as surface of steel ball can—is longer wearing, too.

Actual Parker t-Ball magnified 95 times

The remarkable new Parker t-Ball Jotter Pen writes right over perspiration marks, grease spots, glossy photographs—anywhere you'd ever have need to write!

That's because of its revolutionary new ball. Textured outside, it literally grabs onto paper... prevents skidding, "running dry" no matter how fast you write. Porous inside, it feeds ink to paper smoothly, constantly, without skipping. Made by a secret Parker process, the t-Ball point is tougher longer-wearing than steel! It writes up to 5 times longer than any other ball points—a cleaner, crisper, more effortless kind of writing, too—different from any ball point writing you've ever seen. The new Parker t-Ball Jotter Pen even feels different in your hand. Try writing with one today!

Writes up to 5 times longer than other ball points!

Compare! Place almost any other ball point refill alongside this lifelike picture of a t-Ball Jotter Pen refill. You will clearly see why t-Ball Jotter writes up to 5 times longer than most other ball points!

New Dam Proposal

POKANE, Wash. (AP)—A U.S. senator has forwarded a plan to the Canadian authorities which would produce an additional 3,000,000 kilowatts of power.

Canada would get all the power produced at Castlegar, he said. Power produced from the stored water at dams on the American side of the Columbia would be split on a 50-50 basis by the two countries. Any part of the Canadian share not needed by the U.S.

Dill, now a lawyer for two county public utility districts, said he has been in touch with Premier Bennett of British Columbia and A. G. L. McNaughton, chairman of the Canadian section of the International Joint Commission.

WINTER GIVES PRAIRIES COMEBACK SPRING KICK

EDMONTON (CP)—Plunging temperatures and north gales turned April showers into near-blizzards on some parts of the Prairies Sunday.

At Yorkton in central Saskatchewan the mercury dropped 15 degrees to 24 above in one hour and visibility in fields near the city was close to zero in blowing snow.

Saskatchewan got the worst of it, with winds gusting up to 40 miles an hour. Most highways were reported icy, and on one snow-swept section east of Saskatoon two persons were killed in a two-vehicle collision. They were unidentified.

$1,000,000 DAMAGE

Peterborough Hotel Razed

PETERBOROUGH, Ont. (CP)—Fire swept through the 100-room Empress Hotel Saturday and firemen from this city and four nearby communities battled 10 hours before bringing it under control.

About 60 persons, including guests and coffee shop customers, escaped uninjured when the alarm sounded Saturday afternoon.

The three-storey building was completely burned out but the fire still smouldered Sunday.

Owner Cyril Fuller of Toronto estimated damage at $1,000,000.

Police and civil defence units were called out to hold back crowds of Saturday shoppers who gathered to watch the flames.

Several firemen were overcome by smoke but there were no serious injuries. All the rooms were searched by masked firemen.

One male guest, in the bathtub when the alarm sounded, ran out of the hotel clad only in a towel, shirt and shoes. Neighboring buildings were threatened at one point but the fire was confined to the hotel.

The blaze is believed to have started in the exhaust fan of the ground-floor coffee shop. The exhaust system spread the flames through the remainder of the building.

COMMISSION TOLD

Bakers Lose Out On Price Boosts

FREDERICTON (CP)—The National Council of the Baking Industry, which says its members produce 80 per cent of Canada's bakery products, today told the royal commission on price spreads there is a widening spread between producer and consumer in the price of bakery products.

But the baker himself is getting none of this larger price spread, council spokesmen said. He was operating on a slim and shrinking profit. Each year about one out of every three bakery companies went into the red.

Prairie growers had proposed a boost in the domestic price of wheat. This was no time for growers to be worrying about the price gap or pressing for a higher wheat price, the spokesmen argued before the royal commission.

ADVERSE EFFECT

Rising costs might lead to higher bread prices. Bakers found that higher prices invariably had "an immediate adverse effect on sales volume."

Farmer-economists believed that over the years the average Canadian will eat less bread, but bakers challenged this. They had already started work on bringing information on the nutritional value of bread before the public.

Bakers would welcome the support of millers and farmers in this work. There was a "danger" of wheat growers taking their markets for granted.

PROFITS DECREASE

The bakers' brief, first to be submitted to the commission in its Atlantic sittings, estimated that though the consumer is spending an increasing amount of money on bakery products, the industry's average net profit in 1955 amounted only to 2.01 per cent of the sales dollar, down from 3.27 per cent in 1948.

In the 1935-56 period, bakery sales in Canada rose to $306,805,000 from $59,401,000.

Life of Christ Shown on Movie To Church Group

A silent film of the life of Christ, made by Cecil B. de Mille in 1926, was shown at a meeting of the Mothers' Union at St. George the Martyr, Caddboro Bay, Saturday night.

The film bears the title "The King of Kings" but names of the cast were withheld because, at the time it was made, many churches did not approve of biblical characters being impersonated on the screen.

The performance was organized by Mrs. R. H. Lack, chairman of St. George's Mothers' Union. The projectionist was F. J. Staghall.

Which girl has the TONI?

Long hair styles... short hair styles... all hair styles look better with a Toni. That's because Toni gives the basic permanent all hair needs for styling manageability. So whether your preference is for the modern soufflé or your present hairdo, begin with a Toni - the world's most popular home permanent. Which girl has the Toni? Both have, and they can change their hairdo's as often as they change their minds.

Having a home permanent is no trick at all with TONI'S Double-Easy Applicator

Why, you're an expert right from the start! That's because Toni's Double-Easy Applicator accurately measures waving lotion, then neutralizes where hands can't reach. Having a Toni is easier than you ever dreamed possible. And you're sure of soft, even adaptable waves every time.

Pretty pink plastic applicator has sponge top, just curl width. Spreads lotion smoothly. Won't splash or drip.

One easy stroke wets every tress clear through. No combing needed. Never too much lotion - never too little.

Sponge comes off. See those eight spray-tips? They spray neutralizer inside each curl - where hands can't reach.

Now, the spray-tips are inside the curl. Front Neutralizer flows in and waving action stops. Most thorough neutralizing ever.

SOLUTION WEDNESDAY

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by club readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes. The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Joel Grossman, aged 13, of Bridgeport, Conn., for his question:

How Do They Make Bricks?

Old Mother Earth provided us with plenty of material to make bricks. For bricks are made from mud, or rather from clay, which is a form of mud. Just the right amount of sand is added to the recipe and heat is needed to bake it. Brick making is the adult version of making mud pies.

The simplest bricks are, in fact no more than mud pies. The wet clay or mud is packed into molds and left to dry in the sun. The result is a row of sturdy adobe bricks. Adobe buildings are fine in warm, dry climates. But these glorified mud pies tend to crack in the frost and melt in the rain.

Mankind learned how to improve his bricks by baking them at least 6,000 years ago. When the mud bricks are baked for a long time in a very hot oven the soft clay goes through chemical changes. It fuses into hard, solid brick, a substance which refuses to melt and will not crack from the frost. Some of the oven-baked bricks made in old Babylon 6,000 years ago are still in existence.

Clay for making bricks is composed of aluminum and silicates. These substances are very plentiful, indeed. The clay needs to be fairly fine and there are usually impurities which add color to the finished product. When iron is present in the clay the baked bricks have a rosy color. Lime or chalk add yellow or saffron to the bricks.

The clay is sifted to remove pebbles and debris. Sand is added or the bricks would be weak and crumble. Sometimes anthracite coal dust is added to help the burning process. Finally the wonderful ingredients are mixed with water and kneaded into a stiff paste.

The individual mud pies are made by a machine. The stiff paste is squeezed into columns and the columns are sliced by wires. A big brick-making machine can slice 300,000 bricks a day.

Bricks Bake by Millions

The bricks are then stacked onto wagons and sent through a drying tunnel. This takes a day and a night, during which time each brick loses a pound of moisture. Now the little mud pies are ready to be baked in an oven called a kiln. This process takes many days and thousands, perhaps millions, of bricks are baked together. The heat is built up slowly over several days. The kiln must reach a temperature of at least 2,000 degrees Fahrenheit. Then the heat is lowered gradually, for the cooling process is slow. It is several days before the bricks are ready to come out of their oven.

Bricks may be piled around a fire to form their own kiln. This is a very slow job and may

Federal Troops Leave Little Rock School

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Federal troops were absent from Central High School during class hours Friday for the first time since the 2,000 pupil school was integrated Sept. 25. The Arkansas military district said the temporary withdrawal was part of a policy to restore normal conditions at the school.

TOPSOIL PRECIOUS

An inch of topsoil takes three to 10 centuries to build, but it can wash away in a single storm. Vegetation breaks the force of rains, prevents splash erosion, and retards runoff.

RUSSIAN FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH

MOSCOW (Reuters) — A bushy-bearded farmer with a daughter 120 years old will soon be celebrating his 150th birthday, the Moscow evening newspaper Vechnersaya Moska said Sunday.

He claims to have 163 descendants including 12 great-great-grandchildren.

He is honorary chairman of the "Young Communists" on a collective farm where most of his family work.

The newspaper said he thinks nothing of walking or riding several miles around the orchards which he himself planted about 130 years ago.

Billy Graham Denounces 'Pill' Age

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Twenty-three thousand people overflowed the Cow Palace Sunday to hear Billy Graham, opening his west coast crusade, exhorting the age as one trying tranquilizers instead of God.

"We are taking tranquilizer pills to quiet us, sleeping pills to put us to sleep, benzadrine to wake us up in the morning and aspirin in between," the North Carolina evangelist said. "Our generation needs God more than any generation in history... Psychiatrists are doing such a big business that they are going to each other for help."

Jackie Rae Signs For TV in Britain

TORONTO (CP) — CBC television performer Jackie Rae, has signed a 52-week contract with Britain's independent Granada television network. Mr. Rae, a variety performer, will leave Toronto at the end of May. His first show will probably be early in July.

ROBERT TAYLOR DOES HIS JOB WELL

'Nicest Guy in Show Business'

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "You gotta do a story on Robert Taylor, the nicest guy in the picture business," said Joe Pasternak. "He stays out of trouble, he does his job and does it well, and the crew loves him."

The fact that Pasternak was producing a picture with Taylor and Cyd Charisse called Party Girl had no—well, almost no—bearing on his demand.

Joe is persuasive. When he mentioned this was Taylor's 75th picture, that was the clincher. Any guy who can make 75 movies, nearly all of them on one lot, and remain under contract into his 25th year is news.

It isn't hard to locate Bob. Any lunch hour when he is working he can be found at the same place at the same table in the MGM commissary.

HERE 20 YEARS

"Been sitting here over 20 years," he reflected when I found him there. "The ranks are thinning out now, but it used to be fun when we had such guys at this table as Clark Gable, Spence Tracy, Vic Fleming, Scott Fitzgerald. I'm about the only one left. I guess that makes me the grand old man."

He certainly looks like no old-timer. The handsome Taylor looks are still there, and he looks even younger now that he is sporting a moustache again for the first time in years.

"It was Joe's idea to wear it," he said. "I shaved it off years ago because it was just too much trouble to keep up. And it's going right off as soon as the picture is over. My wife hates it."

Bob joined MG in February of 1934. That makes him the record-holder among stars for longevity at a studio.

"I've got two years to go at the studio but I may get out before that. I don't suppose it would be hard for anyone to get out of a studio contract these days, except maybe Liz Taylor and Ava Gardner. The studios seem more anxious to be free of term deals so they can buy talent for each picture."

"This MGM bunch is great to work for, always has been. I'd never want to sever my connections completely. But when you have no contract, you have a wider range of scripts to choose from."

I mentioned the vast amounts of money Gable has been able to make since he left MGM. Certainly Bob could also have made more dough on the outside.

"Maybe so," he said. "But you can't be sure. Now Clark can make any deal he wants; so can Dyke Wayne and Marlon Brando and maybe Burt Lancaster if he chose to work away from his own firm. But the rest of us, I'm not so sure about."

"I've been just as happy to have that cheque coming in every week."

Aged House Sparkles As Jaycees Clean-Up

Volunteer labor Saturday went to work on the home of Mrs. Lynne Turley, 1451 Hillside, highlighting the two-week long clean-up campaign of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The group of 30 painters, roofers and Jaycees started work at 9 a.m. and by 2.30 p.m. had the house painted, a fence erected and the garden tilled. Roofing work will be completed later this week.

"We just want to show people what can be done with an older house," said project chairman Roy Baker.

"It was just wonderful," said Mrs. Turley who lives there with her sister, Mrs. Lauree Boulton. "We are most grateful and most thrilled. We couldn't have afforded it and we couldn't have done it ourselves."

Much of the volunteer labor came from the painters' union.

Doukhobor Parents Win Back Son Held in Hospital at Vancouver

FROM CP DISPATCHES

NELSON, B.C.—Magistrate William Evans agreed Friday to return an ailing 11-year-old boy to the custody of his Sons of Freedom Doukhobor parents after they undertook to send him to school and permit him to have medical treatment.

The boy had been in the dormitory school at New Denver, B.C., because his parents refused to send him to school.

The magistrate was told the boy has been in a Vancouver hospital awaiting delicate lung surgery for removal of a growth but the parents repeatedly refused to authorize the operation. A doctor testified the boy might live 10 or 20 years with aid of modern drugs if he was not given surgical treatment but he would be subject to repeated attacks of pneumonia.

ARMY FOR 'PUNKS'

VANCOUVER — A leading Anglican clergyman said Sunday Vancouver would be a better place if its delinquent youths — "the punks" — were given compulsory military service.

Dean Northcote Burke told his congregation at a special B.C. centennial service: "I am inclined to say there should be compulsory military service. Take the punks around here and give them the benefit of this training and discipline and it would make for a better city."

FATALITY CHARGE

VANCOUVER — A 47-year-old man was charged with impaired driving after one of two fatal accidents Saturday night which resulted in the death of three persons.

William Calvert, of Vancouver, was charged after his car collided with a sports car, killing a passenger, Fay de Groot, 20. The driver of the sports car, Christian Weigl, 23, escaped with face and hand cuts.

Less than an hour later, two men were killed when their car missed a turn and spun end over end into a ditch, at nearby Richmond. They were identified as Rudolph Cornies, of North Surrey, and Gordon Raby, of Richmond. Walter

Beal, a third man in the car, is in only fair condition in hospital.

ALERT BAY — Indians here are being given a 20th century assist in carrying out their centennial project of refurbishing totem poles in the Indian cemetery.

The Indians themselves have renovated and repainted the poles, considered some of the finest in existence, but they are being re-erected by B.C. Power Commission crews using a line truck boom. Already they have set seven poles in place.

Jack Davies, B.C.P.C. district manager at Alert Bay, said some of the poles measured 60 feet in length.

Another portion of the centennial project is the building of a museum and library behind St. George's Chapel and adjacent to the cemetery.

New Roof For Hall Completed

SOOKE — A roof on Shirley Institute Hall has been completed as the district's centennial project, Mrs. M. A. Perron reported to Sooke Centennial Committee.

She gave credit to Peter Pedneault, Ivan French and E. Robinson for their volunteer services on the job.

Eric Butler, committee chairman, said more volunteer workers are needed for the Sooke project of constructing bath houses and improving swimming facilities at Sooke River flats.

On Saturday the B.C. historic caravan will be at Sooke Community Hall, and tea will be served at the hall from 2 to 5 p.m. by the "Smokettes," auxiliary to Sooke Volunteer Fire Department.

A dance will be held at the hall in the evening, with arrangements to be made by Sooke Community Association and Sooke and North Sooke Women's Institute.

Diver Finds Missing Car

CAMPBELL RIVER — A car missing from Courtenay for a month was pulled from 40 feet of water at the end of the Argonaut Mines wharf Friday.

Property of John Thompson, Cumberland, it was reported missing from the Riverside Hotel parking lot in Courtenay March 23 or 24.

ISLAND DIGEST

18 Victoria Daily Times MONDAY, APRIL 28, 1958

HAZARD COMES EARLY

Logging Firms Push Fire Control Plans

Faced with the prospect of less than normal precipitation, and higher-than-average temperatures this month, major logging operators on Vancouver Island and the lower mainland have put their forest fire control machinery in operation two weeks ahead of their normal schedule.

Though the fire season in B.C. does not open officially until May 1, loggers alerted by long-range weather forecasts had activated their private fire-fighting organizations by mid-April.

For the general public the opening of the fire season, which extends from May 1 to Oct. 31, means that for the next six months special regulations will be in effect which concern everybody using the woods either for business or pleasure.

FOREST FIRE LAW

Briefly summarized, the Forest Fire Law requires that, during the season, permits must be obtained from the local forest officer, or other authorized person, before starting any campfire, clearing fire or industrial fire within half a mile of any forest or woodland. Under the law it is illegal to build any campfire within 10 feet of any log, stump, snag or standing tree. All inflammable material must be cleared away for a distance of three feet in every direction from the edge of every campfire, and every campfire must be totally extinguished before leaving.

Violations of the provincial fire law may bring fines ranging from $25 to $300 or imprisonment for up to two years. Penalties are also provided for any persons entering the woods when they have been closed to travel by order of the Forest Branch.

PENALTY PROVIDED

Violations of the provincial fire law may bring fines ranging from $25 to $300 or imprisonment for up to two years. Penalties are also provided for any persons entering the woods when they have been closed to travel by order of the Forest Branch.

March Lumber Shipments Hit 14,977,500 Feet

CHEMAINUS — A total of 14,977,500 board feet of lumber was shipped from the local ports of Chemainus and Crofton last month.

Also shipped to various overseas markets from B.C. Forest Products pulp mill at Crofton was 5,383 tons of pulp. Lumber shipments in firm were: United Kingdom, 5,720,000; U.S.A., 4,495,000; South Africa, 3,687,698; Australia, 99,000; Rhodesia, 76,304.

Pulp shipments from Crofton included: Korea, 721 tons; United Kingdom, 882 tons; U.S.A., 3,400 tons; Venezuela, 380 tons.

Other exports last month included 19 tons of clams and 992 tons of pulp chips.

FAMILY HOMELESS

6 Escape Fire As Home Gutted

ALBERNI (CP) — A family of six was left homeless Sunday night when fire destroyed their two-story home 3½ miles north of here.

The eight-room house was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Bodnar, who with their four children were housed with relatives overnight.

Mr. Bodnar and three of the children were in the house when the fire was discovered in an upstairs closet between two bedrooms.

The father carried one of the children, sick in bed, outside.

The other two got out themselves. Mrs. Bodnar was out shopping and another child was playing outside.

Volunteers formed a bucket brigade, but the house and most of its contents were lost. The loss was partially covered by insurance.

Lashing Line Kills Logger

CAMPBELL RIVER (CP) — Walter Dwinski, 35, of Vancouver was killed Saturday when hit by a lashing haulback line at a Port Neville logging camp, about 60 miles northeast of here.

He was employed as a choker-man at Imperial Logging Company operations.

Inner Harbor Bowl Formed Amphitheatre for Historic Pageant of Gold Rush Ship Arrival

Rough 'n Ready Ruffians Land To Find Friendly Natives Galore

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

Orange smoke belching from the tall black funnel of the reconstructed paddle steamer Ss. Commodore, as she entered Victoria's Inner Harbor Saturday afternoon, sent a thrill through most of the 15,000 to 20,000 Victorians gathered to welcome her.

The applause, it is true, was not as enthusiastic as it could be, but for Victoria at least, the reception given to the province's first gold rush ship of 1858 was a hearty one.

As the Commodore's black nose edged around the corner of the harbor basin, I went tense, expecting a full-throated roar from the crowds jamming the Causeway.

Alas... the crescendo didn't come. We heard only the patter of many hands, like rain on a tin roof.

Real Thrill

Yet for many, I'm sure, the appearance of the old pioneer ship bringing bearded gold-seekers and their gay ladies from San Francisco must have been a real thrill.

It was a forceful re-enactment of the gold fever which hit Victoria just 100 years ago.

Crowding the decks of the Commodore (actually the reconverted HMCS Cedarwood) were some 60 miners—fierce looking ruffians, carrying picks, packs and pistols.

A band of Cowichan Indians led by Chief Mike Underwood greeted the Commodore's appearance in the harbor with a savage song that would have chilled the hearts of pioneers in days gone by.

And then, as a sharp reminder of the present, three Avengers of the Royal Canadian Navy, roared overhead at discreet heights of 500 feet.

The Commodore maintained her historic poise, flying both the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes, as she was escorted into the harbor by a flotilla of tugs and small sea craft.

Burning Redwood

CBC announcer Bill Herbert, whose commentary was relayed through a loud-speaker system, informed the populace that the orange-red smoke from the Commodore's funnels came from redwood trees burning below.

No one believed him, since the modern-day Commodore is known to be diesel-powered but the crowd accepted his explanation in the spirit of the occasion.

"The rush is on," said Mr.

Herbert. "We are trying to preserve, with historical accuracy a scene that occurred here 100 years ago."

As he spoke, two stowaways—RCN Lieutenants John Murison and Al Booth—jumped from the Commodore into the chilly waters of the harbor and swam ashore.

Brave Pioneers

"There go two of our brave pioneers, leaping to freedom in a promised land," commented Mr. Herbert.

Flanked by tugs, Indian canoes and assorted small craft, the Commodore moved gracefully into the harbor, within range of a battery of cameras—professional and amateur—lining the edge of the Causeway.

Thousands of spectators spilled over the green lawns of the Empress, while hundreds more packed the hotel balconies, and many guests enjoyed a grandstand view from their bedroom windows.

Carnival Air

Mingling with the crowds along the Causeway were bearded Sikhs, song-voiced Chinese, burly young Canadians with beards and sideburns, and hundreds of teenagers—the boys in colored shirts and blue jeans, the girls in flowered skirts and ballet shoes.

Children scampered in and out of the crowds and a dog which had lost its master raced up and down the sidewalk sniffing eagerly at anyone who might have a familiar smell.

It was all part of the carnival atmosphere. The pounding of Indian tom-toms—that wondrously exciting sound—greeted the arrival of the gold-rush boys.

No Cold Shoulder

Unlike their historic predecessors—they were given, not the cold shoulder, but a dignified welcome from such leading citizens as L. J. Wallace, chairman of the B.C. Centennial Committee; Mayor Percy Scurrell, Public Works Minister W. N. Chant (representing Premier Bennett); and Sir James Douglas in the person of Victoria baritone John Dunbar.

They were greeted also by Percy Ross, ex-chief of the Songreese tribe, and Padre William Hills as the voice of Vancouver Island's clergy, past and present.

Said Sir James Douglas: "You showed great courage and imagination in coming here. This is not an easy land for the white man, though the Indians have known it and found it good, and the trappers have known it and found it rich."

A Vancouver man, charged his plea to guilty in Victoria county court today when charged with breaking, entering and stealing cigarettes from the IGA Foodliner at 3475 Quadra on Feb. 19.

The man, Ronald Dale Haas, was committed for trial in Saanich police court last Thursday by Magistrate H. C. Hall.

The hearing in county court was adjourned until next Thursday at 10.30 a.m. for a probation report.

A rummage sale will be held by Victoria Theatre Guild on Saturday at the CCF Hall, Courtney Street, opening at 8.30 a.m. Proceeds will be used to purchase a coffee urn and make repairs to the Langham Court Theatre.

Anyone wishing to donate articles can phone Mrs. F. W. Bayliss, 4-6647; Mrs. Jerry Gosley, 2-7792; Mrs. Neil Magrath, 3-0233 or Mrs. Harry Hollins, 3-5998.

Capt. G. A. Veeres will speak on "Random Thoughts on World Events" at a joint Victoria and Camosun Gyrlo Club meeting tonight at 6 in the Crystal Garden.

... AND FAR ON INTO THE NIGHT

Empty beer bottles floating in the Inner Harbor Sunday bore mute testimony to the revels which followed the arrival of the gold ship Commodore.

Dancing along the Causeway continued until early hours of Sunday morning. And later in the day hundreds of people walked the decks of the Commodore taking pictures of her historic gear.

Many posed for pictures in front of the small cannon on the top deck which was fired when the Commodore entered the harbor Saturday afternoon.

Ex-Chief Ross declared: "One hundred years ago we were not so sure of you. But there were so many of you there was nothing we could do... In the century that has just passed British Columbia has become a great province for both of us."

Works Minister Chant said: "You have worthy descendants here today. There are still great secrets to be uncovered and great wealth to be gained by courage and exploration."

"This is still the land of promise."

Mayor Scurrell introduced Rodney Doerr, vice president of San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, who said:

"I bring you greetings and good wishes from an admiring neighbor south of the border."

Ceremonies over the visitors were taken for a ride by horse and carriage around Birdcage Walk and the Legislative Buildings back to the Empress Hotel where they were entertained by Mr. Wallace and the B.C. Centennial Committee in the approved style.

The usual deadly restraint of the hotel lounge was shattered when the bearded miners and their gay ladies paraded through the tea and crumpet devotees.

"We've been coming to the Empress for years but we've never seen anything as lively as this," commented Joseph Frickner of San Francisco, sitting with his wife, a cheerful grey-haired lady, in the lounge.

"We used to think of Victoria as a city where nothing ever happened, but it seems we have under-estimated the old place."

SMALL PREVIEW OF FLEET REVIEW

Unofficial 'Escort Squadron' Clung to Churning Commodore

By MONTE ROBERTS

Viewed from seaward, the arrival of Ss. Commodore Saturday was at once impressive, exciting, and amusing.

The massed thousands of spectators; the sleek, slim Indian canoes; the snarling speedboats; the plodding rowboats; and the roaring planes seemed to fill land, sea, and air.

I was aboard an RCN harborcraft which acted as an unobtrusive escort to the Commodore. We left Esquimalt harbor 15 minutes ahead of the gold ship, and waited for her to "steam" by for the benefit of press and movie photographers.

BRAVE BONE

At a point about halfway between the harbor entrance and Race Rocks, the ex-Cedarwood huffed past us, churning along with her simulated paddle wheels flailing, and a brave bone in her teeth.

This was her one turn of speed during the whole voyage, because small craft began attaching themselves to her like limpets to a stone.

First there was one small outboard crossing close under her bow, an amateur photographer snapping away; then another outboard came close alongside; then a small cabin cruiser; then a stately yacht, sails furled, running under power.

SMALL BOATS

By the time Commodore reached the turn at the Bapco Paint wharf, she had upwards of 30 small craft in her unofficial escort squadron—not counting the war canoes manned by Indians.

Thus any intention of entering the harbor at speed was abandoned. However, the Commodore held to her original course, and did not attempt to alter course to avoid the small craft.

As one observer aboard the harborcraft put it: "This may be only a small preview of what will happen during the Centennial year fleet review."

MICHAEL ROGERS

City Singer Wins Big-Time Opera Chance

Victoria tenor Michael Rogers Sunday night was headed one of the biggest plums in musical career opportunities on the Pacific Coast.

At Spokane, Wash., he was named winner of the second annual San Francisco Opera Company Debut Auditions for the Pacific Northwest Area.

On May 25 he will go to San Francisco to compete against two other regional finalists. Two of these three will then be selected to appear as soloists in an orchestral concert in August with the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra.

From that point the winners would presumably be eligible for a contract with the San Francisco Opera Company.

"Mickey" as he is generally known in Victoria and Vancouver, had a principal part in the Theatre-Under-the-Stars production of "The Student Prince" last summer and also understudied Robert Rounceville in the lead in that operetta.

He has been a successful entrant in music festivals in this area and has sung leads with the Victoria Gilbert and Sullivan Operatic Society.

Younger son of Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Rogers, 2080 Cabbro Bay Road, he has a brother Del who is also a well-known singer, is married and has a three-year-old son.

His Victoria teachers have been Madam Lugin Fahey and, currently, Mrs. Mary Wood.

TUESDAY MEETINGS

Victoria Electric Club: 12.05 p.m., Monterey Restaurant. A film on fishing boats will be shown.

Kiwanis: 12.10 p.m., Empress Hotel. Deputy Minister of Recreation and Conservation Dr. David Turner speaks on "Recreation."

North Kiwanis: 6.15 p.m., Monterey Restaurant.

Flames Destroy Mill Bay House

$15,000 Home Levelled While Owners at Work

A $15,000 home, built just two years ago, was destroyed by fire near Mill Bay this morning while the occupants, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chance, were at work.

Phoned by neighbors, Mr. Chance rushed five miles from B.C. Cement Works at Bamerton in time to see his home consumed by flames.

He had refused an offer of $17,000 for it two weeks ago. Mr. Chance said the loss was partially covered by insurance.

SEEN BY NEIGHBORS

The house, on Killipie Road one mile north of Mill Bay, was burning brightly at 10 a.m. when first noticed by neighbors on Fortune Road.

Burned-out telephone lines delayed a call to Mill Bay volunteer fire department.

Firemen arrived a half-hour later as some neighbors were retrieving a rowboat from the basement.

They had attempted a second trip into the building, but fell back as beams began to collapse.

FEW MINUTES LATE

"If we had arrived seven or eight minutes sooner before the fire broke through the roof, we might have saved it," fireman George Hauk said.

As it was, the firemen were "chased out" in two minutes, he said.

"It was too late to do anything but watch it burn."

The firemen answered the call, although the house was about a mile out of their territory, near the Killipie Indian Reserve.

Wiring Job At Dockyard To City Firm

A $66,585 contract for rehabilitation of the electrical distribution system at HMC Dockyard has been awarded to Peterson Electrical Construction Co. Ltd. of 2300 Douglas Street, it was announced in Ottawa today.

The company already has made a start on the job, expected to take about six months to complete and to give steady employment to five or six men.

Cost of Extending Flower Baskets To Be Studied

A study of the cost of extending flower baskets on main city streets to the whole downtown area served by cluster light standards was ordered by city parks committee today.

The step was taken after the committee tabled a request for flower baskets to be put up on Broad between Yates and Johnson.

City Manager C. C. Wyatt recommended that no "piece-meal" extension be undertaken by the city.

"If the merchants want it and are willing to pay the bill, they should be allowed to have the flower baskets," Ald. D. J. Proudfoot said in urging the study.

Premier Extends Mystery Holiday

Premier W. A. C. Bennett has extended his vacation for a third week, reporters were told today.

The premier announced on April 11 he was departing for two weeks, but kept his destination secret. It was reported later he took passage in a ship leaving for California.

SNAP HOLDUP

Photographers In 'Bang-Up' Tour by Bus

Eighth annual convention of the Professional Photographers' Association of B.C. got off to a "bang-up" start Sunday.

While the 83 photographers and their wives were touring the area in the afternoon, a bevy of "holdup" men—actually the Colwood Trail Riders—stopped the two buses at Prospect and Burnside.

Delegates were ordered out of buses, under "guns" of the westerners, and searched.

"Some of the ladies thought it was the real thing," said a convention spokesman.

VICTORIA SPEAKER

Among speakers today was Victoria's Ken McAllister, who dealt with classical portraiture in relation to photography, and Bob Parker, Burian, Wash., one of the outstanding "glamour" photographers of North America. He demonstrated how to take glamour photographs with the minimum of props.

The Georgian Lounge in the Empress where sessions are held through Tuesday have an outstanding display of photographs covering a wide subject range.

Trophy awards will be presented winners in the various classifications at the annual banquet Tuesday night. Professor Anthony Emery, Times columnist, will be guest speaker.

The association was started in Victoria 10 years ago, and two years later broadened to encompass professionals in the field from throughout B.C.

President is R. L. Solby of Victoria.

Allan B. Readman, 1141 Tolle, was remanded for election to Tuesday when he appeared in city police court Saturday charged with theft of a car radio valued over $50.

The radio was reported stolen April 12 from Jamieson Motors, 740 Broughton.

A hungry thief took two frying chickens and a box of wieners after breaking into Avenue Grocery, 2725 Rock Bay, overnight Friday.

Police said entry was by means of breaking a front door pane. Drawers were searched in the premises, but only the food appeared stolen.

An upstairs resident said he heard a noise about 2 a.m., looked out and saw a young man walk away with a box under his arm.

Victoria branch, Institute of Power Engineers, will meet Tuesday in the BCE's Flame Room at 7.30 p.m.

Guest speaker will be J. L. Weir who will deal with boiler feedwater pumps for small plants.

A public showing of three films on mental health is scheduled tonight at 8 in Christ Church Memorial Hall. The show is sponsored by the Victoria branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association as part of Mental Health Week which opens today.

I was aboard an RCN harborcraft which acted as an unobtrusive escort to the Commodore. We left Esquimalt harbor 15 minutes ahead of the gold ship, and waited for her to "steam" by for the benefit of press and movie photographers.

BRAVE BONE

At a point about halfway between the harbor entrance and Race Rocks, the ex-Cedarwood huffed past us, churning along with her simulated paddle wheels flailing, and a brave bone in her teeth.

This was her one turn of speed during the whole voyage, because small craft began attaching themselves to her like limpets to a stone.

First there was one small outboard crossing close under her bow, an amateur photographer snapping away; then another outboard came close alongside; then a small cabin cruiser; then a stately yacht, sails furled, running under power.

SMALL BOATS

By the time Commodore reached the turn at the Bacco Point wharf, she had upwards of 30 small craft in her unofficial escort squadron—not counting the war canoes manned by Indians.

Thus any intention of entering the harbor at speed was abandoned. However, the Commodore held to her original course, and did not attempt to alter course to avoid the small craft.

As one observer aboard the harborcraft put it: "This may be only a small preview of what will happen during the Centennial year fleet review."

MICHAEL ROGERS

City Singer Wins Big-Time Opera Chance

Victoria tenor Michael Rogers Sunday night was handed one of the biggest plums in musical career opportunities on the Pacific Coast.

At Spokane, Wash., he was named winner of the second annual San Francisco Opera Company Debut Auditions for the Pacific Northwest Area.

On May 25 he will go to San Francisco to compete against two other regional finalists.

Two of these three will then be selected to appear as soloists in an orchestral concert in August with the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra.

From that point the winners would presumably be eligible for a contract with the San Francisco Opera Company.

"Mickey" as he is generally known in Victoria and Vancouver, had a principal part in the Theatre-Under-the-Stars production of "The Student Prince" last summer, and also understudied Roubert Rounceville in the lead in that opera.

He has been a successful entrant in music festivals in this area and has sung leads with the Victoria Gilbert and Sullivan Operatic Society.

Younger son of Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Rogers, 2080 Cadboro Bay Road, he has a brother Del who is also a well-known singer, is married and has a three-year-old son.

His Victoria teachers have been Madam Lugin Fahney and, currently, Mrs. Mary Wood.

TUESDAY MEETINGS

Victoria Electric Club: 12.05 p.m., Monterey Restaurant. A film on fishing boats will be shown.

Kiwanis: 12.10 p.m., Empress Hotel. Deputy Minister of Recreation and Conservation Dr. David Turner speaks on "Recreation."

Flames Destroy Mill Bay House

$15,000 Home Levelled While Owners at Work

A $15,000 home, built just two years ago, was destroyed by fire near Mill Bay this morning while the occupants, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chance, were at work.

Phoned by neighbors, Mr. Chance rushed five miles from B.C. Cement Works at Bamerton in time to see his home consumed by flames.

He had refused an offer of $17,000 for it two weeks ago. Mr. Chance said the loss was partially covered by insurance.

SEEN BY NEIGHBORS

The house, on Killip Road one mile north of Mill Bay, was burning brightly at 10 a.m. when first noticed by neighbors on Fortune Road.

Burned-out telephone lines delayed a call to Mill Bay volunteer fire department.

Firemen arrived a half-hour later as some neighbors were retrieving a rowboat from the basement.

They had attempted a second trip into the building, but fell back as beams began to collapse.

FEW MINUTES LATE

"If we had arrived seven or eight minutes sooner before the fire broke through the roof, we might have saved it," fireman George Hauk said.

As it was, the firemen were "chased out" in two minutes, he said.

"It was too late to do anything but watch it burn." The firemen answered the call, although the house was about a mile out of their territory, near the Killip Indian Reserve.

Wiring Job At Dockyard To City Firm

A $66,585 contract for rehabilitation of the electrical distribution system at HMC Dockyard has been awarded to Peterson Electrical Construction Co. Ltd. of 2300 Douglas Street. It was announced in Ottawa today.

The company already has made a start on the job, expected to take about six months to complete and to give steady employment to five or six men.

Cost of Extending Flower Baskets To Be Studied

A study of the cost of extending flower baskets on main city streets to the whole downtown area served by cluster light standards was ordered by city parks committee today.

The step was taken after the committee tabled a request for flower baskets to be put up on Broad between Yates and Johnson.

City Manager C. C. Wyatt recommended that no "piecemeal" extension be undertaken by the city.

"If the merchants want it and are willing to pay the bill, they should be allowed to have the flower baskets," Ald. D. J. Proudfoot said in urging the study.

Premier Extends Mystery Holiday

Premier W. A. C. Bennett has extended his vacation for a third week, reporters were told today.

The premier announced on April 11 he was departing for two weeks, but kept his destination secret. It was reported later he took passage in a ship leaving for California.

SNAP HOLDUP

Photographers In 'Bang-Up' Tour by Bus

Eighth annual convention of the Professional Photographers' Association of B.C. got off to a "bang-up" start Sunday.

While the 83 photographers and their wives were touring the area in the afternoon, a bevy of "holdup" men—actually the Colwood Trail Riders—stopped the two buses at Prospect and Burnside.

Delegates were ordered out of buses, under "guns" of the westerners, and searched.

VICTORIA SPEAKER

Among speakers today was Victoria's Ken McAllister, who dealt with classical portraiture in relation to photography, and Bob Parker, Burian, Wash., one of the outstanding "glamour" photographers of North America. He demonstrated how to take glamour photographs with the minimum of props.

The Georgian Lounge in the Empress where sessions are held through Tuesday have an outstanding display of photographs covering a wide subject range.

Trophy awards will be presented winners in the various classifications at the annual banquet Tuesday night. Professor Anthony Emery, Times columnist, will be guest speaker. The association was started in Victoria 10 years ago, and two years later broadened to encompass professionals in the field from throughout B.C.

President is R. L. Solby of Victoria.

... didn't speak right

Immigrant Beaten Up On Street

New Canadian Roland Drescher, 19, was the victim of a street corner beating by two youths Saturday night because he "didn't speak like a Canadian."

His brother Peter, who went to help in the scuffle, had his $50 coat stolen during the fight.

Roland, of 1414 Gladstone, was treated at St. Joseph's Hospital for a severe but over his right eye and today went to his job at a downtown store with a black patch covering the eye.

The victim said he and his brother were walking along Government after a street dance on the Causeway at about 11.25 p.m.

At Fort three young men all well dressed, came up and one slapped Roland.

"They put the boots to my eye," he said.

"They just go out and try to find someone who isn't from Victoria or who doesn't speak like Canadians."

He said only two were actually involved in the attack.

The youths were described as being both over 6 feet tall. "I called to Peter to help me, and he took off his coat and went after them," Drescher said.

Police arrived and took the immigrant to hospital and Peter went back to get his coat. It was gone.

"They (the attackers) took it away," Roland said.

3 INJURED IN TRAFFIC

Three persons were admitted to hospital as a result of injuries received in Sunday automobile accidents in Greater Victoria.

Mrs. Isobel Clevette, 55, of 920 Easter, was admitted to St. Joseph's with neck and back injuries as a result of a collision of two cars at Bay and Government at 2 a.m.

Norman L. Nantes, 37, of 1037 Pendergast, was admitted to St. Joseph's with an arm injury after the car he was driving overturned while attempting a turn at Rockland and St. Charles at 3.35 a.m.

At 4.15 a.m. a car in which Jenny Cardin, 39, of 36 Midwood, was riding crashed into a bridge abutment on Helmecken Road. The woman suffered hip and chest injuries.

Small Volt-Full Gadget
Speeds Up Tired Razors!

By PENNY SAVER

Men! Is your electric razor getting slower and slower so that everytime you shave it nearly stops! Don't glare at it. Don't grow a beard because of it. Read on! I've found a little gadget that, when plugged into your tired razor, increases its voltage and gives it new life. It's compact and easy to use. You can leave it in the electric outlet after you've finished your shaving. Best of all this marvellous little contraption is priced at $7.95.

Here's something that is almost as good as brushing your hair 200 times a day! It's a plastic scalp scratcher (please use in private) that will increase functions of hair glands and skin tissues and bring extra life to otherwise tired and sluggish scalps.

Mothers with long-haired daughters will be happy to know that this 25 cent item also removes tangles in locks faster than a dozen combs used all at once!

Picture snapping time! With all the centennial celebrations under way and the weather so fine—get busy, my friend, with your camera! Souvenir pictures can be taken that you'll cherish forever with the nifty little movie camera I've discovered in town. It's simple to handle and inexpensive to run.

Another good feature I discovered about this camera is the quality of picture it will take. A dial on the side determines whether the subject is in average-hazy light, sunny or cloudy light. A wonderful buy at $29.95.

Don't let those grey hairs get you down! There is a new anti-grey cream now that's a tonic as well as a tint. This wonderful cream is selling at $3 a jar.

If you're dying to know where I shopped this morning, give me a ring on the phone at 2-3131. I'll be happy to tell you!

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

To Expedite Beauty Efforts
Have Your 'Tools' Handy

There is nothing quite so frustrating to a busy woman as lack of equipment with which to carry out her tasks. After weeks of delay you may finally find a few moments in which to write some long-delayed personal letters. You go to your desk and sit down to write. The pen is gone or it is out of ink or someone has moved your stationery.

Perhaps you find time to do some mending. You get out your sewing basket, or kit, only to discover that you do not have the right color thread or the correct size button, or that you are out of needles. It is enough to drive a woman mad!

Yet unless we add to a master list regularly items we see are getting low, this is certain to happen to us. It is frustrating and therefore consumes great amounts of energy. This is one of the little leaks which takes a big toll.

This is especially true of beauty care because we are apt to be careless about that anyway. Why not make it easy to indulge in your beauty routines by keeping all of the essential articles in one place and then checking on them periodically?

The most meagre set of tools should include a cleansing cream or your favorite soap, lubricating cream, eye cream, a hair brush, necessary manicure items, a razor and blades, tweezers, a hand and body lotion, a deodorant, a brow and lash brush, a small pair of scissors for toenails, and bath powder. All of your cosmetics should be nearby.

Many a woman's attractiveness has been damaged because she could not find the necessary implements when she found time to groom herself. Why not make it easy?

A woman can do tricks with mirrors. She actually needs several. First is her dressing table mirror. The lights on each side should be about the level of the nose. These should be bright, not shaded or fluorescent. She also needs a hand mirror in order to look at herself side and back view.

Then there is that cruel but essential magnifying mirror. Many grooming jobs such as eyebrow or chin tweezing can be best accomplished by taking the magnifying glass to the window for bright daylight. Make-up for daytime should also be checked at the window with the hand mirror. What looks right in artificial light may look wrong in day light.

A good home facial with rich soapsuds lather and warm water will do wonders for your complexion. It also banishes blackheads. This homemaker uses a gentle upward and outward circular motion, working up to the cheekbones.

Nightly Scrub Is Still
Woman's Best Friend

Due to the tremendous strides made by the cosmetics industry, today's woman fortunately can have a wealth of creams and lotions scientifically prepared.

Grandma may proudly point out that in her day rosy complexions weren't bought in a store. But chances are when Grandma was 40, she looked every year of it.

You don't have to. The cosmetics at your fingertips will help refine facial muscles, smooth out tiny wrinkles and add moisture to drying skin.

To get the most out of them, first prepare your skin properly. To insure a radiant complexion, you must adhere to the first rule of beauty. Nothing takes the place of thorough soap-and-water cleansing, morning and night. Never depend on creams alone to clean your skin. Wash your face carefully each night before you apply your favorite night cream.

Once or twice a week give your skin extra stimulation. You can do it while you run your bath.

Now, just before you step into the bathtub, apply your softening cream. After your bath, remove the cream with tissue. If your skin still feels oily, use a skin lotion. By this time, your complexion will be glowing.

Apply the merest touch of lipstick, brush out your hair, and add a few drops of light cologne. Slip into your prettiest negligee, and you'll be a delight to behold.

Mother's Day Tea—Final arrangements were made at the meeting of the Ladies' Evening Guild of St. Peter's Church, Lake Hill, for a Mother's Day Tea, to be held on Wednesday from 2:30 to 5 p.m. at 1133 Reynolds Road. Mrs. B. P. Harding, diocesan president, will open the affair.

Editor's Note: Most busy housewives would like to follow Mamie Eisenhower's footsteps and hie themselves to a special retreat to catch up on their health and beauty. Not many can—but every woman can be a First Lady in her own home. We show how in this special seven-part series, of which this is the third.

The makings of the perfect deep-pore masque are in your soap dish. Tuck your hair into a shower cap and whip up your own beauty facial.

Rotate the soap in hot water, and while you're bending over the wash basin to do it, you'll steam your pores open. When you've gathered a good thick lather, apply the dry suds to your face in strong, upward strokes. This upward and outward motion helps lather dry in a tightening mask that will work wonders on tension lines and sagging muscles.

Leave on the mask until you feel it grip, then wash the soap off, first with warm water, and

Port Alberni Church Scene of Wedding Vows

Nuptial Mass was celebrated by Father A. E. Leonard at Holy Family Church, Port Alberni Saturday, for the wedding of Miss Bernadette Catherine Rieder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rieder, Port Alberni, and Stanley Roderick Pearce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Pearce, Victoria.

Mrs. Walter Rieder, aunt of the bride, played traditional music on the organ for the double-ring ceremony. Mass was sung by uncles of the bride. Soloist Tom White, uncle of the groom, sang "Ave Maria" and "Panis Angelicus."

Given in marriage by her father, the attractive bride wore a floor-length gown of Swiss silk peau de soie cut on princess lines. The scoop neckline was etched with scalloped French lace extending into small cap sleeves. The full skirt with short train was appliqued with matching lace and was posed over crinolines. A tiny lace headpiece held her illusion silk veil. She wore long white gloves and carried a bouquet of white gardenias and stephanotis.

No Diet for Milady in Year 2,000 Just Push Button to Lose Weight

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Forty-two years from now a woman will be able to alter her measurements by stripping off her clothes and pushing a button.

This exciting thought—eliminating diet and reducing—is being put forward at the 1958 world's fair as a sure thing for the year 2000.

"Honestly, it's going to happen," smiled dreamy-eyed Susan Vergaert, a Belgian Beauty whose 36-22-34 statistics need no improvement by push button.

FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH

She is a guide at the beauty shop of the future, called a somatic harmonization centre. It consists of three strange-looking gadgets built into a $250,000 exhibit devoted to improvement of woman's face and figure.

"Under the action of isotopes—whose formula is a close secret," said Susan, "milady can change her figure to her own requirements—or those of her husband."

There are three stages to this beautifier of the future and they look as weird as something from Mars.

"We call No. 1 the Fountain of Youth," explained, Susan. "Needle sprays do it with oxygen-bone compounds and ozone-gases—whatever they are."

Leaving the fountain relaxed and rejuvenated, Miss 2000 can next put on weight or take it off by submitting herself to infra-red rays shooting from a paraboli.

"These rays," said the Belgian girl, "have the capacity to drive away a bad temper, though heavens only knows why under such conditions any woman would be in a bad temper."

While the rays are working, the subject reclines in a gadget that looks like a red sidcar on a motorcycle. Then, still in the nude, she enters something that resembles a huge transparent tear.

"Oh, yes, if you had a figure like that you wouldn't mind who looked at you. However, by 2000 I doubt that ladies will mind anyway."

STRIKING CONTRASTS

Memorable Evening
As Ballet Closes

By AUDREY S.T.D. JOHNSON

Effective contrasts of mood and style in the Saturday night program by Canada's National Ballet Company provided an arresting commentary on the versatility of the troupe.

Artistically speaking, an immature company could not possibly have given us the fine classical performance seen Friday in "Swan Lake" and followed it with equally skilled dancing in the modern interpretive "Winter Night" and the delightfully comic "Offenbach in the Underworld."

The last named offering had vitality, brilliant mime, sharply defined characterizations, breath-taking costumes — and Jackie Irvings.

'LOCAL LADY'

The lovely Victoria-born ballerina would have been outstanding for her audience, even without identification.

She endowed her role of one of the "local ladies" with a fire and intensity that was unequalled by any of her excellent companions. It was a memorable segment of an entirely memorable evening.

Nevertheless, for this reviewer, the altogether unforgettable performance will be that of Celia Franca, Jocelyn Terrel and the corps de ballet in "Win-

DEEPLY MOVING

Danced to the Rachmaninoff
C minor concerto for piano and orchestra — beautifully played with Reginald Godden at the keyboard — this was a deeply moving experience.

Design and choreography provided the most complete aesthetic satisfaction. Movement and grouping of the corps de ballet have never seemed "a more perfect expression of mood or to more fully illumine the emotions expressed by the principal figures."

What an inspiration so exquisite a dancer as Miss Franca must be to the company she directs.

Lakes Ship Aground; Pilot Dispute Blamed

By The Canadian Press

A German vessel, running without a pilot because of a dispute between foreign owners and Great Lakes pilots, ran aground in the St. Clair River during the weekend.

Robert Worsch, captain of the freighter Ciandra which managed to pull herself free from a sandspit about three hours after she ran aground about 500 yards south of Stag Island Saturday, said he asked for a pilot but could not get one. Since last Monday, when the dispute began, no foreign ship has had a union pilot in the lakes system.

PILOTS NEEDED

Both parties—the Shipping Federation of Canada, representing foreign owners, and the Great Lakes Pilots' Association,
Local 47C of the International Masters, Mates and Pilots Union (AFL-CIO)—agree pilots are needed in narrow waters. The dispute centres on whether pilots are needed on the open lakes as well.

For the last 25 years pilots have been carried from Kingston, Ont., to the entrance to the lakes, through the entire trip and back.

The pilots, acting through the parent union in the United States, and the affiliated Upper St. Lawrence Pilots' Union, have been bottling up foreign shipping in American lake ports.

Rattlesnake Roundup

OKENE, Okla. (AP)—The 19th annual Okene rattlesnake

U.S. Invites W. Indies
For Talks on Assistance

WASHINGTON (Reuters)—
The United States has proposed that a West Indies delegation come to Washington to discuss ways in which the U.S. can best help the new federation. In Port of Spain, Trinidad, Prime Minister Sir Grantley Adams said the federation will be "most happy" to accept the invitation.

Coke Break Defeats
Student Tory Regime

A bill to supply free beverages at special school "coke breaks" brought a government down to defeat Friday night at the last sitting of the Mount View High School mock parliament.

The session was three days old when an opposition leader, Anita Harold, moved a vote of no confidence in the Conservative regime because it failed to provide this "vital" service.

"Whereas," she said, "the government has spent huge sums of money on unimportant things, they have set aside no funds for the improvement of educational facilities."

"In this day and age when industry provides coffee breaks for its employees and the government builds swimming pools for the armed forces, the least they could do would be to provide schools with machines equipped to supply such beverages as Coke, Oxo, Bovril, and other hot and cold drinks."

She also suggested that the government supply each school with a swimming pool.
Refusing to take action on these proposals, the government

Let's talk
REAL ESTATE

By Don Whyte

This is the time of year when people really appreciate living in the high cost of building and the depreciation of the land and the depreciation of the building.

The full extent of these gardens are to be found only in the older homes with their mature gardens. This is one of the reasons why older homes are finding so much favor with home purchasers.
People are beginning to realize the joy of family living with spacious rooms secluded gardens in larger lots on quiet streets. For some buyers the convenience of the older Oak Bay shopping districts, the proximity to churches and schools, the charm and dignity of the older addresses are more important than a new home in the suburbs. For others a big consideration is the lower taxes (void of the high cost of new local improvements).

There seems to be some sort of national trend today toward the older homes, perhaps it is a revolt against the modern, stark box, which lies on a small lot, close to neighbors and offers no elevation only to the basements. With the high cost of building and landscaping and the pressure of larger Canadian families, it seems that more people are finding it economical to renovate and modernize these gracious, comfortable older family homes. Provided the older home was initially well built, its useful life can be extended indefinitely by modernization of the plumbing, heating and wiring.

We have a number of homes of this type available. They are a worthy investment for comfortable living.

'WE GIVE THEE THANKS, O GOD'

Gathering of 5,200 at Memorial Arena Sunday night gave thanks to God on Centennial Day of Prayer for the riches and beauty bestowed on this province.

'DID OURSELVES PROUD'

Mayor Praises Turnout

Mayor Percy Scourrah said today he was proud of the city's massive turnout to the weekend centennial events.

"I think we did ourselves proud. The organizers of the Saturday and Sunday programs are to be congratulated because everything went according to schedule," he said. Commenting on the crowds of spectators who flocked to the series of events, he said he "got to the beacon fire ceremony on Clover Point Sunday only because I had a police escort."

Satellite Launching

WASHINGTON (AP)—Another U.S. navy Vanguard satellite, probably will be launched tonight, Dr. Lloyd B. Berkner, a leader in the program, told a meeting here today.

Teamster Strike Ending Looms

Possibility of an early settlement to the province-wide teamsters' strike which has tied up major construction projects, including work on Government House, loomed today.

A meeting was scheduled between representatives of 16 B.C. construction firms under their joint title of the Heavy Construction Association of B.C. while some 300 members of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters were expected to meet tonight.

About 75 laborers and carpenters stopped work on Government House here in sympathy nearly two months ago with the striking teamsters who are asking increased wages.

Bombers Hit British Ship

SINGAPORE (Reuters)—Unidentified bombers today attacked two British tankers in Indonesian waters, setting one of them on fire and forcing her crew to abandon ship.

Some 20 crew members of the 12,778-ton San Flaviano were picked up by the other tanker, the 8,139-ton Daronia. Officials in Singapore said some of the men were believed suffering from minor injuries and shock.

A senior harbor official in Singapore said that from the Daronia's report of the attack, "it seems possible" that the ship is a "total loss."

Margaret Swims

Roaming Youth Gangs Stage Malta Riots

VALLETTA, Malta (Reuters)—A British military vehicle was set on fire and buses were stoned today as an island-wide strike against Britain's policy toward the colony erupted into violence.

Groups of youths roamed the island, stoning buses and spreading oil patches on the road. Overhead lines carrying radio broadcasts to homes throughout Malta were cut.

The strike brought the island to a virtual standstill. A few buses ran early in the day but were pulled out of service after being stoned by strikers.

A complex system of pickets moved into position this morning as steel-helmeted troops patrolled the city streets and a riot squad guarded the palace of Governor Sir Robert Laycock.

Strikers were attempting to block traffic by throwing barricades of paving stones and rocks across the main road from Hamkrun to Valletta. Improvised barriers were built on other roads.

Far's th' H-bomb goes, seems t' me they e'd quit worryin' whether posterity'll be healthy and start worryin' about whether there'll be any.

LEONARD WINS $20,000 IN LAS VEGAS TOURNEY

British Columbia's Stan Leonard, who gambled a steady professional's job for a whirl along the risky tournament trail, cashed in for his richest golf victory Sunday when he won the Tournament of Champions and the $10,000 first prize at Las Vegas, and a further $10,000 from the Calcutta sweepstake on the game. (See story and picture on sports pages.)

Beacon of Hope Climaxes City Centennial Fete

By DINAH KERR

A centennial bonfire flared against the night sky in Victoria Sunday, a beacon of bright hope for B.C.'s future that one minute later was echoed in 300 communities across the province.

Thousands of Victorians crowded the waterfront at Clover Point for the ceremony. It was a flourishing climax to the opening weekend of B.C.'s $3,000,000 100th birthday party that began with the boisterous arrival of Ss. Commodore Saturday (see Page 19) and continued with services of thanksgiving at city churches Sunday.

A navy Avenger circling offshore dropped a 1,000,000-candlepower flare that signalled the moment for lighting the fire.

The crowd pushed forward and filled the air with cheers as Attorney-General Robert Bonner set a torch to the huge pyramid.

The bonfire had been built by Fairfield Rover Scouts on Saturday. Four Scouts stood watch through the night to guard their handwork against match-bearing practical jokers.

As the bonfire hurried flames 30 feet into the night, an answering flare was seen from Port Angeles, Uncle Sam's salute to B.C. on her 100th birthday.

At the same moment a smaller bonfire was lit atop Mill Mow main, Langford, by Langford volunteer firemen and the B.C. Forest Service.

2,500 at Flag-Raising Ceremony

Sunday afternoon some 2,500 persons attended a proud, moving ceremony at the Legislative Buildings where five centennial flags were raised to represent Greater Victoria's four municipalities and the province.

A tow headed boy had the best view of the solemn proceedings. He lay stomach-down on the legislative steps and peered with great interest at the imposing array of church and civic dignitaries until hustled away by a commissioner.

Spectators shrugged off their coats and stood or sprawled in the hot sun while HMCS Naden band wafted light classics through the still air.

But the band was no competition for four Sabre jets that streaked, shrieking, in close formation overhead twice to start the program.

Acting Premier Eric Martin read the proclamation of the Centennial Day of Prayer.

Thanks to "God for His goodness" was expressed by Dr. F. E. H. James, chairman of the B.C. Centennial religious subcommittee.

He urged the "people of many races and many lands" now living in B.C. to "husband" the riches of forests, lakes, sea and mountains for those who come after them.

"We must guard against the ravages of greed or neglect," he said.

Very Rev. J. L. W. McLean, MA, DD, senior chaplain of the 25 Militia group, read a stirring litany giving thanks for "the men and women who pioneered in this land, for their courage in leaving home and kindred, to make a new beginning with hand and heart . . .

U.S. Subsidy For Metals Aids Canada

WASHINGTON (CP)—The Eisenhower administration today announced a five-year program of subsidies for domestic copper, lead and zinc mines in a move apparently designed to aid the industry without higher tariffs on imports.

Tungsten and acid-grade fluorospar also are included in the multi-million-dollar program, which must be approved by Congress.

The step is of prime importance to Canadian producers of lead and zinc who have faced the prospects of higher tariffs on their exports to the United States as a result of a tariff commission recommendation to President Eisenhower last week.

Interior Secretary Fred Seaton, announcing the subsidy program before a Senate subcommittee, said it would stabilize domestic mining industries "with a minimum of interference, with them or to our friends and neighbors in other nations."

Stop All Tests, Renounce Use Urges Humanist

OSLO, Norway (UP)—Dr. Albert Schweitzer, in a series of lectures, to be circulated by the Nobel Institute to 80 countries, has appealed for an immediate, unconditional suspension of nuclear test explosions before the world's atmosphere is poisoned fatally by radioactive pollution.

The Nobel Peace Prize-winner, humanist and philosopher, also urged the United States "in this hour of fate," to abandon atomic and hydrogen weapons as the only way to prevent a nuclear war.

In a third lecture, written at his jungle hospital at Lambarene in French Equatorial Africa, and broadcast over the Norwegian state radio, Schweitzer called for a top-level conference of the world's three atomic powers—the U.S., Britain and Russia—to agree on abandonment of nuclear tests and weapons.

Schweitzer said it is the "particular duty" of women, as mothers, to demand a final halt to tests.

The 83-year-old philosopher warned that radiation from test explosions is a menace to the future of the human race.

"Generation after generation, for centuries to come," he said, "will witness the birth of an ever-increasing number of

World May Be Destroyed

Abandonment of atomic and hydrogen weapons is the only way to prevent a nuclear war, Schweitzer said.

"The theory that world peace can be maintained through nuclear deterrents can no longer be accepted at a time when the risk of war is so great," he said. "It would be of great importance if the United States . . . would think of the necessity of giving up nuclear weapons—the only way to prevent a nuclear war."

The second lecture was an impassioned warning of the danger of the world being destroyed in a nuclear conflict.

"In every respect the risk of a future nuclear war is so children with mental and physical defects.

Schweitzer made this plea:

"There is no time to lose. New tests increasing the danger must not be allowed to take place. It is important to realize that even without new tests the dangers will increase during the coming years. A large part of the radioactive elements flung up in the atmosphere and stratosphere in the nuclear experiments is still there. It will have come down only after several years—probably about 15."

great," he warned, "that the renunciation of nuclear arms is an urgent necessity."

"The American attitude to the question of banning nuclear weapons is strange. From conviction the Americans cannot but go in for abandoning them, but at the same time they want the military position of the NATO countries to be as strong as possible, in case the greatest powers do not reach an agreement on control of nuclear weapons."

"That is why America tries to make her allies accept nuclear weapons as soon as possible. She also wants to be able to maintain peace by deterring

Ike Offers Soviet Arctic Open Skies

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower called on Soviet Premier Khrushchev today to join the Western allies in an Arctic region aerial inspection program against massive surprise attack.

In a brief new note to the Soviet leader, he also appealed for Russian reconsideration of the Eisenhower April 8 proposal for study of nuclear test ban controls by technical experts. Russia last week rejected that proposal.

In calling on the Soviet Union to join the Western allies in an Arctic area aerial inspection program, Eisenhower said that the U.S. already has announced its intention of presenting a resolution on the matter in the United Nations Security Council Tuesday.

"I am sure," Eisenhower wrote Khrushchev, "that with the growing capabilities in the Soviet Union and the United States of massive surprise attack, it is necessary to establish measures to allay fears."

The note added up to still another U.S. move to smash recent Soviet charges that the U.S. is endangering peace by sending nuclear-armed bomber planes across the Arctic area toward Russia's frontier.

In urging Russia to join in support of the American resolution in the U.N., Eisenhower said in his message to Khrushchev:

"It would help reduce tensions, it would contribute to an increase of confidence among states, and help reduce the mutual fears of surprise attack."

Meanwhile, Western allies were pondering weekend developments in negotiations for a summit conference.

SUMMIT MANOEUVRES

Andrei Gromyko, Russian foreign minister, proposed Saturday that Poland and Czechoslovakia be included in talks on summit preparations, and Moscow radio reported Sunday night that Khrushchev backed up Gromyko's demands.

Freedomites Deny Reversal Of Plans to Leave Canada

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—Leaders of the Sons of Freedom Doukhobors asserted Sunday there is no reversal in plans for the dissident sect to migrate to Russia.

A statement from the 52-member fraternal council of the "Reformed" Doukhobors, known as Sons of Freedom, claimed quite the opposite, and termed contrary reports which have been published and circulated recently as "Brazen propaganda released by British Columbia government sources."

A four-man group from the Sons of Freedom recently visited Siberia to look for a site where the 2,500 members of the

sect could set up a settlement. Since their return, reports have indicated that only a few of the Freedomites actually favor the move.

Sunday's statement said the reports prompted the fraternal council and members of the delegation to Russia to hold a special meeting. It resulted in this statement:

"No change in the plans of our members to leave Canada has taken place. All press and radio reports to the contrary we brand as brazen propaganda released by B.C. government sources, designed to forestall the possibilities of a mass Doukhobor exodus which in truth is rapidly taking shape."

The statement was released here by W. M. Moojelsky and J. E. Podovnikov, Freedomite leaders who took part in the inspection tour to Siberia and who have just returned from a tour of Doukhobor settlements in Saskatchewan.

They said Saskatchewan Doukhobors will present a brief on the proposed migration and a list of those desiring to join it. Mr. Moojelsky said some Doukhobors in the Prairie province "have already decided they wish to go."

THIS WORLD OF OURS

People and Things

LONDON—Thirteen lovelorn girl bagpipers just back from a three-week United States tour played a lament today because their contracts wouldn't let them marry Americans.

Joyce Nichols, 19-year-old spokesman for the girls who toured the U.S. as the Dagenham Girl Pipers Band, angrily told director David Land he can't look for new pipers for future tours "unless you take the no-marriage clause out of our contracts."

Sponsors of the all-girl pipe band insisted that the girls sign up for temporary spinsterhood before setting out for the United States. They explained that on a previous occasion, so many of the kilted performers accepted proposals it wrecked the band.

"I had several proposals on the trip, and most of the other girls had at least three each," Miss Nichols told reporters. "They were such nice boys, too."

PARIS — Pedestrians jumped into parked cars or ran to safety down side lines as Gladys, a young circus lioness, walked down a main street Sunday night.

Gladys had been performing in a circus. As she made a jump the tub on which she landed tipped over.

She jumped from the tub to the shoulders of her trainer and with one bound cleared the 11-foot railing of the cage and landed in the crowd.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — Startled police halted a stray locomotive towing a small string of miniature railroad cars along a downtown street early Sunday.

They identified the tuxedo-clad engineer as John O. Spice, 27, a Midland, Tex., geologist. Spice told officers he and a female companion, in evening dress, spotted the rolling stock on a parking lot after leaving a party.

Britain Dangles Free Trade Bait

MONTREAL (CP) — Sir David Eccles said today Britain is "still interested" in a free trade pact between Canada and the United Kingdom.

Sir David, president of the British board of trade, a government department, told a press conference here that such a bilateral trade agreement "might" be discussed at the full Commonwealth economic conference next September in Montreal.

The cabinet minister, in Canada to see the touring British trade mission "off to a good start," also announced that he is to meet Trade Minister Gordon Churchill and Finance Minister Donald Fleming later today.

On the free trade plan, first proposed by Britain at last year's Mont Tremblant economic conference of Commonwealth finance ministers, Sir David said:

"There are some attractions for Canada which may not have been apparent when the proposal was first put forward." Canada more or less dis-

PARIS — Only Airfield ground personnel fled in panic Sunday night when they opened the baggage compartment of a plane arriving from the Orient and found a five-foot snake coiled among the suitcases.

The snake, identified on the flight manifest only as a "living reptile," was en route to the Vienna Zoo. Workers subdued it with a fire extinguisher and stuffed it into a canvas bag. The only victims: a shipment of rare frogs and snails devoured en route.

LONDON — June Cooper, 16-year-old Sheffield shopgirl, gave up her title of Miss England Saturday because her mother decided she was too young to go to the United States and compete in the Miss Universe contest. A new contest will be held Friday to find another Miss England. June won the Miss England title in a contest with 23 of the country's most beautiful girls.

LOS ANGELES — The husky, low-pitched, sexy voice now so much in demand in popular music is ruining a lot of vocal cords, says a Stanford University throat specialist.

missed the free trade idea when it was thrust forward at the Mont Tremblant conference.

Asked about the effects of the recession in the U.S. on Britain, Sir David said so far the United Kingdom has only felt a "small rise" in unemployment, which now is about two per cent of the British working force, compared with eight per cent out of work in the U.S.

RUSH TROOPS TO FORT BESIEGED BY ADEN REBELS

ADEN (Reuters)—British troops today sped to relieve an Aden fort where rebel tribesmen besieged a platoon of government guards and a British official.

The rescue column was expected to reach Assarir Fort later today. Officials of Britain's Red Sea protectorate said the Briton, Robert Somerset, reported himself well and unhurt in a message Monday night.

Somerset and the guards, trapped inside the fort when the tribesmen attacked with rifles and a Bren-type machine-gun supplied by Yemen, have been dropped fresh supplies by air.

Victoria Man Picked In Forest Pay Hassle

VANCOUVER — Victoria unionist Robert Smeale has been chosen as labor's representative on a conciliation board in the forest industry pay dispute.

Mr. Smeale was picked by the International Woodworkers of America, which represents 28,000 workers.

Vancouver lawyer George Robson is the nominee for Forest Industrial Relations, which represents the coast operators.

They will attempt to jointly select a chairman, but if they cannot agree the selection will be made by Labor Minister Wicks.

At issue is a union demand for a 10 per cent pay boost. The present minimum wage is $1.72 an hour and operators say they cannot afford any increase.

PM Expected at Tory Convention

(See also page 7)

Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and members of his cabinet are expected to attend the B.C. Progressive Conservative leadership and policy convention in late September.

Provincial president of the party in B.C., Gowan T. Guest, said Saturday arrangements for the co-operation and presence of the federal party leaders was one reason for delaying the convention until the fall.

Four present Conservative MPs and two former cabinet ministers attended the meeting of provincial district executive members Saturday at the Empress Hotel Saturday.

They included Harold Hicks, MP, Fraser Valley; William Paine, MP, Coast; Capilano; John Drysdale, MP, Burnaby-

Richmond, and Ernest Broome, MP, Vancouver South.

Former federal cabinet minister Harry Stevens and former B.C. minister of municipal affairs R. C. MacDonald were honored with applause at a luncheon.

Prelate Loses Arm

ROME (AP)—The right arm of Samuel Cardinal Stritch, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Chicago, was amputated just above the elbow today to check a blood clot. The 70-year-old prelate's condition was described as "very good."

The 35-minute operation was performed by Dr. Pietro Valdini, Italian surgeon who saved the life of Communist Leader Palmiro Togliatti after an attempt to kill him 10 years ago.

A Quiet Book

I've just been reading Dorothy Thompson's The Courage To Be Happy. It's a collection of essays taken from those which, for 20 years, she wrote each month for The Ladies' Home Journal.

Until now, I had only known her as a columnist, writing of politics and public affairs. This book is more personal. It reveals a Dorothy Thompson who is quiet, domestic, maternal, deeply rooted in her country, grateful for her childhood, quite convinced that life is not only good but wondrous and magical. "There is a natural law and a natural harmony that if we seek to discern, we shall to some degree find."

It's not an outstanding book. But it pleased me to be able to explore the mind of a mature, intelligent woman who looks at the world and wonders about it, as we all do in our private, personal moments.

The book is divided into five sections: On Art and Artists, On Children, Elderly Reflections, On Public Affairs, Observations of Everyday Life.

I much preferred the first three sections, and I especially liked an essay, The Moments That Educate.

It's a description of how little Dorothy, the daughter of the Methodist minister in a small town, went to lunch with a rich girl who lived in a lovely house on the hill. Dorothy had never seen anything like it, and when she went home the parsonage seemed poor and shabby and ugly. It was the ugliness that shattered her. From there to the end, the essay simply tells how her father dealt with the situation. It's quiet, vivid, charming and absolutely solid with the solidity—or stability—that's rooted in the natural world and in religion.

I also enjoyed The World of Grandma Moses with its shrewd description of the change in farm life, methods and problems. For farmers couldn't return to the world of Grandma Moses, even if they wanted to. I commend this essay to farmers and to city folk, to anyone, in fact, who is interested in the social pattern of this continent.

I'm certain, too, that the section called Elderly Reflections would give pleasure to a great many Victorians. One of the joys of old age, reflects Dorothy Thompson, is that we lose the ambition for applause, recognition and popularity. The fear of the endangered career, the pain of the slight, leave us, and, in leaving, bestow a new freedom.

In her foreword to the book, Dorothy Thompson says that at first she thought it would be hard to write for women because she'd never before had a specific audience in mind, and had even been called a "man's" writer. So she simply wrote what interested her, and the mail showed that, whether the correspondents agreed with her or not, they, too, had been interested in the same matters. The essays were more personal than anything else she'd written, and the more personal, in general, the greater the response. Women—and men, too—had written her, "When I read you I feel as though we were talking in the same room."

I think this is what I liked so much about the book. It's like a stimulating conversation with a wise, sensitive, sensible human being.

I'll be downright sorry when the time comes for it to go back to the Bookmobile.

DST Originator Was No Gardener

Husbands beware! Your evenings of leisurely reading, pipe smoking, or television watching, are over. Even weekend fishing may be curtailed.

All this because of daylight "saving."

I am pretty sure that the originator of the idea, Sir William Willett, was no gardener or he would have realized that it is impossible to get to work in the garden at early dawn while the dew is still wet on grass and plants.

He would also have known that since the average citizen is forced to get up an hour earlier he will become tired an hour earlier at night—yet, there is that extra hour of daylight blinking into his tired eyes.

In this area, most of our spring gardening is done during the month of May, no matter how precocious the season appears. Beginning today, husbands will find that each evening has been scheduled for them to do the maximum amount of digging, moving, planting and general maintenance before dark.

Vegetable gardens are becoming increasingly popular and necessary for the housewife who thinks of food values for her family. Most of the salad and root crops will be sown from now on.

Here may be a useful hint for the husbands, the old joke among back fence gardeners—

RAF's Role Challenged In Battle of Britain

LONDON (AP)—This is the memory: In the tense hot summer of 1940 a handful of RAF fighter pilots threw themselves at the mighty German air force and against all odds turned the Nazis back in the skies over southern England. Now the question: Is the memory historically accurate?

From the memory, people around the world—including historians—have concluded that the Battle of Britain was a sort of aerial Trafalgar—one of the decisive battles of history.

According to this view—reinforced by Sir Winston Churchill's reference to so many oving so much to so few—the struggle in the skies saved Britain and ultimately gave Hitler's enemies the chance to win.

Now Duncan Grinnell-Milne, a former Royal Air Force officer, has challenged this conception of history.

In a new book, The Silent Victory, Grinnell-Milne says the Royal Navy—in wide-ranging operations, nightly destroyer patrols close to Nazi harbors and in deployments—was the decisive factor in preventing an invasion of the British Isles.

He says the Germans actually were close to air superiority, and that Britain's naval superiority really blocked the invasion.

Grinnell-Milne concedes the RAF contribution two important results, however. Germany for the first time in the war lost the prestige of invincibility in the air because British planes were able to stay in the sky with the Nazis. And British people, seeing the air battle, were heartened for the long struggle ahead.

Grinnell-Milne says there was no question of Hitler's determination to invade Britain. For three months the Germans gathered steamers, tugs and barges in channel ports for Operation Sealion. They intended to strike England's south coast from a point west of Dover to positions east of the Isle of Wight.

While world attentions

focused on the battle in the sky the issue actually was being decided at sea, Grinnell-Milne maintains. British destroyers steamed along the Nazi-held French and Belgian coast. Other British squadrons took up positions from which they could smash a German invasion while

Inner Harbor Bowl Formed Amphitheatre for Historic Pageant of Gold Rush Ship Arrival

Rough 'n Ready Ruffians Land To Find Friendly Natives Galore

By NORMAN CRIBBENS
Orange smoke belching from the tall black funnel of the reconstructed paddle steamer Ss. Commodore, as she entered Victoria's Inner Harbor Saturday afternoon, sent a thrill through most of the 15,000 to 20,000 Victorians gathered to welcome her.

The applause, it is true, was not as enthusiastic as it could be, but for Victoria at least, the reception given to the province's first gold rush ship of 1858 was a hearty one.

As the Commodore's black nose edged around the corner of the harbor basin, I went tense, expecting a full-throated roar from the crowds jamming the Causeway.

Alas... the crescendo didn't come. We heard only the pattering of many hands, like rain on a tin roof.

Real Thrill

Yet for many, I'm sure, the appearance of the old pioneer ship bringing bearded gold-seekers and their gay ladies from San Francisco must have been a real thrill.

It was a forceful re-enactment of the gold fever which hit Victoria just 100 years ago.

Crowding the decks of the Commodore (actually the reconverted HMCS Cedarwood) were some 60 miners—fierce looking ruffians, carrying picks, packs and pistols.

A band of Cowichan Indians led by Chief Mike Underwood greeted the Commodore's appearance in the harbor with a savage song that would have chilled the hearts of pioneers in days gone by.

And then, as a sharp reminder of the present, three Avengers of the Royal Canadian Navy, roared overhead at discreet heights of 500 feet.

The Commodore maintained her historic poise, flying both the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes, as she was escorted into the harbor by a flotilla of tugs and small sea craft.

Burning Redwood

CBC announcer Bill Herbert, whose commentary was relayed through a loud-speaker system, informed the populace that the orange-red smoke from the Commodore's funnels came from redwood trees burning below.

No one believed him, since the modern-day Commodore is known to be diesel-powered but the crowd accepted his explanation in the spirit of the occasion.

"The rush is on," said Mr.

Herbert. "We are trying to preserve with historical accuracy a scene that occurred here 100 years ago."

As he spoke, two stowaways—RCN Lieutenants John Murison and Al Booth—jumped from the Commodore into the chilly waters of the harbor and swam ashore.

Brave Pioneers

"There go two of our brave pioneers, leaping to freedom in a promised land," commented Mr. Herbert.

Flanked by tugs, Indian canoes and assorted small craft, the Commodore moved gracefully into the harbor, within range of a battery of cameras—professional and amateur—lining the edge of the Causeway.

Thousands of spectators spilled over the green lawns of the Empress, while hundreds more packed the hotel balconies, and many guests enjoyed a grandstand view from their bedroom windows.

Carnival Air

Mingling with the crowds along the Causeway were bearded Sikhs, song-voiced Chinese, burly young Canadians with beards and sideburns, and hundreds of teenagers—the boys in colored shirts and blue jeans, the girls in flowered skirts and ballet shoes.

Children scampered in and out of the crowds and a dog which had lost its master raced up and down the sidewalk sniffing eagerly at anyone who might have a familiar smell.

It was all part of the carnival atmosphere. The pounding of Indian tom-toms—that wondrously exciting sound—greeted the arrival of the gold-rush boys.

No Cold Shoulder

Unlike their historic predecessors they were given, not the cold shoulder, but a dignified welcome from such leading citizens as L. J. Wallace, chairman of the B.C. Centennial Committee; Mayor Percy Scourrah, Public Works Minister W. N. Chant (representing Premier Bennett), and Sir James Douglas in the person of Victoria baritone John Dunbar.

They were greeted also by Percy Ross, ex-chief of the Songhees tribe, and Padre William Hills as the voice of Vancouver Island's clergy, past and present.

Said Sir James Douglas: "You showed great courage and imagination in coming here. This is not an easy land for the white man, though the Indians have known it and found it good and the trappers have known it and found it rich."

Police called the navy disposal unit and an officer said the bomb could have caused damage or injury if accidentally set off.

A Vancouver man changed his plea to guilty in Victoria county court today when charged with breaking, entering and stealing cigarettes from the IGA Foodliner at 3475 Quadra on Feb. 19.

The man, Ronald Dale Haas, was committed for trial in Saanich police court last Thursday by Magistrate H. C. Hall.

The hearing in county court was adjourned until next Thursday at 10.30 a.m. for a probation report.

A rummage sale will be held by Victoria Theatre Guild on Saturday at the CCF Hall, Courtney Street, opening at 8.30 a.m. Proceeds will be used to purchase a coffee urn and make repairs to the Langham Court Theatre.

Anyone wishing to donate articles can phone Mrs. F. W. Bayliss, 4-6647; Mrs. Jerry Gosley, 2-7792; Mrs. Neil Magrath, 3-0233 or Mrs. Harry Hollins, 3-5998.

Capt. G. A. Veeres will speak on "R. and A. Thoughts on World Events" at a joint Victoria and Camosun Gyro Club meeting tonight at 6 in the Crystal Garden.

... AND FAR ON INTO THE NIGHT

Empty beer bottles floating in the Inner Harbor Sunday bore mute testimony to the revels which followed the arrival of the gold ship Commodore.

Dancing along the Causeway continued until early hours of Sunday morning. And later in the day hundreds of people walked the decks of the Commodore taking pictures of her historic gear.

Many posed for pictures in front of the small cannon on the top deck which was fired when the Commodore entered the harbor Saturday afternoon.

Ex-Chief Ross declared: "One hundred years ago we were not so sure of you. But there were so many of you there was nothing we could do... In the century that has just passed British Columbia has become a great province for both of us."

Works Minister Chant said: "You have worthy descendants here today. There are still great secrets to be uncovered and great wealth to be gained by courage and exploration."

"This is still the land of promise."

Mayor Scourrah introduced Rodney Doerr, vice president of San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, who said:

"I bring you greetings and good wishes from an admiring neighbor south of the border." Ceremonies over, the visitors were taken for a ride by horse and carriage around Birdcage Walk and the Legislative Buildings back to the Empress Hotel where they were entertained by Mr. Wallace and the B.C. Centennial Committee in the approved style.

Hotel Shaken Up

The usual deadly restraint of the hotel lounge was shattered when the bearded miners and their gay ladies paraded through the tea and crumpet devotees.

"We've been coming to the Empress for years past but we've never seen anything as lively as this," commented Joseph Frickner of San Francisco, sitting with his wife, a cheerful grey-haired lady, in the lounge.

"We used to think of Victoria as a city where nothing ever happened, but it seems we have under-estimated the old place."

Unofficial 'Escort Squadron' Clung to Churning Commodore

By MONTE ROBERTS

Viewed from seaward, the arrival of Ss. Commodore Saturday was at once impressive, exciting, and amusing.

The massed thousands of spectators; the sleek, slim Indian canoes; the snarling speedboats; the plodding rowboats; and the roaring planes seemed to fill land, sea, and air.

I was aboard an RCN harborcraft which acted as an unobtrusive escort to the Commodore. We left Esquimalt harbor 15 minutes ahead of the gold ship, and waited for her to "steam" by for the benefit of press and movie photographers.

BRAVE BONE

At a point about halfway between the harbor entrance and Race Rocks, the ex-Cedarwood huffed past us, churning along with her simulated paddle wheels flailing, and a brave bone in her teeth.

This was her one turn of speed during the whole voyage, because small craft began attaching themselves to her like limpets to a stone.

First there was one small outboard crossing close under her bow, an amateur photographer snapping away; then another outboard came close alongside; then a small cabin cruiser; then a stately yacht, sails furled, running under power.

SMALL BOATS

By the time Commodore reached the turn at the Bacopa Point wharf, she had upwards of 30 small craft in her unofficial escort squadron—not counting the war canoes manned by Indians.

Thus any intention of entering the harbor at speed was abandoned. However, the Commodore held to her original course, and did not attempt to alter course to avoid the small craft.

As one observer aboard the harborcraft put it: "This may be only a small preview of what will happen during the Centennial year fleet review."

MICHAEL ROGERS ... going places.

City Singer Wins Big-Time Opera Chance

Victoria tenor Michael Rogers Sunday night was handed one of the biggest plums in musical career opportunities on the Pacific Coast.

At Spokane, Wash., he was named winner of the second annual San Francisco Opera Company Debut Auditions for the Pacific Northwest Area.

On May 25 he will go to San Francisco to compete against two other regional finalists. Two of these three will then be selected to appear as soloists in an orchestral concert in August with the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra.

From that point the winners would presumably be eligible for a contract with the San Francisco Opera Company.

"Mickey" as he is generally known in Victoria and Vancouver, had a principal part in the Theatre-Under-the-Stars production of "The Student Prince" last summer and also under-studied Roubert Rounceville in the lead in that opera.

He has been a successful entrant in music festivals in this area and has sung leads with the Victoria Gilbert and Sullivan Operatic Society.

Younger son of Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Rogers, 2080 Cadboro Bay Road, he has a brother Del who is also a well-known singer, is married and has a three-year-old son.

His Victoria teachers have been Madam Lugin Fahey and, currently, Mrs. Mary Wood.

Flames Destroy Mill Bay House

$15,000 Home Levelled While Owners at Work

A $15,000 home, built just two years ago, was destroyed by fire near Mill Bay this morning while the occupants, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chance, were at work.

Phoned by neighbors, Mr. Chance rushed five miles from B.C. Cement Works at Bamerton in time to see his home consumed by flames.

He had refused an offer of $17,000 for it two weeks ago. Mr. Chance said the loss was partially covered by insurance.

SEEN BY NEIGHBORS

The house, on Killipie Road one mile north of Mill Bay, was burning brightly at 10 a.m. when first noticed by neighbors on Fortune Road.

Burned-out telephone lines delayed a call to Mill Bay volunteer fire department.

Firemen arrived a half-hour later as some neighbors were retrieving a rowboat from the basement.

They had attempted a second trip into the building, but fell back as beams began to collapse.

FEW MINUTES LATE

"If we had arrived seven or eight minutes sooner before the fire broke through the roof, we might have saved it," fireman George Hauk said.

As it was, the firemen were "chased out" in two minutes, he said.

"It was too late to do anything but watch it burn."

The firemen answered the call, although the house was about a mile out of their territory, near the Killipie Indian Reserve.

Wiring Job At Dockyard To City Firm

A $66,585 contract for rehabilitation of the electrical distribution system at HMC Dockyard has been awarded to Peterson Electrical Construction Co. Ltd. of 2300 Douglas Street, it was announced in Ottawa today.

The company already has made a start on the job, expected to take about six months to complete and to give steady employment to five or six men.

Cost of Extending Flower Baskets To Be Studied

A study of the cost of extending flower baskets on main city streets to the whole downtown area served by cluster light standards was ordered by city parks committee today.

The step was taken after the committee tabled a request for flower baskets to be put up on Broad between Yates and Johnson.

City Manager C. C. Wyatt recommended that no "piece-meal" extension be undertaken by the city.

"If the merchants want it and are willing to pay the bill, they should be allowed to have the flower baskets," Ald. D. J. Proudfoot said in urging the study.

Premier Extends Mystery Holiday

Premier W. A. C. Bennett has extended his vacation for a third week, reporters were told today.

The premier announced on April 11 he was departing for two weeks, but kept his destination secret. It was reported later he took passage in a ship leaving for California.

SNAP HOLDUP

Photographers In 'Bang-Up' Tour by Bus

Eighth annual convention of the Professional Photographers' Association of B.C. got off to a "bang-up" start Sunday.

While the 83 photographers and their wives were touring the area in the afternoon, a bevy of "holdup" men—actually the Colwood Trail Riders—stopped the two buses at Prospect and Burnside.

Delegates were ordered out of buses, under "guns" of the westerners, and searched.

VICTORIA SPEAKER

Among speakers today was Victoria's Ken McAllister, who dealt with classical portraiture in relation to photography, and Bob Parker, Burian, Wash., one of the outstanding "glamour" photographers of North America. He demonstrated how to take glamour photographs with the minimum of props.

The Georgian Lounge in the Empress where sessions are held through Tuesday have an outstanding display of photographs covering a wide subject range.

Trophy awards will be presented winners in the various classifications at the annual banquet Tuesday night. Professor Anthony Emery, Times columnist, will be guest speaker.

The association was started in Victoria 10 years ago, and two years later broadened to encompass professionals in the field from throughout B.C.

President is R. L. Tolby of Victoria.

ROLAND DRESCHER ... didn't speak right

Immigrant Beaten Up On Street

New Canadian Roland Drescher, 19, was the victim of a street corner beating by two youths Saturday night because he "didn't speak like a Canadian."

His brother Peter, who went to help in the scuffle, had his $50 coat stolen during the fight.

Roland, of 1414 Gladstone, was treated at St. Joseph's Hospital for a severe cut over his right eye and today went to his job at a downtown store with a black patch covering the eye.

AFTER DANCE

The victim said he and his brother were walking along Government after a street dance on the Causeway at about 11.25 p.m.

At Fort three young men all well dressed, came up and one slapped Roland.

"They put the boots to my eye," he said.

"They just go out and try to find someone who isn't from Victoria or who doesn't speak like Canadians."

He said only two were actually involved in the attack.

The youths were described as being both over 6 feet tall. "I called to Peter to help me, and he took off his coat and went after them," Drescher said.

Police arrived and took the immigrant to hospital and Peter went back to get his coat. It was gone.

"They (the attackers) took it away," Roland said.

3 INJURED IN TRAFFIC

Three persons were admitted to hospital as a result of injuries received in Sunday automobile accidents in Greater Victoria.

Mrs. Isobel Clevette, 55, of 920 Easter, was admitted to St. Joseph's with neck and back injuries as a result of a collision of two cars at Bay and Government at 2 a.m.

Norman L. Nantes, 37, of 1037 Pendergast, was admitted to St. Joseph's with an arm injury after the car he was driving overturned while attempting a turn at Rockland and St. Charles at 3.35 a.m.

At 4.15 a.m. a car in which Jenny Cardin, 39, of 36 Midwood, was riding crashed into a bridge abutment on Helmcken Road. The woman suffered hip and chest injuries.

Small Volt-Full Gadget
Speeds Up Tired Razors!

By PENNY SAVER.

Men! Is your electric razor getting slower and slower so that everytime you shave it nearly stops! Don't glare at it. Don't grow a beard because of it. Read on! I've found a little gadget that, when plugged into your tired razor, increases its voltage and gives it new life. It's compact and easy to use. You can leave it in the electric outlet after you've finished your shaving. Best of all this marvellous little contraption is priced at $7.95.

Here's something that is almost as good as brushing your hair 200 times a day! It's a plastic scalp scratcher (please use in private) that will increase functions of hair glands and skin tissues and bring extra life to otherwise tired and sluggish scalps.

Mothers with long-haired daughters will be happy to know that this 25 cent item also removes tangles in locks faster than a dozen combs used all at once!

Picture snapping time! With all the centennial celebrations under way and the weather so fine—get busy, my friend, with your camera! Souvenir pictures can be taken that you'll cherish forever with the nifty little movie camera I've discovered in town. It's simple to handle and inexpensive to run.

Another good feature I discovered about this camera is the quality of picture it will take. A dial on the side determines whether the subject is in average-hazy light, sunny or cloudy light. A wonderful buy at $29.95.

Don't let those grey hairs get you down! There is a new anti-grey cream now that's a tonic as well as a tint. This wonderful cream is selling at $3 a jar.

If you're dying to know where I shopped this morning, give me a ring on the phone at 2-3131. I'll be happy to tell you!

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

To Expedite Beauty Efforts
Have Your 'Tools' Handy

There is nothing quite so frustrating to a busy woman as lack of equipment with which to carry out her tasks. After weeks of delay you may finally find a few moments in which to write some long-delayed personal letters. You go to your desk and sit down to write. The pen is gone or it is out of ink or someone has moved your stationery.

Perhaps you find time to do some mending. You get out your sewing basket, or kit, only to discover that you do not have the right color thread or the correct size button, or that you are out of needles. It is enough to drive a woman mad!

Yet unless we add to a master list regularly items we see are getting low, this is certain to happen to us. It is frustrating and therefore consumes great amounts of energy. This is one of the little leaks which takes a big toll.

This is especially true of beauty care because we are apt to be careless about that anyway. Why not make it easy to indulge in your beauty routines by keeping all of the essential articles in one place and then checking on them periodically?

The most meagre set of tools should include a cleansing cream or your favorite soap, lubricating cream, eye cream, a hair brush, necessary manicure items, a razor and blades.

A good home facial with rich soapsuds lather and warm water will do wonders for your complexion. It also banishes blackheads. This homemade uses a gentle upward and outward circular motion, working up to the cheekbones.

Nightly Scrub Is Still
Woman's Best Friend

Due to the tremendous strides made by the cosmetic industry, today's woman fortunately can have a wealth of creams and lotions scientifically prepared.

Grandma may proudly point out that in her day rosy complexions weren't bought in a store. But chances are when Grandma was 40, she looked every year of it.

You don't have to. The cosmetics at your fingertips will help refirm facial muscles, smooth out tiny wrinkles and add moisture to drying skin.

To get the most out of them, first prepare your skin properly. To insure a radiant complexion, you must adhere to the first rule of beauty. Nothing takes the place of thorough soap-and-water cleansing, morning and night. Never depend on creams alone to clean your skin. Wash your face carefully each night before you apply your favorite night cream.

Once or twice a week give your skin extra stimulation. You can do it, while you run your bath.

Editor's Note: Most busy housewives would like to follow Mamie Eisenhower's footsteps and hie themselves to a special retreat to catch up on their health and beauty. Not many can—but every woman can be a First Lady in her own home. We show how in this special seven-part series, of which this is the third.

The makings of the perfect deep-pore masque are in your soap dish. Tuck your hair into a shower cap and whip your own beauty facial.

Rotate the soap in hot water, and while you're bending over the wash basin to do it, you'll steam your pores open. When you've gathered a good thick lather, apply the dry suds to your face in strong, upward strokes. This upward and outward motion helps lather dry in a tightening mask that will work wonders on tension lines and sagging muscles.

Leave on the mask until you feel it grip, then wash the soap off, first with warm water, and

Change in Plans

NELSON, B.C. (CP)—Leaders of the Sons of Freedom Doukhobors asserted Sunday there is no reversal in plans for the dissident sect to migrate to Russia. A statement from the 32-member fraternal council of the "Reformed" Doukhobors, known as Sons of Freedom, claimed quite the opposite, and termed contrary reports which have been published and circulated recently as "brazen propaganda released by British Columbia government sources."

A four-man group from the Sons of Freedom recently visited Siberia to look for a site where the 2,500 members of the sect could set up a settlement. Since their return, reports have indicated that only a few of the Freedomites actually favor the move.

Sunday's statement said the reports prompted the fraternal council and members of the delegation to Russia to hold a special meeting. It resulted in this statement:

"No change in the plans of our members to leave Canada has taken place. All press and radio reports to the contrary we brand as brazen propaganda released by B.C. government sources, designed to forestall the possibilities of a mass Doukhobor exodus which in truth is rapidly taking shape."

The statement was released here by W. M. Moojelsky and J. E. Podovnikov, Freedomite leaders who took part in the inspection tour to Siberia and who have just returned from a tour of Doukhobor settlements in Saskatchewan. They said Saskatchewan Doukhobors will present a brief on the proposed migration and a list of those desiring to join it. Mr. Moojelsky said some Doukhobors in the Prairie province "have already decided they wish to go."

Roaming Youth Gangs
Stage Malta Riots

VALETTA, Malta (Reuters)—A British military vehicle was set on fire and buses were stoned today as an island-wide strike against Britain's policy toward the colony erupted into violence.

Groups of youths roamed the island, stoning buses and spreading oil patches on the road. Overhead lines carrying radio broadcasts to homes throughout Malta were cut.

The strike brought the island to a virtual standstill. A few buses ran early in the day but were pulled out of service after being stoned by strikers.

A complex system of pickets with orders to avoid trouble moved into position this morning as steel-helmeted troops patrolled the city streets and a riot squad guarded the palace of Governor Sir Robert Laycock.

Strikers were attempting to block traffic by throwing barricades of paving stones and rocks across the main road from Hamkrun to Valletta. Improvised barriers were built on other roads.

Teamster Strike
Ending Looms

Possibility of an early settlement to the province-wide teamsters' strike which has tied up major construction projects, including work on Government House, loomed today.

A meeting was scheduled between representatives of 16 B.C. construction firms under their joint title of the Heavy Construction Association of B.C., while some 300 members of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters were expected to meet tonight.

About 75 laborers and carpenters stopped work on Government House here in sympathy nearly two months ago with the striking teamsters who are asking increased wages.

U.S. Subsidy
For Metals
Aids Canada

WASHINGTON (CP)—The Eisenhower administration today announced a five-year program of subsidies for domestic copper, lead and zinc mines in a move apparently designed to aid the industry without higher tariffs on imports.

Tungsten and acid-grade fluorospar also are included in the multi-million-dollar program, which must be approved by Congress.

The step is of prime importance to Canadian producers of lead and zinc who have faced the prospects of higher tariffs on their exports to the United States as a result of a tariff commission recommendation to President Eisenhower last week.

Interior Secretary Fred Seaton, announcing the subsidy program before a Senate subcommittee, said it would stabilize domestic mining industries "with a minimum of interference, with them or to our friends and neighbors in other nations."

Bombers Hit
British Ship

SINGAPORE (Reuters)—Unidentified bombers today attacked two British tankers in Indonesian waters, setting one of them on fire and forcing her crew to abandon ship.

Some 50 crew members of the 12,278-ton San Flaviano were picked up by the other tanker, the 8,139-ton Daronia. Officials in Singapore said some of the men were believed suffering from minor injuries and shock.

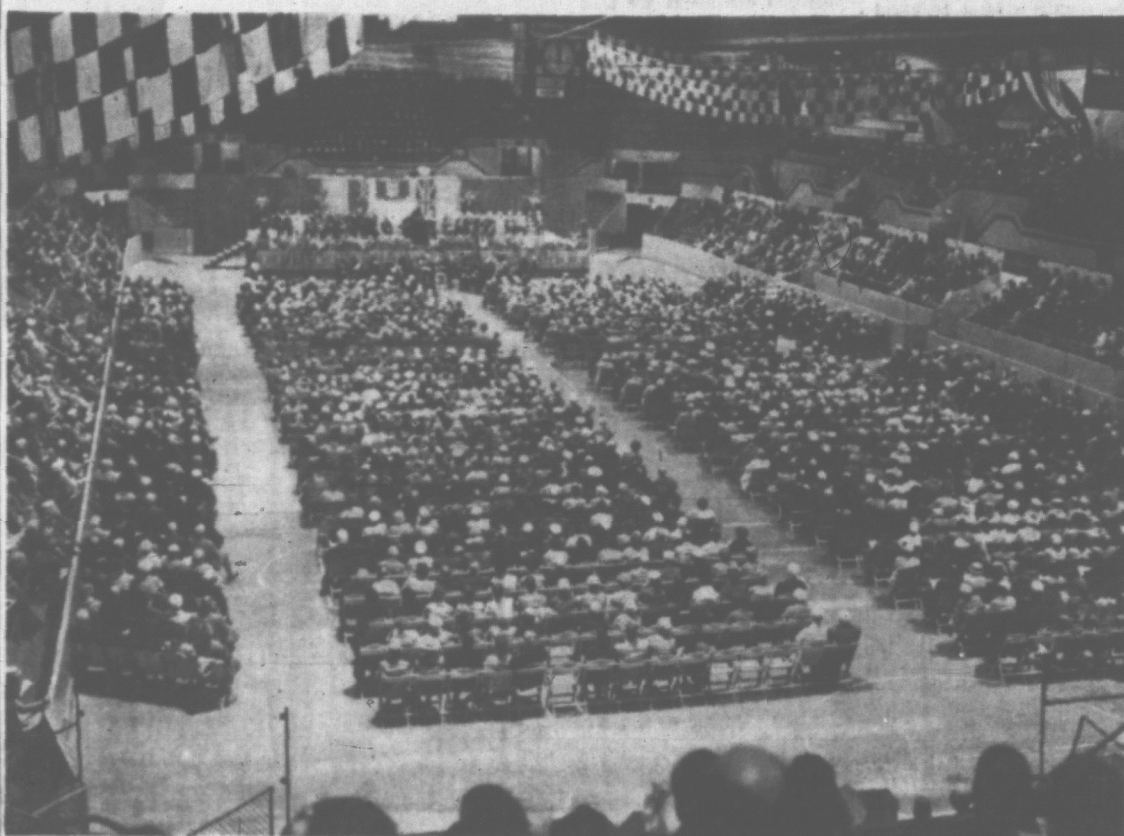

A senior harbor official in Singapore said that from the Daronia's report of the attack, "it seems possible" that the ship is a "total loss."

MAYOR HAPPY
AT TURNOUT FOR BIG SHOW

Mayor Percy Scurrell said today he was proud of the city's massive turnout to the weekend centennial events.

"I think we did ourselves proud. The organizers of the Saturday and Sunday programs are to be congratulated because everything went according to schedule," he said.

Commenting on the crowds of spectators who flocked to the series of events, he said he "got to the beach fire ceremony on Clover Point Sunday only because I had a police escort."

Centennial Fire 'Beacon of Hope'

By DINAH KERR

A centennial bonfire flared against the night sky in Victoria Sunday, a beacon of bright hope for B.C.'s future that one minute later was echoed in 300 communities across the province.

Thousands of Victorians crowded the waterfront at Clover Point for the ceremony. It was a flourishing climax to the opening weekend of B.C.'s $3,000,000 100th birthday party that began with the boisterous arrival of Ss. Commodore Saturday (see Page 19) and continued with services of thanks-giving at city churches Sunday.

A navy Avenger circling offshore dropped a 1,000,000-candlepower flare that signalled the moment for lighting the fire.

The crowd pushed forward and filled the air with cheers as Attorney-General Robert Bonner set a torch to the huge pyramid.

The bonfire had been built by Fairfield Rover Scouts on Saturday. Four Scouts stood watch through the night to guard their handiwork against match-bearing practical jokers.

As the bonfire flared flames 30 feet into the night, an answering flare was seen from Port Angeles, Uncle Sam's salute to B.C. on her 100th birthday.

At the same moment a smaller bonfire was lit atop Mill Mountain, Langford, by Langford volunteer firemen and the B.C. Forest Service.

The Clover Point ceremony closed to the slow beat of the centennial anthem played by the 5th Independent Medium Battery Army Band.

Sunday afternoon some 2,500 persons attended a proud, moving ceremony at the Legislative Buildings where five centennial flags were raised to represent Greater Victoria's four municipalities and the province.

Spectators shrugged off their coats and stood or sprawled in the hot sun while HMCS Naden band wafted light classics through the still air.

But the band was no competition for four Sabre jets that streaked, shrieking, in close formation overhead, twice to start the program.

Acting Premier Eric Martin read the proclamation of the Centennial Day of Prayer.

Thanks to "God for His goodness" was expressed by Dr. F. E. H. James, chairman of the B.C. Centennial religious subcommittee.

He urged the "people of many races and many lands" now living in B.C. to "husband" the riches of forests, lakes, sea and mountains for those who come after them.

"We must guard against the ravages of greed or neglect," he said.

Very Rev. J. L. W. McLean, MA, DD, senior chaplain of the 25 Militia group, read a stirring litany giving thanks for "the men and women who pioneered in this land, for their courage in leaving home and kindred, to make a new beginning with hand and heart."

OSLO, Norway (UP)—Dr. Albert Schweitzer, in a series of three lectures made public today, appealed for an immediate, unconditional suspension of nuclear test explosions before the world's atmosphere is poisoned fatally by radioactive pollution.

The Nobel Peace Prize-winner, humanist and philosopher, also urged the United States "in this hour of fate," to abandon atomic and hydrogen weapons as the only way to prevent a nuclear war.

In a third lecture, written at his jungle hospital at Lambarene in French Equatorial Africa and broadcast over the Norwegian state radio, Schweitzer called for a top-level conference of the world's three atomic powers—the U.S., Britain and Russia—to agree on abandonment of nuclear tests and weapons.

Schweitzer said it is the "particular duty" of women, as mothers, to demand a final halt to tests.

THREAT TO RACE

The 83-year-old philosopher warned that radiation from test explosions is a menace to the future of the human race.

"We must not assume the responsibility for the future birth of thousands of children with the most serious mental and physical defects, simply because we did not pay enough attention to that danger."

Schweitzer made this plea: "There is no time to lose. New tests increasing the danger must not be allowed to take place. It is important to realize that even without new tests the dangers will increase during the coming years. A large part of the radioactive elements flung up in the atmosphere and stratosphere in the nuclear experiments is still there. It will have come down only after several years—probably about 15."

LEAD BY U.S.

"The theory that world peace can be maintained through nuclear deterrents can no longer be accepted at a time when the risk of war is so great," he said. "It would be of great importance if the United States . . . would think of the necessity of giving up nuclear weapons—the only way to prevent a nuclear war."

The second lecture was an impassioned warning of the danger of the world being destroyed in a nuclear conflict.

"In every respect the risk of a future nuclear war is so great," he warned, "that the renunciation of nuclear arms is an urgent necessity."

"The American attitude to the question of banning nuclear weapons is strange. From conviction the Americans cannot but go in for abandoning them, but at the same time they want the military position of the NATO countries to be as strong as possible, in case the greatest powers do not reach an agreement on control of nuclear weapons."

"That is why America tries to make her allies accept nuclear weapons as soon as possible. She also wants to be able to maintain peace by deterring."

LONDON—Thirteen lovelorn girl bagpipers just back from a three-week United States tour played a lament today because their contracts wouldn't let them marry Americans.

Joyce Nichols, 19-year-old spokesman for the girls who toured the U.S. as the Dagenham Girl Pipers Band, angrily told director David Land he can look for new pipers for future tours "unless you take the no-marriage clause out of our contracts."

Sponsors of the all-girl pipe band insisted that the girls sign up for temporary spinsterhood before setting out for the United States. They explained that on a previous occasion, so many of the killed performers accepted proposals it wrecked the band.

"I had several proposals on the trip, and most of the other girls had at least three each," Miss Nichols told reporters. "They were such nice boys, too."

PARIS — Pedestrians jumped into parked cars or ran to safety down side lines as Gladys, a young circus lioness, walked down a main street Sunday night.

Gladys had been performing in a circus. As she made a jump the tub on which she landed tipped over.

She jumped from the tub to the shoulders of her trainer and with one bound cleared the 11-foot railing of the cage and landed in the crowd.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — Started police halted a stray locomotive towing a small string of miniature railroad cars along a downtown street early Sunday.

They identified the tuxedo-clad engineer as John O. Spice, 27, a Midland, Tex., geologist. Spice told officers he and a female companion, in evening dress, spotted the rolling stock on a parking lot after leaving a party.

Britain Dangles Free Trade Bait

MONTREAL (CP) — Sir David Eccles said today Britain is "still interested" in a free trade pact between Canada and the United Kingdom.

Sir David, president of the British board of trade, a government department, told a press conference here that such a bilateral trade agreement "might" be discussed at the full Commonwealth economic conference next September in Montreal.

The cabinet minister, in Canada to see the touring British trade mission "off to a good start," also announced that he is to meet Trade Minister Gordon Churchill and Finance Minister Donald Fleming later today.

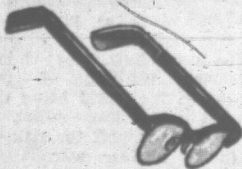

On the free trade plan, first proposed by Britain at last year's Mont Tremblant economic conference of Commonwealth finance ministers, Sir David said:

"There are some attractions for Canada which may not have been apparent when the proposal was first put forward."

Canada more or less dismissed the free trade idea when it was thrust forward at the Mont Tremblant conference.

Asked about the effects of the recession in the U.S. on Britain, Sir David said so far the United Kingdom has only felt a "small rise" in unemployment, which now is about two per cent of the British working force, compared with eight per cent out of work in the U.S.

RUSH TROOPS TO FORT BESIEGED BY ADEN REBELS

ADEN (Reuters)—British troops today sped to relieve an Aden fort where rebel tribesmen besieged a platoon of government guards and a British official.

The rescue column was expected to reach Assarir Fort later today. Officials of Britain's Red Sea protectorate said the Briton, Robert Somerset, reported himself well and unhurt in a message Monday night.

Somerset and the guards, trapped inside the fort when the tribesmen attacked with rifles and a Bren-type machine-gun supplied by Yemen, have been dropped fresh supplies by air.

Victoria Man Picked In Forest Pay Hassle

VANCOUVER — Victoria unionist Robert Smeale has been chosen as labor's representative on a conciliation board in the forest industry pay dispute.

Mr. Smeale was picked by the International Woodworkers of America, which represents 28,000 workers.

Vancouver lawyer George Robson is the nominee for Forest Industrial Relations, which represents the coast operators.

They will attempt to jointly select a chairman, but if they cannot agree the selection will be made by Labor Minister Wicks.

At issue is a union demand for a 10 per cent pay boost. The present minimum wage is $1.72 an hour and operators say they cannot afford any increase.

PM Expected at Tory Convention

(See also page 7)

Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and members of his cabinet are expected to attend the B.C. Progressive Conservative leadership and policy convention in late September.

Provincial president of the party in B.C., Gowan T. Guest, said Saturday arrangements for the co-operation and presence of the federal party leaders was one reason for delaying the convention until the fall.

Four present Conservative MPs and two former cabinet ministers attended the meeting of provincial district executive members Saturday at the Empress Hotel Saturday.

They included Harold Hicks, MP, Fraser Valley; William Paine, MP, Coast Capilano; John Drysdale, MP, Burnaby;

Richmond, and Ernest Broome, MP, Vancouver South.

Former federal cabinet minister Harry Stevens and former B.C. minister of municipal affairs R. C. MacDonald were honored with applause at a luncheon.

RUSSIAN FOUNTAIN OF YOUTH

MOSCOW (Reuters)—A bushy-bearded farmer with a daughter 120 years old will soon be celebrating his 150th birthday, the Moscow evening newspaper Vechnersays Moskva said Sunday.

He claims to have 163 descendants including 12 great-great-great grandchildren.

He is honorary chairman of the "Young Communists" on a collective farm where most of his family work.

The newspaper said he thinks nothing of walking or riding several miles around the orchards which he himself planted about 130 years ago.

Billy Graham Denounces 'Pill' Age

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Twenty-three thousand people overflowed the Cow Palace Sunday to hear Billy Graham, opening his west coast crusade, exhorting the age as one trying tranquilizers instead of God.

"We are taking tranquilizer pills to quiet us, sleeping pills to put us to sleep, benzadrine to wake us up, in the morning and aspirin in between," the North Carolina evangelist said.

"Our generation needs God more than any generation in history... Psychiatrists are doing such a big business that they are going to each other for help."

Jackie Rae Signs For TV in Britain

TORONTO (CP)—CBC television performer Jackie Rae, has signed a 52-week contract with Britain's independent Granada television network. Mr. Rae, a variety performer, will leave Toronto the end of May. His first show will probably be early in July.

ROBERT TAYLOR DOES HIS JOB WELL

'Nicest Guy in Show Business'

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"You gotta do a story on Robert Taylor, the nicest guy in the picture business," said Joe Pasternak. "He stays out of trouble, he does his job and does it well, and the crew loves him."

The fact that Pasternak was producing a picture with Taylor and Cyd Charisse called Party Girl had no—well, almost no—bearing on his demand.

Joe is persuasive. When he mentioned this was Taylor's 75th picture, that was the clincher. Any guy who can make 75 movies, nearly all of them on one lot, and remain under contract into his 25th year is news.

It isn't hard to locate Bob. Any lunch hour when he is working he can be found at the same place at the same table in the MGM commissary.

HERE 20 YEARS

"Been sitting here over 20 years," he reflected when I found him there. "The ranks are thinning out now, but it used to be fun when we had such guys at this table as Clark Gable, Spence Tracy, Vic Fleming, Scott Fitzgerald. I'm about the only one left. I guess that makes me the grand old man."

He certainly looks like no old-timer. The handsome Taylor looks as still there, and he looks even younger now that he is sporting a moustache again for the first time in years.

"It was Joe's idea to wear it," he said. "I shaved it off years ago because it was just too much trouble to keep up. And it's going right off as soon as the picture is over. My wife hates it."

Bob joined MGM in February of 1934. That makes him the record-holder among stars for longevity at a studio.

"I've got two years to go at the studio but I may get out before that. I don't suppose it would be hard for anyone to get out of a studio contract these days, except maybe Liz Taylor and Ava Gardner. The studios seem more anxious to be free of term deals so they can buy talent for each picture."

"The MGM bunch is great to work for, always has been. I'd never want to sever my connection completely. But when you have no contract, you have a wider range of scripts to choose from."

I mentioned the vast amounts of money Gable has been able to make since he left MGM. "Certainly Bob could also have made more dough on the outside."

"Maybe so," he said. "But you can't be sure. Now Clark can make any deal he wants; so can Dyke Wayne and Marlon Brando and maybe Burt Lancaster if he chose to work away from his own firm. But the rest of us, I'm not so sure about."

"I've been just as happy to have that cheque coming in every week."

Aged House Sparkles As Jaycees Clean-Up

Volunteer labor Saturday went to work on the home of Mrs. Lynne Turley, 1451 Hillside, highlighting the two-week long clean-up campaign of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The group of 30 painters, roofers and Jaycees started work at 9 a.m. and by 2.30 p.m. had the house painted, a fence erected and the garden tilled. Roofing work will be completed later this week.

"We just want to show people what can be done with an older house," said project chairman Roy Baker.

"It was just wonderful," said Mrs. Turley who lives there.

Century-Old Woman Burned to Death

GEORGETOWN, Ky. (AP)—A 100-year-old Negro woman was burned to death Saturday when sparks from the pipe she was smoking apparently set her bed clothing on fire.

Coroner Jack B. Tucker ruled A. Williams, a widow who celebrated her 100th birthday last Christmas day, died accidentally by fire.

Doukhobor Parents Win Back Son Held in Hospital at Vancouver

FROM CP DISPATCHES

NELSON, B.C.—Magistrate William Evans agreed Friday to return an ailing 11-year-old boy to the custody of his Sons of Freedom Doukhobor parents after they undertook to send him to school and permit him to have medical treatment.

The boy had been in the dormitory school at New Denver, B.C., because his parents refused to send him to school.

The magistrate was told the boy has been in a Vancouver hospital awaiting delicate lung surgery for removal of a growth but the parents repeatedly refused to authorize the operation. A doctor testified the boy might live 10 or 20 years with aid of modern drugs if he was not given surgical treatment but he would be subject to repeated attacks of pneumonia.

ARMY FOR 'PUNKS'

VANCOUVER—A leading Anglican clergyman said Sunday Vancouver would be a better place if its delinquent youths—"the punks"—were given compulsory military service.

Dean Northcote Burke told his congregation at a special B.C. centennial service: "I am inclined to say there should be compulsory military service. Take the punks around here and give them the benefit of this training and discipline and it would make for a better city."

FATALITY CHARGE

VANCOUVER—A 47-year-old man was charged with impaired driving after one of two fatal accidents Saturday night which resulted in the death of three persons.

William Calvert, of Vancouver, was charged after his car collided with a sports car, killing a passenger, Fay de Groot, 20. The driver of the sports car, Christian Weigl, 23, escaped with face and hand cuts.

Less than an hour later, two men were killed when their car missed a turn and spun end over end into a ditch, at nearby Richmond. They were identified as Rudolph Cornies, of North Surrey, and Gordon Raby, of Richmond. Walter

Beal, a third man in the car, is in only fair condition in hospital.

Ike Offers Soviet Arctic Open Skies

AUGUSTA Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower called on Soviet Premier Khrushchev today to join the Western allies in an Arctic region aerial inspection program against massive surprise attack.

In a brief new note to the Russian leader, he also appealed for Soviet reconsideration of the Eisenhower April 8 proposal for study of nuclear test ban controls by technical experts. Russia last week rejected that proposal.

In calling on the Soviet Union to join the Western allies in an Arctic area aerial inspection program, Eisenhower said that the U.S. already has announced its intention of presenting a resolution on the matter in the United Nations Security Council Tuesday.

"I am sure," Eisenhower wrote Khrushchev, "that with the growing capabilities in the Soviet Union and the United States of massive surprise attack, it is necessary to establish measures to allay fears."

Rockets, Fires In Duncan Rite

Scores of people were turned away from Cowichan High School at Duncan Sunday night when a religious ceremony opening the centennial celebrations was held in the form of an interdenominational gathering.

Ministers of all churches took part in the service. Music was provided by a massed choir from all churches, conducted by Bob Howard. Scripture readings were given by Mayor J. T. Dobson of Duncan and by Reeve C. A. P. Murison of North Cowichan.

Rockets were sent up from Pioneer Park and answered from four mountain peaks in the area by signal bonfires lit by forestry workers and Boy Scouts.

Organizations taking part in the program, in addition to Scouts, were the Canadian Legion, Canadian Scottish Cadets, Legion Auxiliary, IODE, Sea Cadets, Girl Guides, and choir of St. Andrew's Church, St. John's, St. Peter's, Dutch Reformed Lutheran, United Church and Queen Margaret's School.

Diver Finds Missing Car

CAMPBELL RIVER — A car missing from Courtenay for a month was pulled from 40 feet of water at the end of the Argonaut Mines wharf Friday.

Property of John Thompson, Cumberland, it was reported missing from the Riverside Hotel parking lot in Courtenay March 23 or 24.

New Roof For Hall Completed

SOOKE — A roof on Shirley Institute Hall, has been completed as the district's centennial project. Mrs. M. A. Perron reported to Sooke Centennial Committee.

She gave credit to Peter Pedneault, Ivan French and E. Robinson for their volunteer services on the job.

Eric Butler, committee chairman, said more volunteer workers are needed for the Sooke project of constructing bath houses and improving swimming facilities at Sooke River flats.

On Saturday the B.C. historic caravan will be at Sooke Community Hall, and tea will be served at the hall from 2 to 5 p.m. by the "Smokettes," auxiliary to Sooke Volunteer Fire Department.

A dance will be held at the hall in the evening, with arrangements to be made by Sooke Community Association and Sooke and North Sooke Women's Institute.

Central Saanich Banquet Set For Saturday

Centennial committee of Central Saanich is sponsoring a banquet next Saturday evening in the Agricultural Hall at Saanichton.

The program includes presentation of scrolls to old-time residents who have lived in the district since 1886.

Guest speaker will be Wilford Ireland, provincial archivist and librarian.

Some tickets are still available for this event and may be obtained by telephoning Miss Norma Carmichael, Kig. 108Y.

ISLAND DIGEST

18 Victoria Daily Times MONDAY, APRIL 28, 1953

Logging Firms Push Fire Control Plans

Faced with the prospect of less than normal precipitation, and higher-than-average temperatures this month, major logging operators on Vancouver Island and the lower mainland have put their forest fire control machinery in operation two weeks ahead of their normal schedule.

Though the fire season in B.C. does not open officially until May 1, loggers alerted by long-range weather forecasts had activated their private fire-fighting organizations by mid-April.

For the general public the opening of the fire season, which extends from May 1 to Oct. 31, means that for the next six months special regulations will be in effect which concern everybody using the woods either for business or pleasure.

FOREST FIRE LAW
 Briefly summarized, the Forest Fire Law requires that, during the season, permits must be obtained from the local forest officer, or other authorized person, before starting any campfire, clearing fire or industrial fire within half a mile of any forest or woodland. Under the law it is illegal to build any log, stump, snag or standing tree. All inflammable material must be cleared away for a distance of three feet in every direction from the edge of every campfire, and every campfire must be totally extinguished before leaving.

PENALTY PROVIDED
 Violations of the provincial fire law may bring fines ranging from $25 to $300 or imprisonment for up to two years.

Penalties are also provided for any persons entering the woods when they have been closed to travel by order of the Forest Branch.

March Lumber Shipments Hit 14,977,500 Feet

CHEMAINUS — A total of 14,977,500 board feet of lumber was shipped from the local ports of Chemainus and Crofton last month.

Also shipped to various overseas markets from B.C. Forest Products pulp mill at Crofton was 5,383 tons of pulp.

Lumber shipments in fib. were: United Kingdom, 5,720,000; U.S.A., 4,495,000; South Africa, 3,687,698; Australia, 99,000; Rhodesia, 76,304.

Pulp shipments from Crofton included: Korea, 721 tons; United Kingdom, 882 tons; U.S.A., 3,400 tons; Venezuela, 380 tons.

FAMILY HOMELESS

6 Escape Fire As Home Guttled

ALBERNI (CP)—A family of six was left homeless Sunday night when fire destroyed their two-story home 3½ miles north of here.

The eight-room house was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Bodnar, who with their four children were housed with relatives overnight.

Mr. Bodnar and three of the children were in the house when the fire was discovered in an upstairs closet between two bedrooms.

The father carried one of the children, sick in bed, outside.
